THE GREAT WAR.

RUSSIA IS PREPARED TO NEGOTIATE PEACE.

Conditions Outlined Under Which She is Willing to Treat With Japan.

Through Good Offices of United States and France Peace Overtures Have Assumed Definite Shape. Delcasse Asked to Mediate.—Japanese Again Moving Forward on Road to Harbin—Russians Falling Back.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Russia has outlined the conditions under which she is prepared to negotiate peace.

It was stated tonight with every semblance of authority that, thanks to the good offices of the United States and France, the question of peace had assumed practical shape.

DELCASSE ASKED TO MEDIATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, March 28.—A telegram from a Northern European capital received in London this afternoon says:

"I have just learned on reliable authority that Russia has asked Delcassé to act as intermediary to open peace negotiations with Japan.

"Delcassé has signified his willingness, but considers that Lansdowne's co-operation is essential to success."

JAPS AGAIN MOVE FORWARD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GUNSHU PASS (Manchuria) March 28.—The Japanese are again moving forward and the Russian guard has fallen back from its position about thirteen miles north of Sipunghai (seventy-four miles north of Tie Pass) to Chaoumiaodzi, which is situated forty miles below Gunshu Pass.

RUSSIAN PACIFIC SQUADRON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TAMATAVE (Madagascar) March 28.—It has been definitely ascertained that the whole Russian Second Pacific Squadron left the waters of Madagascar March 16 for an unknown destination.

LONDON, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] "When peace negotiations commence it will be between Russia and Japan alone and not through any other medium," was Minister Hayashi's comment to the Associated Press tonight when shown the dispatch from a Northern European capital stating that M. Delcassé, the French Foreign Minister, had been asked to act as an intermediary to open peace negotiations. Minister Hayashi said he attached no importance to the statement, but believed that France was trying to influence Russia to open negotiations for peace.

"So far as I know," he added, "no negotiations have been begun; but when Russia is ready to make terms Japan will be happy to consider them."

Minister Hayashi repeated his previous statements that Japan is not noticing peace rumors, but steadily preparing to prosecute the war to the bitter end.

At Foreign Secretary Lansdowne's residence tonight the Associated Press was informed that it would be useless to ask Lord Lansdowne for an expression of opinion at the present juncture, as he must decline to give out any statement on the subject of peace.

MUKDEN PRISONERS.

TWENTY THOUSAND IN JAPAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, March 29.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Twenty thousand Russian prisoners captured in the battle of Mukden have already arrived in Japan.

A revised unofficial estimate of the Japanese casualties in the battle of Mukden and Tie Pass, place the number at 57,000.

The flags captured at Mukden have been presented to the Emperor.

Gen. Mayeda who was wounded at Mukden, is dead.

AGED COMMANDER.

GEN. BATJANOFF'S RECORD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 29, 2:45 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Gen. Batjanoff, the new commander of the Third Manchurian Army, of which Gen. Bilderling has been temporarily in command, since the transfer of Gen. Kaulbars to succeed Gen. Gripenberg as commander of the Second Army, is one of the old school of Russian army commanders, having commenced his military career in 1853. He served with distinction in the Khiva-Turkish and Crimean wars and in the battles in the Asiatic campaigns in the sixties and in the Russo-Turkish war of 1878. He was commander of the Twelfth Corps from 1892 to 1896, then commander of the Sixteenth Corps, and after his promotion to be a full general in 1899 was made a member of the council of war. He is 70 years of age, but active and energetic. It is noteworthy that he does not belong to the General Staff, as also do not Gens. Linevitch, Kouropatkin and Kaulbars.

Gen. Bilderling probably will resume command of his corps though he has been blamed to some extent for the defeat at Mukden by defective dispositions of the Third during the retreat from the Shakhe river and permitting the Japanese to break through Fu Pass just at the moment when Kouropatkin, personally leading the strategic reserves of sixty-five battalions, was rolling up Nogi's right flank and threatening to sever the Third Japanese Army from Oku. This destroyed the last hope of winning the battle and necessitated the quick retreat in which the Second and Third armies suffered so heavily.

The Associated Press correspondent with the Third Army partly excused Gen. Bilderling on account of the blinding dust storm which came up during the retreat and the failure of subordinates to occupy positions to which they had been assigned, leaving the crossing of Fu Pass guarded by only three companies.

The Associated Press learned from the General Staff that Kouropatkin, after the battle, severely censured ten generals for failure to execute orders. It now develops that Bilderling was included in the number.

LIAO RIVER OPEN.

UNUSUAL RUSH OF TRAFFIC.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEWCHWANG, March 28.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The Japanese administration today declared the Liao river open and twenty-two vessels entered the port of Yinkow. The river has been practically free from ice for the past few days, but steamers were not permitted to enter until it became absolutely certain that all danger from ice had passed.

An unusual rush of traffic is looked for, as this year's campaign has made the position of Newchwang more important than ever. The steamers entering Yinkow today include six Japanese transports and one hospital ship, which have been waiting for a long time at Port Dalny, and the others are merchantmen which have been gathering at Taku and Chefoo.

Vast quantities of stores will be transshipped at Yinkow and carried in junks up the Liao river. It is expected that thirty thousand Russian prisoners and sick and wounded Japanese will be sent to Japan by way of Yinkow.

JAPS AT MUKDEN.

CLEARING THE BATTLEFIELD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WITH THE JAPANESE LEFT ARMIES IN THE FIELD, March 28, 11 a.m. (Via Fusan.)—The Japanese army near Mukden is clearing the battlefield, sorting the enormous quantities of stores and materials captured and attending to the prisoners. Engineers are rapidly repairing the railroad bridge across the Hun river which was badly damaged by the Russians. Trains are now running to the Hun river. They will reach Mukden in a few days. The weather is very warm and the ground is thawing rapidly, making the movement of guns and transport wagons difficult.

SACRIFICED STORES.

RUSSIANS BURNED SUPPLIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GUNSHU PASS, March 28.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Practically complete reports show that the Russian army sacrifice general commissariat stores worth $1,250,000, and stores for an army corps amounting to $500,000, held at Mukden, most of it being set on fire, the boots and uniforms among the stores, of which the whole army was in need, arriving from Europe four days before the Russian retirement from Mukden. Gen. Kouropatkin ordered the removal of the stores, but his order was not executed. An investigation will be made to establish the responsibility.

SHIPWRECKED CREW.

TWO DIE OF EXPOSURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, March 28.—[By Asiatic Cable.] "Two of the crew of the British steamer Mars have died of exposure." The rest of the men rescued have arrived at Hakodate.

The Mars, a steamer of 2497 tons register, commanded by Captain Ruffell, sailed from Barry, Wales, on November 20 last, bound for Vladivostok. On March 17, while attempting the passage of Soya Strait she was caught in the ice and finally stranded off Rural Promontory. A part of the crew effected a landing on the island of Hokkaido, but the others were missing, including eight of the officers who were last reported in a lifeboat being carried seaward by the ice. The above dispatch very likely refers to the missing portion of the crew, picked up by the Japanese, who have kept up a continuous search for them.

M'CULLAGH CAPTURED.

RUSSIANS FIERCELY SHELLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's correspondent at the Russian prisoners' quarters at Shiesvoka, Japan, via Tien-Tsin, says:

"I was captured with the Russian detachment 5000 strong at Talenpuse, near Tieling, on March 11 by the Japanese Imperial Guard. We marched through a terrible night, and at daybreak found we were surrounded. Heavy fire poured into us from all sides. We were in a wide bare valley, with absolutely no shelter.

"We were fiercely shelled with shrapnel, and our commander-in-chief was killed. Many officers were wounded. Escape was absolutely impossible.

[Signed] "FRANCIS M'CULLAGH."

BAKU OIL WORKS BURNING.

BAKU (Caucasia) March 28.—The works of the Mantachff Petroleum Company and the Baku Petroleum Works at Bibiebat are on fire.

RUSSIANS KIDNAP CHINESE GOVERNOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) March 28.—Mail advices were received by the steamer Empress of Japan today that the Russians kidnaped Gen. Tseng, Chinese Governor-General of Manchuria, when Mukden fell. Sixty Cossacks went to the Yamen when the occupation of Mukden was imminent and forced the old Governor to mount a sedan chair. He resisted and professed himself as anxious to poison himself, swallowing opium, as he had not been permitted to leave his post by the Peking government.

The kidnaping of the Governor was done in order that his seal may be used to induce Chinese to supply the defeated Russians on their retreat. The Governor was allowed to return some days later, but his seal was stolen.

Japanese newspapers are indignant concerning Russian actions during the fighting at and about Mukden. They claim the Russians fired repeatedly on the Japanese hospital corps and twenty-nine Japanese surgeons were killed. The Russians also fired fiercely on dead and wounded as they were being carried away by stretchers and carts.

OMINOUS SILENCE.

Absence of News from Front Bodes Probable Turning of Russian Flank.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

LONDON, March 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs as follows: "The entire absence of press and private telegrams from the front, together with a laconic message from Gen. Linevitch tonight, dated Harbin, and saying 'No reports from the armies,' evolves fears that communications have been cut and that the Japanese have turned the Russian flank."

A colonel of the general staff doubts the possibility of this, and asks: "How could the Japanese creep round in sufficiently strong force and pass undetected?"

FIRST OF UPRISINGS.

Monte Cristi People Against Morales

They Only Await the Signal to Declare in Favor of Jiminez.

President Roosevelt Will Accept Financial Proposition of Government.

Minister Dawson Says American Will be Accepted as a Receiver.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CAPE HATTIEN (Hayti) March 28.—A dispatch received here by courier from Monte Cristi, on the northern coast of the republic of Santo Domingo, today announces that Gen. Barba, with a number of Dominican exiles, has landed at Monte Cristi, and that the inhabitants have risen against President Morales, reproaching him with being the cause of the present difficulties with foreign countries.

It is added that the district of Monte Cristi is ready to begin a revolution in favor of former President Jiminez, and is only awaiting the signal to take up arms.

ITALIAN CRUISER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

SANTO DOMINGO, March 28.—The Italian cruiser Calabria arrived here this afternoon. Diplomatic officials regard the coming of the Calabria as significant, and declare that an arrangement with foreign creditors is urgently needed, in order to prevent complications with foreign powers. The country continues quiet.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Intimations of a projected movement against President Morales of Santo Domingo, fomented by exiles from that country reached the State Department several days ago. The affair, however, is not giving the officials here any uneasiness, as they now feel free to assist, in view of President Roosevelt's acceptance of the Dominican government's proposition, to control the finances of that country, and it is said, will assist President Morales, as requested by the latter, in putting down any movement which is a menace to its best interests.

It is understood that Gen. Barbas and those who are with him have been in the island of Porto Rico. Their movements were known to the State Department, and when they left that place several days ago, their departure was promptly reported to Washington.

The district of Monte Cristi is said to be the hotbed of the revolutionists in Santo Domingo, and it was believed that Barbas and his associates would head for that section. Their reported arrival there consequently caused no great surprise to the Washington officials. The Navy Department has several vessels in Dominican waters, and under directions from the President, the State Department, if requested to do so by President Morales, will lend its coöperation in preserving the peace of the country, so that its finances may be restored to a settled condition.

FINANCIAL PROPOSITION.

THE PRESIDENT ACCEPTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The President has decided to accept the proposition of the Dominican government, made through Minister Dawson, for the control of the financial affairs of that republic, with a view to setting aside a portion of the revenues of the republic for the payment of its debts. The officers who will collect the money and hold it will be appointed by the Dominican government, but the names of the men selected will be referred to this government for approval.

The attitude of the United States government is shown in the following instructions given to Acting Secretary Adee:

WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, D. C., March 28,

The Acting Secretary of State: I have carefully considered the following cablegram from Minister Dawson:

"Secretary of State, Washington: Under pressure foreign creditors and domestic peril, Dominican government offers nominate citizens of the United States receiver southern ports pending satisfactory protocol; four northern ports to be administered under award. Forty-five per cent. total shall go Dominican government, 55 to be deposited New York for distribution after satisfaction. Creditors to agree to take no further steps in the meantime and receiver to have full authority to suspend importers' preferential contracts. Italian, Spanish, German and American creditors except the Santo Domingo Improvement Company accept unconditionally. Belgian representatives will recommend acceptance. Some modus vivendi absolutely necessary. I am ready, if desired, start Washington 28 to explain details and modifications to plan obtainable. Whole matter can be held open during my absence.

[Signed] "DAWSON."

I direct that the Minister express acquiescence in the proposal of the government of Santo Domingo for the collection and conservation of its revenues, pending the action of the United States Senate upon the treaty, to the end that in the meantime no change shall take place in the situation or bring complications into its enforcement. The Secretary of War of the United States will present for nomination by the President of the Dominican Republic men to act in the positions referred to in both the northern and southern ports. The utmost care will, of course, be taken to choose men of capacity and absolute integrity who, if possible, shall have some knowledge of Spanish.

"All the moneys collected from both the northern and southern ports not turned over to the Dominican government will be deposited in some New York bank to be designated by the Secretary of War, and will there be kept until the Senate has acted. If the action is adverse, the money will be then turned over to the Dominican government. If it is favorable, it will be distributed among the creditors in proportion to their just claims under the treaty. Meanwhile, Mr. Hollender will thoroughly investigate these claims, including the claim of the American Improvement Company, and will report in detail all the information he is able to gather as to the amount actually received by Santo Domingo, the amount of indebtedness nominally incurred, the circumstances so far as they are known under which the various debts were incurred and so forth.

This action is rendered necessary by the peculiar circumstances of the case. The treaty now before the Senate was concluded with Santo Domingo at Santo Domingo's earnest request, repeatedly pressed upon us and was submitted to the Senate because, in my judgment, it was our duty to our less fortunate neighbor to respond to her call for aid, inasmuch as we were the only power who could give this aid, and inasmuch as her need for it was very great. The treaty is now before the Senate, and has been favorably reported by the Committee on Foreign Relations. It is pending, and final action will undoubtedly be taken when Congress convenes next fall.

Meanwhile, Santo Domingo has requested that the action above outlined be taken; that is, she desires in this way to maintain the status quo, so that if the treaty is ratified, it can be executed. With this purpose in view, I direct that the proposed arrangement be approved. It will terminate as soon as the Senate has acted one way or the other.

[Signed] THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

DISCUSSED BY CABINET.
STATEMENT FORTHCOMING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Cabinet meeting today was devoted principally to the consideration of the late questions affecting the situation in Santo Domingo. For a long time after the meeting, Attorney-General Moody and Secretary Taft, who is conducting affairs of state in the absence of Mr. Hay, were in conference in the Cabinet room. It was announced by them that later in the day a formal statement would be given out by the State Department regarding the result of today's discussion. Previous to the assembling of the Cabinet, the President, Secretary Taft, Senator Spooner, and, for a part of the time, Senator Lodge, talked over the Dominican question.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S PLAINT.

She Got No Money at a Time When It Would Have Enabled Her to Procure Witnesses.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Maybrick appeared before a notary today to make deposition in a suit technically known as Caroline E. Von Roques against David W. Armstrong, et al, a case involving tracts of valuable land in Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky. Mrs. Maybrick is a witness for her mother, the Baroness von Roques.

Mrs. Maybrick today acknowledged signing, while in prison, some papers brought to her by the United States Consul, who told her that they related to the conveyance of certain Kentucky lands in which she was interested. She was asked if her mother and herself had received their share of the $3000 paid to Mr. Armstrong in March, 1889, by the Kentucky Land Union Company and if that would have affected her trial. She replied that this money, which had not been received, would have enabled her to bring witnesses from Norfolk, Va., by whom she could have proved her husband's habits in regard to his use of arsenic and to have secured expert testimony that would have shown his death was due to natural causes.

SALUTED ENGLAND'S QUEEN.

GIBRALTAR, March 28.—The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with Queen Alexandra and party on board, entered the bay here today amid the thunder of salutes from the Atlantic fleet, all of the vessels of which were dressed with flags and manned with cheering bluejackets. This is the first time a Queen of England has visited Gibraltar in the history of the famous rock, and she was accorded a great reception.

THE REVOLT IN RUSSIA.

PETITION TO THE THRONE.

Workmen at Yalta Formulate Their Demands.

Peace With Japan One of the Things Asked for.

Right to Strike Included in Their Memorial.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

YALTA, (Russia.) March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A meeting today, attended by thousands of workmen, adopted a resolution to petition the throne, first, for abrogation of laws limiting civil rights; second, for free speech; third, freedom of the press; fourth, the right to strike; fifth, liberty of conscience; sixth, equal rights for all nationalities and religions; seventh, immediate conclusion of peace with Japan, and, eighth, popular representation in the constituent assembly.

Troops are arriving here from Simferfol.

CZAR'S VILLA BURNED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ODESSA, Wednesday, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A foreign consulate has just received news from Yalta, in the Crimea, that the Czar's imperial villa at Livadia, His Majesty's favorite place of retirement, has been burned by a mob.

VIENNA, March 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Zeitung gives an interview with Grand Duke Vladimir, who is quoted as saying he doubted the existence of any real revolutionary movement, but that the government is watching the situation carefully and if the people again raise their hands against the Emperor they will receive greater punishment than before.

In reference to the war the Grand Duke is reported to have said that the Russian troops have been unlucky, but Russia is still able to send many armies to Manchuria and never would entertain propositions for a dishonorable peace.

TO STAY TIDE OF REVOLUTION.

RUSSIAN NOBILITY ALARMED AT RISING OF PEASANTRY.

Popular Representation in a Modified Form Recognized as a Necessity to Forestall Anarchy—Property Owners Urged to Co-operate With Government for Mutual Protection.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The action of the nobility of the government of Moscow at the meeting held yesterday, in urging the necessity for some measure of popular representation, while taking a distinct stand against a constitutional government of the kind enjoyed by the nations of Western Europe, introduced the first organized conservative element into the situation.

Most of the nobles are landed proprietors who have become greatly alarmed by the peasant movement, which is threatening property in the country, and they will undoubtedly try to rally to their support the city property elements, all of which, they claim, are endangered by the coming tide of lawlessness.

The nobles urge that the time has come for co-operation with the government for mutual protection, pointing out that the strikers in the cities, by sending thousands of workmen filled with revolutionary ideas back to their villages, besides introducing political ideas among the peasants, only increases the latter's demand for land. In many districts the landlords are organizing guards to protect their property at their own expense, the troops which the government is able to send being insufficient.

Roving bands of peasants continue to pillage, burn and murder in the Chernigov government, and in Tamboff, Kazan and other governments in the south. The few troops here and there are powerless. The whole peasant population is affected more or less. The parish priests under instructions from the Holy Synod, are doing all possible to quiet the peasants, but without making any appreciable impression. With warm weather a crisis will come, especially if it is accompanied by orders for another extensive mobilization.

In the meantime the situation in the Caucasus is growing worse. A state bordering on civil war exists in the Kuban territory, where the population has been armed for a collision with the soldiers.

In the Georgia, Mingrelia and Kutais territories the red flag of revolt has been raised.

At Yalta, Crimea, after the population had wrecked the vodka shops, police quarters, etc., warships were sent from Sebastopol and marines were landed as if in a hostile country.

The renewal of the bomb outrages in Poland and the open demonstrations in Finland against conscription are both regarded as bad and significant signs.

RUSSIA'S CREDIT.
M. ROUTKOWSKY'S COMPLAINT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] M. Routkowsky, the Russian financial agent in London, has sent a long letter to the London newspapers protesting vigorously against what he calls the deliberate campaign carried on the past three years, not only by the British press, but also through organs connected with the British press in America and in France, to damage Russian credit by predicting insolvency and revolution. The letter says: "Millions of families in Europe have invested the savings of a lifetime in Russian securities and would be ruined by the sale of the bonds in a panic. It is criminal to attempt to ruin such people by misstatements and misrepresentations, and in any individual case any court of law would award damages to the sufferers."

M. Routkowsky proceeds to deny that Russian budgets are in a chronic state of deficit. On the contrary, he says, the surplus of ordinary income over expenses the past ten years aggregated $900,000,000 which has been spent, not unproductively, but mostly for the purchase and construction of new railways and the conversion of high interest debts.

Further, he says, it is not true that the revenues of the railroads do not cover the working expenses. On the contrary the revenues not only cover expenses, but also meet all fixed charges and, with the development of new country, will be still more productive.

WARSAW EXPLOSION.
POLICE HUNTING DYNAMITERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, March 28. Midnight.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The police are prosecuting a strict search of factories and workshops here for Socialist workmen with the purpose of discovering the conspirators concerned in the recent bomb throwing. A number of students suspected of complicity in last Sunday's affairs were arrested today.

Baron Von Noiken, Chief of Police, who was wounded by the explosion of a bomb on Sunday, is improving. He received 120 separate wounds, cuts and scratches.

RIOT AT FUNERAL.
REVOLUTIONARY SONGS SUNG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The funeral today of a student named Yakovieff, who, on his liberation from eight months' solitary imprisonment for circulating propagandist literature, hanged himself, his mind being unhinged, was the occasion of a striking revolutionary demonstration. Disregarding police warnings, crowds of students followed the funeral cortège singing revolutionary songs and scattering pamphlets. The coffin was covered with wreaths from Socialists, revolutionaries and the workmen.

Disturbances in the Caucasus continues. A gendarme was killed at Poti; ten people have been wounded at Gori, while at Suchum, the police are powerless to keep order. In the Shorapana district the peasants refuse to pay taxes or rent, and have elected a secret committee to manage local affairs.

CONFESSION OF A DYNAMITER.

NEW LIGHT ON BLOWING UP OF BATTLESHIP MAINE.

Gessler Rosseau Thinks One of His Infernal Machines Did It—It Was Intended for a Spanish Warship, but Through Mistake Was Attached to American Vessel.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—That the battleship Maine, through an error, was destroyed by a bomb of his manufacture was the statement made by Gessler Rosseau in the Tombs prison today. Rosseau was convicted yesterday of having sent explosives to the Cunard line pier, in this city, in May, 1903. He made the following statement today:

"For several years while the Cuban patriots were struggling against Weyler, I watched the contest with deep interest and sympathy. I decided to go to Jacksonville and do what I could to assist the revolutionists. I started from St. Louis, where I had been living, during the early part of 1897.

"Before taking a train for the South I got together the material for the construction of two exploding machines of tremendous power, so arranged that they could be wound up and left in a selected place, with the certainty that they would go off with terrible destruction within a few hours.

"At New Orleans I rented a room and put the boxes together, after which I went on to Jacksonville. There I became acquainted with a party of Cuban leaders who were planning a filibustering expedition. They had engaged the Destroyer, a small vessel, to take them to Cuba, along with a number of American and European adventurers, who were anxious to strike a blow for Cuban freedom.

"Several of the leaders of the party are now men well known, and I will not mention their names, although I have among my papers a list of them all.

"I suggested to them that they use my machines to destroy Spanish warships in the harbor of Havana, and in other ports on the coast of the island. They readily seized upon the idea, and when the Destroyer sailed with the filibusterers they took my two machines with them.

"It was my intention to go along with the party so as to direct the work of sinking the Spanish ships, but they dissuaded me, urging that I could be of more use in Jacksonville preparing other machines if the first proved successful.

"It was planned to have some members of the revolutionary party join the Spanish navy so as to get the machines aboard. If that failed it was decided to fasten one of the boxes to the hull of a ship, under the waterline, for I had constructed the machines so that they could be exploded under the water.

"That was late in the fall of 1897. The next spring the Maine was destroyed.

"Only one man in the secret of the machines returned to America. I saw him some time after the war had begun.

"He told me he had nothing to do with the boxes after reaching Cuba, but had been told a mistake had been made.

"The man who had been entrusted with the task of destroying a Spanish vessel attempted to fasten a box during the night to one of Alfonso's warships, and blundered into blowing up the Maine.

"I was told that the man, immediately after learning of the error he had made, committed suicide."

Rosseau said he had attempted to blow up the statue of Frederick the Great at Washington, because he did not wish to see the statue of a king in America. He added that he was not an anarchist nor a Nihilist, and that he had made no effort to supply exploding machines to the Russians.

TRAINS COME TOGETHER.

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.) March 28.—A Michigan Central and a Pere Marquette train came together in a head-on collision on the American end of the cantilever bridge today. Three cars were derailed and pitched over into the stream below, a distance of thirty feet, carrying with them a switchman's shanty in which was seated Patrick Whalen, a switchman, who was severely injured. George Kehmle of Niagara Falls, the conductor of the Pere Marquette train, was also badly hurt.

BLASTED TO DEATH.

Three Men Killed Outright and Another Badly Injured by an Explosion at the Schaghticoeke Powder Mills Near Troy.

[BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS—P.M.]

TROY (N. Y.) March 28.—Three men were killed outright and another so badly injured that he may die a few hours later, by an explosion at the Schaghticoeke Powder Mills, near this city, today. The men killed were:

JAMES WHITE.
CHARLES COLBURN.
JAMES SPRAGUE.
ALBERT BARTLETT, the two latter being new employés.

The men were at work at the Corning mill when the explosion occurred, and the cause is not known. The bodies of three victims were blown to fragments. The fourth victim, white, was found 200 feet away, not yet dead.

Three wooden buildings, comprising part of the plant and a car, the latter oladed with powder which was being transferred to the Corning mill were destroyed. The main buildings of the plant were not harmed. The explosion caused a great amount of damage to windows in Valley Falls and Schaghticoeke, and the shock was plainly felt in this city.

The buildings destroyed were practically new, having replaced those blown up May 10 of last year, at which time two employés were killed.

ESPEE IMPROVING ROADBED IN NEVADA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The Southern Pacific Company is engaged on a number of important improvements of its roadbed, the most extensive of which is the revision of the line through the State of Nevada.

Between the east and west boundaries of Nevada, much of the road is being rebuilt. Including the Salt Lake cut-off there will be 219 miles of new road constructed, saving more than seven miles in distance, and reducing the maximum grade generally from 1 to 0.4 per cent.

Between Montalvo and Burbank, Cal., a new line, 59.47 miles in length has been built, saving 6.97 miles in distance over the old line between the same points. On this new line there are three tunnels located between Santa Susana and Chatsworth Park. The length of the tunnel No. 1 is 7368 feet; of tunnel No. 2, 920.6 feet, and of tunnel No. 3, 538.3 feet.

On the Coast division, between Soledad and Santa Margarita, Cal., there will be 28.56 miles of new railroad. Between Elwood and Santa Barbara, there will be 10.08 miles of reconstruction, which will reduce the length of the road 0.89 miles, the curvature by 14.10 degs. and the grade rise by thirteen feet vertical. Between Santa Barbara and Ventura, a reconstruction has been recently completed which reduced the length of the road 0.42 miles, and reduced the curvature 876 degs. The grade was reduced thirty-two feet vertical.

Another important stretch of reconstruction is found between Strauss and Rogers, N. M. The saving in distance of the new line over the old line is about half a mile, but the maximum has been reduced from 52.8 to 31.60 feet per mile and the maximum curvature from 10 to 5 degs.

PENNSYLVANIA BOND ISSUE.
MORGAN TO CO-OPERATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was announced today that J. P. Morgan & Company were to coöperate with Kuhn, Loeb & Company in bringing out the forthcoming $100,000,000 Pennsylvania bond issues, $50,000,000 of which was authorized by the shareholders at the Philadelphia meeting today. Joint action by these two banking houses in bringing out the Pennsylvania issue has unusual significance, and it is believed marks the settlement of a feud growing out of the Northern Pacific corner and the later difficulties attending the adjustment of the Northwestern merger dispute.

This is the first time in years that the Morgan house has been engaged with the financing of a Pennsylvania bond issue.

NO WESTERN POOL.
AS TO CONVENTION BUSINESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—The proposed pool of the western railroads for the division of convention business moving between Chicago and the coast has collapsed.

All the roads will act separately as they have done in the past in getting convention business, and there will be no limit on the number of free tickets given to delegates to secure business.

Several of the western roads started out two weeks ago to form a pool on convention business, of which there is a large amount in prospect for the coming summer. Competition in past years has led to the practice of giving away tickets to secure business. It was proposed to put a limit on the number of free tickets and to divide the business equally among all the roads.

HANDLING OF GRAIN.
AGREEMENT OF TRUNK LINES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—After a series of negotiations extending for more than a year, the New York trunk lines have reached an agreement to govern the storage and handling of grain at New York. The new conditions will become operative April 1. The roads signing the agreement are the New York Central system, the Erie, Pennsylvania, Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley, Ontario and Western and the Baltimore and Ohio.

The new agreement defines the inspection, grading, consolidation and developing of all grain arriving by rail. Besides the various railroads, the New York Produce Exchange is a party to the agreement. This is the first revision of an agreement that was made September 1, 1875. It provides that the railroad companies may put together in elevators, warehouses, boats or barges, provided by themselves for the purpose, grain of the same kind and grade, without regard to its ownership, after the same has been inspected and weighed in accordance with the agreement, but nothing therein shall be construed as depriving receivers of grain of the right of preserving the identity of ex-lake grain if they so elect, nor as depriving shippers of the right of preserving the identity of all rail grain consigned to this market, if they shall so elect, subject only to such uniform conditions as may be made by the railroad companies for that purpose.

All questions of difference between the New York Produce Exchange or any member thereof and the railroad companies, or either of them, parties to the agreement, growing out of the inspection and delivery of all grain arriving at the port of New York are to be settled by a private arbitration committee, consisting of three persons.

DENIAL BY ST. PAUL.
WON'T SPEND TEN MILLIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—Reports that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company is considering the expenditure of $10,000,000 or any like sum for extraordinary improvements to the system were denied today by Roswell Miller, chairman of the Board of Directors. A sum not exceeding $600,000 will be spent in extending the system in the Dakotas, but beyond this, according to Mr. Miller, no further improvements are considering.

It was said that the St. Paul is considering the advisability of extending its lines to the Pacific Coast, but Chairman Miller says that this matter has not been discussed, even casually, by the board.

Thousand Miles Over Trails Never Trod Before.

Constables Travel from Dawson to Fort McPherson.

Gold Discovery at Stockton. Steamer Libeled.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the thermometer at 50 deg. below zero, Constables Dever, Rowley and Tapley of the Northwest Mounted Police have journeyed a thousand miles over Arctic trails never before trod by white men, leaving Dawson December 27, they journeyed in thirty-eight days to Fort McPherson on the MacKenzie River, via Peel River Indians acting as guides. The trip was taken to determine whether, in case of emergency, Dawson, as well as Edmonton, could furnish a police detachment.

The return trip was made in twenty-five days. The men encountered several blizzards, and were always obliged to camp out, sleeping in fur robes. Food ran short on the return trip, compelling the men to live nearly a week on dried fish. One dog was frozen so severely that he was shot. Each man wore out six pairs of moccasins.

FEUD LEADS TO SHOOTING.

BUTTS SHOOTS JOE REYNOLDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RENO (Nev.) March 28.—Joe Reynolds was shot and perhaps fatally wounded this morning by Harry Butts. Butts made his escape, but during the day went to the Sheriff's office and surrendered. He is now being held pending the outcome of Reynolds's injuries. The shooting, so far as can be learned, is the result of a long feud.

While Reynolds was overseeing his gambling games, Butts called him to the sidewalk. An argument followed, and then the shooting. Reynolds was shot through the leg, so close to the knee joint that amputation will be necessary. It is thought his physical condition will not withstand the operation. The affair has caused considerable excitement among the gambling fraternity because of the prominence of the parties concerned.

MORSE A DEFAULTER.

POST-MORTEM DISCOVERY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It has just leaked out that George E. Morse, clerk of the United States District Court and husband of Ida McKinley, a niece of President McKinley, was a defaulter for $6000 when he died, last November. Two months after his death his widow married Harry Cooper, keeper of a popular Market Street bookstore. Everyone was surprised, but now it turns out that Morse was a spy upon "tenderloin" resorts, and blew in government money on wine and women. Several giddy damsels of the "half-world" boast jeweled garters given to them by Morse. Morse is alleged to have taken fees filed by trustees in bankruptcy. The widow sacrificed her life insurance to meet the shortage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The discovery of nuggets where Stanislaus street crosses the Mormon Channel attracted a crowd there today, and amateur miners worked until it was too dark to segregate the gold from the soil.

A nugget which weighs about $30 was first picked up, and later other smaller ones were found. The gold is thought to have been washed down by heavy rains.

STATE FAIR GROUNDS.

SECRETARY LINDLEY'S REPORT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—The directors of the State Agricultural Society held a meeting this afternoon to discuss the preliminaries looking to the improvement of its recently-acquired State Fair Grounds and clearing up the society's indebtedness.

Director Burke wanted to know how the finances of the society stood, and Secretary Albert Lindley stated that after all debts are paid there would be $54,000 for improvement of the grounds, $27,500 of which is available now, the balance being available July 1.

Secretary Lindley was directed to turn over to the Secretary of State a deed of all the society's property to the State, to meet the requirements of the act under which the $45,000 appropriation was made.

NEW BUILDINGS AUTHORIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—The State Board of Agriculture met today and after consultation with Architect A. M. Allen, it was decided to authorize him to draw plans for buildings to cost $50,000 to be erected at once and other plans drawn for $100,000 worth of buildings to be erected in the future.

The board found that it has $25,000 for new buildings on the recently-acquired grounds east of the city, $30,000 allowed by the general appropriation bill for premiums, $6000 allowed for printing, $45,000 in the State Treasury available when the claims of the board are allowed by the State Board of Examiners on the filing of the deed of the society to the State transferring its property to the latter; $25,000 allowed on payment of debts of the society; $29,500 surplus from the sale of old Agricultural Park, all of which, with cash on hand for current expenses, gives a total of $161,500.

YOSEMITE COMMISSIONERS.

WILL STILL DRAW SALARY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—It is believed here that the Yosemite Commissioners who were thought to be legislated out of office may continue to hold and to draw salary in consequent of the doubt as to whether the Federal government has accepted Yosemite Valley and the big trees. This was brought out at a meeting of the commission held in San Francisco yesterday. In explaining the legal status it is said that just two days before adjournment of Congress Senator Perkins introduced a joint resolution formally accepting the territory receded by the State of California to the United States. To the resolution he appended a clause appropriating $20,000 for the maintenance of the park during the current year.

WITTMAN BRINGS SUIT.

WANTS TO GET JOB BACK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—George W. Wittman brought suit in the Superior Court today to be restored to the office of Chief of Police of San Francisco, applying for a writ of mandate to be issued compelling the Police Commissioners to admit him to that post. The papers were filed by Julius Kahn, attorney for the deposed chief. The petition is based on the legal grounds that Wittman was suspended from office on February 15 and removed on March 24, "unlawfully, wrongfully and without cause, and without probable cause." No personalities are introduced into the brief document, and all three of the commissioners are joined as defendants.

ELECTRICITY IN HAZING.

CURRENT DID NO HARM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The trial of Atlee Hunt, Jackson Hatch, Jr., and Armin Hansen, the three students at Hopkins Institute of Arts, charged with battery for "hazing" Albert de Rome, November 18 last, resulted in a disagreement of the jury today. The jury stood 6 to 6.

A number of electrical experts and physicians were called to testify for the defense, and they all said that the battery used upon De Rome would not even injure a child. R. C. Foss, an art student 16 years of age, gave practical illustration in court of the effect of the electric current on his bare limbs. He smiled all the time, and said he could barely feel the current.

The plaintiff alleges that her husband met his death through the negligence of the telephone corporation.

Central Bank Robbers.

OAKLAND, March 28.—The officials of the Central Bank feel confident that the detectives will capture the men who robbed their messengers of $1000 near Point Richmond. The identity of the men has been absolutely established. The robbers are both ex-convicts, they are Thomas A. Collins, convicted of rape and sentenced to twenty years in Folsom prison, and John Zimmerman, convicted of burglary and sentenced to Folsom for five years.

Lodge Woman Held up.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Armed with a revolver and wearing a black mask, a footpad held up three women on Stockton street, between Filbert and Greenwich streets, early this morning. The victims were Mrs. J. Navarre, secretary of Messina Circle of Foresters; Mrs. L. Zanzion and Mrs. Josephine Kerr, both of whom are members of the organization of which Mrs. Navarre is secretary. The robber seemed to know that Mrs. Navarre had the funds of the lodge, for it was she upon whom he leveled his revolver and it was from her that he wrenched a purse containing nearly $100 in gold and silver, and some valuable papers. He then made his escape.

Pardee today issued warrants of requisition upon Judge Louis Suizbacker of the United States Court of the Western District of Indian Territory, for the return to this State of Benjamin Martin and Joseph Martin, brothers, wanted in San Francisco for embezzling a number of watches and much jewelry from a jeweler named F. L. Cook. The men were arrested by United States Marshals and are in custody of the Federal authorities at Okmulgee, I. T. Detective Sergt. Edward O'Dea and Police Officer George F. Mulcahy of San Francisco left today to bring the men back to California.

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Secretary of State C. F. Curry has appointed Charles Clear of San Francisco to be chief of the License Department of his office, and has selected the following staff to assist Clear: Joseph Hill, formerly of this city but now of Placer county; Ray Waring, of Yolo; Walter Rickett, of Sonoma; Eugene Jackson, Charles Metsner and Charles McGreevy, of San Francisco, and Clem Lowe, of Yolo. The last Legislature passed a bill which Gov. Pardee approved, fixing a flat tax of $10 a year on all corporations, foreign and domestic, doing business in this State, which is expected to yield the State $500,000 in revenue during the next two years.

Wrecked Crew Rescued.

HONOLULU, March 28.—The United States gunboat Petrel, returning today from Midway Island, brought the crew of the schooner C. Kennedy, which left here on February 9 with supplies for the cable station on Midway Island, but was wrecked on the Island of Laysan. The crew and some of the cargo of the Kennedy were saved, but the vessel is a total loss. The wreck of the schooner occurred March 3, the vessel being driven on a reef at daylight by a tremendous storm. Capt. Schlemmer, his two mates and the crew of six Japanese, succeeded in reaching the shore after encountering great peril and losing all their boats. They were rescued by the Petrel on March 23.

Peculiar Hawaiian Epidemic.

HONOLULU, March 28.—The Inter-Island steamer Likelike, chartered by the territorial government, has left for Peleekunu Valley, on Molokai, carrying Army Surgeon Yost, eight men of the hospital corps and two nurses. It is a relief expedition sent out on account of reports of an epidemic in the form of an unknown sickness believed to be typhoid fever. Eight deaths have already taken place and there are other cases. There is no doctor on the entire island, outside of the practically inaccessible leper settlement. One report made to Gov. Carter, which is being investigated, suggests poisoning, and says there is a native poison tree in the valley and that the deaths result from a feud.

ANTE-BELLUM NEGOTIATIONS.

RUSSIA'S LAST NOTE TO JAPAN BEFORE THE WAR.

Text of Proposition Which Japan Refused to Consider—Czar's Government Refused to Guarantee Territorial Integrity of Manchuria, but Made a Few Concessions.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Associated Press is in a position to complete the diplomatic history of the Russo-Japanese relations, resulting in the war, by giving to the world the exact text of Russia's final reply to Japan, dated February 3, 1904, which has never before been made public.

Baron Rosen, former Russian Minister to Japan, did not have an opportunity of presenting the note to Baron Komura, Japanese Foreign Minister, as it was not delivered to him until February 7, the day after he had been informed of the rupture. Russia has always claimed that the Japanese government, having decided to break off negotiations and begin hostilities, deliberately held up the message at Tokio until M. Kurino, former Japanese Minister at St. Petersburg, could deliver the instructions sent to him February 5 to sever diplomatic relations. Japan, on the contrary, contended that the contents of the reply having been substantially communicated by Foreign Minister Lamsdorff to Minister Kurino, and being unacceptable on the main issue, it was useless for Japan to wait any longer. The text of the proposition follows:

"(1.) A mutual engagement to respect the independence and territorial integrity of Korea.

"(2.) An engagement on the part of Russia not to impede the commercial or industrial undertakings of Japan in Korea, nor oppose her measures for safeguarding such interests.

"(3.) Recognition by Russia of Japan's preponderating influence in Korea and her right to offer advice and assistance tending to the improvement of the administration of Korea.

"(4.) A mutual obligation not to use any part of Korean territory for strategic purposes, nor undertake on the coasts of Korea any military works which menace free navigation of the Korean Straits.

"(5.) Recognition by Russia of Japan's right to send troops to Korea in accordance with the preceding articles, for the suppression of insurrections and disorders calculated to create international complications.

"(6.) An engagement by Russia to respect the rights and privileges acquired by Japan as well as other powers in Manchuria through treaties with China; Japan to recognize Manchuria and the littoral as beyond her sphere of influence.

"(7.) A mutual agreement not to impede the junction of the Korean and Eastern China Railroads when they have reached the Yalu River.

"(8.) That this agreement supplants all previous agreements between Russia and Japan respecting Korea.

"(9.) The desirability, if possible, of creating a neutral zone in Korea."

A careful comparison of the above and preceding exchanges, all of which heretofore have been printed, fully confirms the fact that Russia, from the first to the last, insisted that it was inconsistent with her dignity to include in a special treaty with Japan an obligation to respect the territorial integrity of China in Manchuria, reiterating in the instructions sent to Baron Rosen, which were accompanied by a note of explanation to Japan, that Russia's position in Manchuria concerned first China and then all the other powers having commercial interests there, and again pointing out the declarations already made by Russia to foreign cabinets, of her intention so long as the occupation of Manchuria continued, to recognize the sovereignty and the binding force of the treaties contracted by the powers with the Peking government.

With the exception of a rearrangement and some slight verbal changes, the first five articles are identical with those of Russia's original reply of October 2, 1903. Russia made three concessions in the final note, as follows:

(1.) The withdrawal of the provision of the Russian note of January 6, 1904, declining to recognize the settlement rights in Manchuria acquired under treaties with China, a point on which Japan laid great stress. These rights Russia claimed were acquired by Japan under cover of treaties negotiated by the United States.

(2.) Recedence from insistence upon the proposition for a neutral zone in Northern Korea, but again putting forward its desirability.

(3.) Acceptance of the stipulation in Article 3 of Japan's original propositions regarding the juncture of the Korean and Manchurian Railroads.

Russia refused:

(1.) To include in the treaty an obligation to respect the territorial integrity of Manchuria.

(2.) To withdraw the inhibition against using Korean territory for strategic purposes.

The note, it is claimed, proves conclusively that Russia hoped to prolong the negotiations.

SUICIDE PACT.

Two Men Staying at Cleveland (O.) Hotel Shoot Themselves in Their Rooms.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CLEVELAND (O.) March 28.—Henry L. Woodward, said to be a well-known attorney of New York, and a brother of Judge Woodward of the Circuit Court, was found dead in a room at the Hollanden Hotel today, with a self-inflicted bullet wound through his head.

Thirty minutes after the body of Woodward had been found, the hotel employes discovered that another guest, T. A. Brouse, a salesman for the National Supply Company of Toledo, had also committed suicide by shooting himself through the temple in his room. It is believed that Woodward and Brouse agreed to end their lives at the same time.

Cards were found in Woodward's clothes bearing the name of Henry L. Woodward, representative of the Bank Law Publishing Company. Other papers showed him to be a member of the firm of Cummings & Woodward of New York City.

According to the hotel management, Woodward had been at the hotel for three weeks. He was about 35 years of age.

MORMONS BUY JAIL.

Spot Where Prophet Joe Smith Met Death to be Made a Missionary Center.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—A special to the Post from Carthage, Ill., says:

"Because of historical associations, the members of the Mormon church have purchased for $4000 the old jail here where the first prophet and the founder of the faith met a tragic death at the hands of a mob. The structure was not worth over $1500. It is proposed to establish a mission church in the building. In this connection announcement that the Mormons are coming back to Illinois after a lapse of half a century, and are to establish three new churches, has caused comment. The fact that the church is to make Carthage a headquarters in Illinois may be followed by public action in opposition."

Davis Replies to Dr. Reed's "Frenzied Reports."

Fourteen Per Thousand Per Annum, Death Rate.

Cabinet and Alaska's Game. Capital Briefs.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The following cablegram from Panama was made public at the War Department today:

Secretary of War, Washington: The following is the substance of the report of Col. William C. Gorgas, Medical Corps, U.S.A., chief sanitary inspector, for the month of February, 1905:

"Sick in hospitals, 151; the entire force on the rolls for the month of February, 7700; percentage of sick in hospital therefore less than 2 per cent. Number of deaths, 9, which is equivalent to rate of 14 per thousand per annum.

"The French commenced work in 1881, during which year their entire force averaged 928, and their deaths in the Ancon Hospital only were 72, or at the rate of 87 per thousand per annum, nearly five times the American rate.

"The deaths from yellow fever in the Ancon Hospital only during the year 1881 were 25, in an average force of 928, while the deaths from yellow fever during the past ten months in a force averaging 3500 were only 6. The French statistics only relate to the Ancon Hospital.

"If all deaths among the employés under the French during that time along the entire line were included, the mortality would be much higher. The last case of yellow fever to occur in Panama was on March 8, and the last case in Colon on March 16. The total number of cases among the entire population on the isthmus during January was 19; during February 13, and during March, to the date of this cable, 8. The present sanitary force consists of over 1600 employés, costing over $25,000 monthly."

This report, together with Col. Gorgas's letter of February 1, sent you February 3, is, in my opinion, sufficient repuy to Dr. Reed's frenzied reports.

PRESERVE ALASKA'S BIG GAME.

DECISION BY THE CABINET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—As the result of representations by the Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, it was determined at the Cabinet meeting today that no permits should be issued this year for big-game hunting in Alaska, except to authorized representatives of museums. Similar action was taken last year, because of the knowledge that game in Alaska was rapidly being destroyed, and it was desired to preserve it so far as possible for the benefit of the natives, although they are required to comply with local game laws.

REGRETS FOR ASPIROZ.

SERVICES AT ST. MATTHEWS'

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The profound regret cherished by the American government for the late Señor Don Manuel de Aspiroz found suitable expression at a religious service in his memory held at St. Matthews' Church today, which was attended by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, members of the Cabinet, the entire diplomatic corps, the Supreme Court, Senators and members of Congress and many other officials and personal friends of the deceased Ambassador.

The body of the late envoy was carried on a caisson from the embassy in I street to the church, accompanied by a military escort in command of Maj. Edward Burt.

Borne on the shoulders of eight bodybearers, the casket, wrapped in the Mexican flag, was taken to the foot of the altar, followed by the members of the Ambassador's family and ex-Secretary of State and Mrs. John W. Foster. Fastened to the top of the casket were the chapeau and sword of the dead envoy.

The services were brief, Rev. Father Buckey officiating, and consisted of a requiem mass and several prayers for the dead. At the close of the service, the body was removed to the caisson, followed by the honorary pallbearers, who were Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, dean of the corps; Baron Mayor des Planches, the Italian Ambassador; Chief Justice Fuller of the Supreme Court, Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, the Costa Rican Minister, Mr. Calvo, and the Minister from Denmark, Mr. Brun. At Oak Hill Cemetery, brief services were held at the vault, where the body will remain until taken to Mexico for final interment.

The Mexican government has accepted the offer of a warship, and the body will be carried on the cruiser Columbia at a date yet to be fixed.

Marine Barracks for Ancon.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Panama Canal Commission today authorized the construction of a marine barracks at Ancon, Panama, at a cost of $45,000.

Secretary Morton's Party.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Dolphin, with Secretary Morton's party, arrived at Havana from Guantanamo today. Capt. Gibbons, commanding the vessel, in reporting his arrival at the Cuban capital, informed the department that Capt. William A. Swift, who is accompanying the Secretary, is ill with typhoid fever, and has been placed in a hospital at Havana. Capt. Swift has just been designated for assignment as assistant chief of the Bureau of Navigation, vice Capt. Pillsbury, who goes to the North Atlantic station as chief officer on the staff of Admiral Evans.

Special Cotton-ginning Report.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Census Bureau today issued a bulletin showing the total crop of cotton ginned for the season of 1904 to be 13,597,782 bales. These figures include linters and count round bales as half bales and the total is equivalent to 13,544,457 bales of 500 pounds. The square bales numbered 13,163,447, the round bales 296,151; the sea-island bales, 104,217; the linters, 241,943; total running bales, including linters, 13,745,857. Included in these totals are 192,275 running bales, estimated by ginners as remaining to be ginned.

State Senator Brockett of Saratoga Asks to Begin Action Against Equitable's Directors.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) March 28.—State Senator Edgar E. Brackett of Saratoga today filed with Attorney-General Mayer a petition asking leave to begin an action in the name of the people for the removal from office of James H. Hyde and Jacob Schiff of New York and such other directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society as may be proved guilty of misconduct toward the interests of the policy holders of the Equitable. The petition is brought in the names of Senators Brackett and others from Saratoga as policy holders.

The petition alleges on information and belief against Hyde that the ball recently given by him in New York and also his trip to Europe were really at the expense of the Equitable society rather than of Hyde himself; and against Schiff that he sold bonds to the society while himself a director.

TORNADOES IN TWO STATES.

SEVEN PERSONS HURT BY WIND AT LEWISBURG, MINN.

One of Victims Will Die—Every Business House in Town Demolished—Twelve Persons Injured by Blow at Ottawa, Kas. — Many Buildings Destroyed by Storm.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) March 29.—A dispatch from Appleton, Minn., says that of the seven persons injured as a result of a tornado which destroyed the village of Lewisburg, one is fatally hurt. Every business house in the town was either demolished or badly damaged, and most of the houses in the village were unroofed.

From Breckinridge, on the Waterloo branch of the Great Northern, a relief train was dispatched to Lewisburg as soon as news of the storm was received.

Most of the people escaped serious injury by getting into their cellars.

Frederick Moen, who was in his cellar, was carried 200 feet, and though seriously injured, will recover.

The tornado was preceded by hail.

It is not believed that much damage was done outside of town.

The Interstate Northwestern and McCaull-Webster grain elevators were demolished and their contents were scattered over miles of ground.

A KANSAS BLOW.

TWELVE PEOPLE INJURED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OTTAWA (Kan.) March 28.—The high wind in this vicinity caused more or less damage and injured twelve persons, one seriously. In Main street a store building was unroofed, and the contents damaged by the rain which fell in torrents. In the northeastern part of Ottawa four dwelling-houses were demolished, and many outbuildings were wrecked. The house of Frank Bruner was shattered, Bruner was cut badly, and his wife was seriously hurt. Out in the country many dwellings were damaged. In Forest Park the Hall of Philosophy was destroyed. At the pipe-line camp, northeast of here, many tents were carried away and ten of their occupants were slightly injured.

CROTON DAM INTACT.

NEW YORK, March 28.—No break has yet occurred in the $5,000,000 dam forming the new Croton reservoir which was menaced yesterday by a flood of water from the great Croton watershed. During the last week the water has been gradually rising in the reservoir, and for two or three days it had been running over the spillway of the dam. Yesterday, however, the gates were opened and the water was allowed to run into the Croton River. It is not believed today that there is any danger of a collapse of the gates of the dam.

GUN PLAY OUT WEST.

"Bat" Masterson on Etiquette, and Ethics of Carrying Big Revolvers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—William B. Masterron, known as "Bat" Masterson, was sworn in today here as deputy United States Marshal. He was recommended for the appointment by the President. Masterson said he hoped to make a good record in his new place. Incidentally, he expressed the opinion that there is more carrying of concealed weapons in New York than in the West.

"Out where I come from," he said, "a man does not carry a gun unless he wants to use it. Out there, the game is to leave your gun at home. Then, when a fellow draws a bead on you, you can throw up your hands and show him you are unarmed. He won't shoot if you do that.

"But here in New York, every little sneaking son-of-a-gun who has got the price of a pistol buys one and carries it. You can't go into a restaurant or café in this town without seeing a dozen cheap sports with guns twisted in their hip pockets. Why, they could not get them out in an hour, and if by hard work they did manage to yank one of the toy pistols, they could not hit their mark. Where there's one murder in the country I come from, there's a dozen here."

TO ACCEPT OR REJECT?

Vote Taken on Question of Rockefeller Gift.

Decision Reached but Nature of It Kept Secret.

Arguments for and Against Its Acceptance.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, March 28.—Positive action was taken on the question of accepting John D. Rockefeller's gift of $100,000 to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, at a meeting this afternoon of the Prudential Committee of that organization, but the nature of the action was not disclosed. The committee announced officially, however, that a statement reciting the decision of the committee would be given out tomorrow, after the report adopted, which is in the form of resolutions, had been officially communicated to a committee appointed at a meeting of Congregational clergymen of Boston and vicinity to protest against the acceptance of the Rockefeller gift.

THE QUESTION CONSIDERED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, March 28.—The question of accepting or rejecting John D. Rockefeller's gift of $100,000 to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions was the principal business scheduled to come before the meeting of the Prudential Committee today. The widespread discussion which followed the action taken by Congregational clergymen in various parts of New England last week in protesting against the acceptance of the gift because of objections to the alleged business methods of the Standard Oil Company, created great interest in today's meeting.

Dr. James L. Barton, foreign secretary of the American Board, said today that already $41,500 of the gift was in the treasury and the question to be decided at today's meeting was therefore whether this amount should be returned or whether it should be retained and the balance accepted.

Before the meeting of the committee the opinion was expressed at Congregational headquarters that the gift would be accepted. It was stated that the amount already drawn from Mr. Rockefeller had been apportioned by the American Board for colleges in Japan, India and Turkey.

The Missionary Herald, the organ of the American Board, issued today, contains an acknowledgment of the $41,500 as a part of Mr. Rockefeller's gift, and indicates its apportionment.

PLEA FOR ACCEPTANCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, March 28.—The American Board also has received a communication from Rev. A. H. Bradford of Montclair, N. J., former Moderator of the National Congregational Council and president of the American Missionary Association, who favors the acceptance of Mr. Rockefeller's gift. Mr. Bradford's statement, in part follows:

"Mr. Rockefeller is not seeking vindication and is not trying to find some one to shield him in evil courses. This was not a case of Mr. Rockefeller's seeking a means of self justification, but it was that of a noble enterprise in its extreme need making its appeal to him. To that appeal he yielded, not in any way making the board his partner and not asking it to give him any approval.

"Why refuse Mr. Rockefeller's money and accept the gifts of other stockholders of the Standard Oil Company? No one doubts that much money derived from that and other similar sources goes into the treasury. If he had asked it to go into partnership with him it ought to be refused. But he has asked nothing of the kind.

"Money which leaves the receiver free from all obligations except that of using it wisely should be received unless someone else is ready to prove that it belongs to him."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLUMBUS (O.) March 28.—Dr. Washington Gladden, Moderator of the Congregational Church, filed a written protest today with the Prudential Committee of the American Foreign Missions, now in session at Boston, against the committee accepting the gift of $100,000 from John D. Rockefeller.

In his protest Dr. Gladden says: "We have no right to take the money. It does not belong to the man who offers it. It belongs to the people from whom it has been extorted.

"It is often assumed, I fear, that we do not need to be over-scrupulous about money which we can use in doing good. That indifference is deadly. The 'good' that is done by lowering our ethical standards might better be left undone. Shall the young men and women of the missionary colleges be taught to regard Mr. Rockefeller as a great benefactor? The colleges might better be permanently closed."

HOT WAVE OVER COUNTRY.

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] March will go out like a lamb, if the present weather continues. Today, for the first time in months, the temperature of the entire country east of the Rockies was above the freezing point. A warm wave covered even the provinces of lower Canada. New York, with the mercury at 72 degs. experienced the hottest 28th of March in the history of the weather bureau, which goes back 34 years. Never in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has such terrific heat settled over Manhattan at so early a date.

LISBON, March 28.—Emperor William and King Charles this morning witnessed exercises by a cavalry regiment, a detachment of artillery, and a company of sharpshooters. The Emperor was subsequently conducted over the Belem Monastery. After luncheon at the Necessidades Palace, the Emperor, King Charles and Queen Amelia visited the public buildings of Lisbon.

FIENDISH MURDER.

Aged Woman in a Kansas Sanitarium Horribly Mutilated With an Ax by Unknown Fiend.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OTTAWA (Kan.) March 28.—Mrs. Caroline Jobes, aged 72 years, of Wellsville, was attacked at the Semple Sanitarium here during the night by some unknown person, and perhaps fatally wounded. Her skull was fractured with an axe and her body was horribly mutilated. There is no clue other than tracks surrounding the building. The mutilation of the body was similar to that in the Nickum murder case at Topeka last year, when Mrs. Nickum, who kept a boarding-house, was mysteriously murdered and the body fearfully slashed. No motive for the attack upon Mrs. Jobes is known.

LABOR.

NEW INDUSTRIAL UNION WANTED.

SECRETARY-TREASURER OF THE MINERS TALKS UP.

William D. Haywood Says Gompers is Needlessly Excited Over the International Plan—Organization of All Workers in All Branches is Proposed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) March 28.—William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, emphatically denied today the statement attributed to him to the effect that he expected to replenish the treasury of that organization with contributions sent by other unions to aid the strikers in Colorado.

"The Western Federation of Miners, from July 1, 1903, up to January 1, 1905," said Haywood, "received from sources outside the federation the sum of $132,628. Outside of the United Brewery Workers and the United Mine Workers, the American Federation of Labor contributed a very small proportion of the sum named.

"We have put into relief funds in Colorado and into the distribution of them practically the whole of the amount collected, and my annual report, printed after the annual meeting of the Federation board, held here early in the year, gives a detailed statement of all receipts and disbursements.

"President Gompers is needlessly excited over the plan to organize an international industrial union. We are merely planning a broader union than any now in existence. There are 28,000,000 wage earners in the United States. Approximately 1,500,000 are members of a union. The unions limit the number of apprentices, and then refuse a man a union card unless he has served an apprenticeship. We propose to organize the workers everywhere.

"We are not attacking the unions formed in skilled trades. In fact, they are not eligible to membership. Ours will be an industrial union, which will include in its membership all men working in any branch of a trade or industry."

MACEDONIAN QUESTION.

House of Lords Discusses Vexed Balkan Problem—Rule of the Turk Denounced.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The House of Lords discussed the Macedonian question lengthily today. Lord Lytton (Conservative) called attention to the condition of affairs in that part of the world. He said that the Austro-Russian reform scheme was a failure, and it was hopeless to expect anything from Russia or Austria. The rule of the Turk was an anomaly in civilized Europe and a perpetual menace.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne said some progress had been made, but he realized that action was urgent on the grounds of humanity and because the existing conditions menaced the peace of Europe.

Great Britain, however, had less responsibility than any other power, and however desirable, it was impossible for Great Britain to send a fleet to Constantinople or an army of invasion into Macedonia. It was hardly likely that Russia and Austria would stand aside to find room for the western powers. The Foreign Secretary assured the House that the powers were presenting a united front in connection with Macedonia and he believed the outcome of the present negotiations would be satisfactory.

Lord Lansdowne further remarked that the finances of Macedonia must be placed under international control. The statement of Lord Lansdowne was greeted with cheers.

COLOMBIAN DEBT.

LONDON, March 28.—Negotiations have been opened by Gen. Holguin, the European representative of the republic of Colombia, with the Council of the corporation of foreign bondholders with the object of trying to settle the Colombian debt. The council informs the Associated Press that it does not see much hope of arranging the present affair, unless Panama can be prevailed upon to assume a proportion of the debt.

TERRIBLE DISCOVERY MADE IN BAKERSFIELD.

Police Discover Chinese Woman Kept a Prisoner in Hovel Amid Indescribable Conditions—Two Arrests—Five Arrests for the Murder of Man Slain in Street.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, March 28.—A story of the brutal treatment of a Chinese woman came to light today with the arrest of two Chinamen by the city police officers. About 1 o'clock, when they were attempting to locate an opium den in New Chinatown, the officers heard cries coming from an outbuilding in a vacant lot three blocks away.

An immediate investigation revealed an emaciated Chinese woman lying in undescribable filth and on the verge of starvation. Her husband offered some resistance to the officers, but was subdued and arrested.

A Chinaman living in a neighboring hut said that the woman had been confined in the hut for at least a month and had been placed there because a devil was in her. He said she had been given but a few scraps to eat. She was taken to the County Jail, and cared for.

Coroner Mullins went to the cañon today to hold an inquest over the body of the man who was killed by a fall from the trail near Camp 2. It was learned that the dead man's name was E. Lavin. He leaves a widow, who lives in San Francisco.

Five men have been arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder which was committed yesterday morning when an unknown man was killed with a club and robbed on one of the main streets. Three of the arrests were made in Kern and two at Tehachepi. What is believed to be the most important capture is that of a one-armed man, giving the name of Mike Larkin, who is known to have begged money.

ENGLAND'S ARMY.

Must Always be Kept on a War Footing—Policy of the War Office Defended.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the House of Commons today Secretary of War Arnold-Forster, on a motion in the Committee of Army Estimates, made his annual statement. He defended the policy of the War Office and said that the record of his administration showed a number of changes looking to the placing of the army on an efficient war footing. The regular army could not be reduced because Great Britain was the only country in the world which was obliged to maintain an army on a war footing in times of peace. The danger of an invasion was not real. The principal duty of the British army was to fight across the seas and defend frontiers. They must eliminate the idea of competition. The great military countries of the world should merely apply their whole attention to supplying an army capable of defending the frontiers. The lesson of the Russo-Japanese war was that quality not quantity produced success in modern warfare.

Mr. Arnold-Forster outlined the changes made and contemplated, and said it gave him great pleasure to be able to say that the Dominion of Canada had undertaken from a certain date to bear the cost of guardianship of the great imperial fortresses situated in that country.

The War Secretary added that it would take seven years to make an impression on the great problem of army reorganization. What then could be expected in seven months? He urged the House to deal with the question from a patriotic and not from a party or political standpoint.

FUNERAL OF VERNE.

AMIENS (France) March 28.—The funeral of Jules Verne took place today in the Church of St. Martin, and was attended by representatives of the literary, scientific and geographical societies and many school children. The widow, accompanied by her sons and daughters, walked at the head of the funeral procession. Military honors were accorded the deceased, as he was a member of the Legion of Honor. The burial took place in the Madeline Cemetery.

Text of Gov. F

and the Preside

[BY THE ASS

NEW YORK, March 28.—Gov. Joseph W. Folk of Missouri was guest of honor and the principal speaker at the banquet of the Missouri society at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight. At the right of the Governor sat District-Attorney Jerome, who also made a brief address. Gov. Folk said in part:

"The Missouri idea means the enforcement of law, and that if the law be bad the remedy is to repeal it, not to ignore it. There is entirely too little respect for law in America. In every state we find laws a nullity for policy sake. Such a thing is unknown in any other land. Disregard of one law breeds disrespect for all laws. In allowing some laws to go unenforced we reap a harvest in having all laws broken. The law may not be to one's liking, but the answer, 'It is the law,' should be sufficient for the law-abiding. Good men will observe even bad laws, but bad men will break even good laws. It should be that all men should be compelled to keep all laws good and bad, because it is the law.

"How careless people usually are of what laws are enforced or not! This lethargy gives rise to civic evils. In

CONFIDENTI OF ARMO

[BY THE ASSOC

CHICAGO, March 28.—The Federal grand jury tonight returned an indictment against Thomas J. Connors, general superintendent of Armour & Company, on a charge of interfering with a witness summoned to appear before the jury now investigating the so-called beef trust. Connors, who is Ogden Armour's most confidential employé and the active head of one of the largest packing companies of the world, was arrested on a bench warrant by a deputy United States marshal and brought to the grand jury room where he was released on $5000 bond. After his release, Connors refused to discuss the matter.

The indictment charges that John Edward Shields of Brooklyn, a former employé of Armour & Company, who testified before the grand jury, was approached, favored and entertained by Connors, and specially states that, March 25, the offense upon which Connors was indicted occurred. It is also charged that Shields was given the use of Armour & Company's offices at No. 205 La Salle street to transact his business while in Chicago, and also the use of the private telegraph wires in the office of the packing company. Another allegation is that Shields was entertained by Connors, and that Connors suggested to the proposed witness that he should testify favorably to Armour & Company and not to tell all that he knew concerning the matter under investigation.

RESPECT FOR LAW.

Text of Gov. Folk of Missouri at Banquet in New York—Jerome Names Four Leaders of the People, and the President is One.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—Gov. Joseph W. Folk of Missouri was the guest of honor and the principal speaker at the banquet of the Missouri Society at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight. At the right of the Governor sat District-Attorney Jerome, who also made a brief address. Gov. Folk said in part:

"The Missouri idea means the enforcement of law, and that if the law be bad the remedy is to repeal it, not to ignore it. There is entirely too little respect for law in America. In every State we find laws a nullity for policy's sake. Such a thing is unknown in any other land. Disregard of one law breeds disrespect for all laws. In allowing some laws to go unenforced, we reap a harvest in having all laws violated. The law may not be to one's liking, but the answer, 'It is the law,' should be sufficient for the law-abiding. Good men will observe even bad laws, but bad men will break even good laws. It should be that all men shall be compelled to keep all law, good and bad, because it is the law. How careless people usually are as to what laws are enforced or not! This disregard gives rise to civic evils. Indeed, nearly all public wrongs grow out of the indifference of the people. There are many who thrill with patriotic fervor at the thought of going to war and risking their lives for their country, but who forget to vote on election day. The patriotism of peace is just as necessary as the patriotism of war. The patriotism of the ballot is even more necessary in a free country than the patriotism of a bullet. Plenty of men will die for their country, but the man who will live for his city and State every day is the man good government needs."

Dist.-Atty. Jerome said: "I do not want to belittle what Gov. Folk has done, but it is a fact that nothing he has done can be compared to what he may do and may be. Whatever Folk has accomplished as Circuit Attorney and Governor, one of the greatest things he has done was to put courage into the hearts of thousands who never knew him. That will be the monument to his life. There are four men today on whom the attention of the United States is riveted—Roosevelt, La Follette, Deneen and Folk. These men have had the plain people behind them, and will continue to have them so long as the people believe they stand on their honesty."

CONFIDENTIAL MAN OF ARMOUR INDICTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, March 28.—The Federal grand jury tonight returned an indictment against Thomas J. Connors, general superintendent of Armour & Company, on a charge of interfering with a witness summoned to appear before the jury now investigating the so-called beef trust. Connors, who is Ogden Armour's most confidential employé and the active head of one of the largest packing companies of the world, was arrested on a bench warrant by a deputy United States marshal and brought to the grand jury room where he was released on $5000 bond. After his release, Connors refused to discuss the matter.

The indictment charges that John Edward Shields of Brooklyn, a former employé of Armour & Company, who testified before the grand jury, was approached, favored and entertained by Connors, and specially states that, March 25, the offense upon which Connors was indicted occurred. It is also charged that Shields was given the use of Armour & Company's offices at No. 205 La Salle street to transact his business while in Chicago, and also the use of the private telegraph wires in the office of the packing company. Another allegation is that Shields was entertained by Connors, and that Connors suggested to the proposed witness that he should testify favorably to Armour & Company and not to tell all that he knew concerning the matter under investigation.

The second count of the indictment charges that Connors did not limit his attempt at influencing witnesses to Shields, but that other witnesses who have not yet appeared in Chicago have been approached by him and attempts made to influence them as to the nature of the testimony they would give before the jury.

When the special grand jury convened last week, Shields was one of the first witnesses to appear. He came to Chicago from New York. He had testified before a grand jury sitting in New York, and there is said to have divulged facts which led the Federal officials to believe him in possession of many other details concerning the question under consideration. He was requested to come to Chicago, and the Federal officials were instructed to watch the man closely. Two men were detailed to watch Shields. One of these secret service men obtained Shields's confidence, and thus learned facts which doubled the precautions of the government to prevent any of the witnesses from being coached. Shields was followed by these detectives, and it was learned that he frequented the offices of Armour & Company, having a private wire at his disposal and answering all his private correspondence there. Every move of Shields was closely watched.

The matter reached a climax yesterday when one of the secret service men submitted a report to his superiors. Today Shields was in the grand jury room from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock. The section of the statutes under which the indictment was drawn provides that any person who interfers with a witness shall be subjected to a fine of $500 or imprisonment for three months, or both.

VENEZUELA PAYING DEBTS, SAYS CASTRO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—President Castro has reiterated, according to a Herald dispatch from Caracas, his statements that there is no ground for complaint against Venezuela, and no reason for intervention. He declares that attacks by the American press against his country and government indicate complete ignorance of the facts concerning the debts of Venezuela and the settlement thereof. The debts are relatively small, the whole amount not exceeding $30,000,000.

All those debts, the statement continues, have been publicly paid since the protocol was signed. Nearly $1,000,000 was peremptorily claimed by Germany, England and Italy, and paid. Since then $2,200,000 more has also been paid, representing 30 per cent. of the duties. The other exterior debts, held in England and Germany, are, according to the provisions of the protocols, being settled between the bondholders and Venezuela. The country has paid, and will continue to pay, the President concluded, as stipulated in the protocols which Minister Bowen arranged.

THRILLING and startling feats of marksmanship are performed in England by a shooter who seems to be a worthy successor to William Tell. He is Col. Bordeverry, and his appearance has caused a sensation. Bordeverry, instead of utilising the old-fashioned bow and arrow, performs with a rifle.

Bordeverry does not shoot an apple off a boy's head, as Tell did, but the tale told of him, and authenticated by photographs, is even more remarkable. He literally shoots a woman's dress off, and his daring deeds with rifle and revolver hold his audiences spellbound, according to a London exchange.

As seen in the illustration, in the lady assistant's hat, on her shoulders and elbows, are various small targets, the "bull" of which is scarcely the size of a dime. However, it is quite large enough for Col. Bordeverry's purpose. Rifle in hand, he stands at one end of the stage, while his intrepid assistant takes up her stand at the other. In a trice the champion rifle and revolver shot of the world raises his weapon—there is a sharp report, and the lady's hat is seen to fall to the floor. The bullet has penetrated the small bullseye, thereby loosening the fastenings. Another sharp report quickly rings out, and one side of the lady's dress is seen to fall from her shoulder, and so the marvelous shooting continues until the woman's dress is literally "shot off her back," and she stands unharmed and calm, garbed in loose hanging robes.

That such precise marksmanship is marvelous goes without saying, and it demands steady nerves from both the shooter and his human target. Bordeverry, however, has nerves of iron.

On one occasion, in Germany, a gentleman in the audience protested that Bordeverry's feats were not genuine. "Will you kindly step on the stage?" was the quiet reply. "I see you are smoking a cigarette," said the famous shot, as the dubious member advanced toward the footlights. "Yes, and why not?" came the answer. "Oh, well, never mind," replied Bordeverry; "I'll put it out for you, as it's against the rules this side of the footlights." Hardly had he spoken than a shot was heard, and the erstwhile smoker found his cigarette flying out of his mouth. It had been shot in two parts at a distance of over twelve yards.

Another astonishing feat the famous marksman performs is to shoot a piece of sugar from between two men's foreheads. Leaning together, forehead to forehead, the two men hold in that position an ordinary piece of lump sugar. At a distance of seven yards Bordeverry raises his rifle, and seeming scarcely to take aim, shoots the sugar away from its human supports. The rapidity with which his feats are performed has earned for him the title of "the world's greatest rifle and revolver shot."

It seems as easy for him to lean over backward from the dress circle of a theater and snuff out a row of candles, one by one, with a rifle, as it is for the ordinary shot to hit a three-foot target at a distance of three yards.

It should also be mentioned that the colonel is an expert piano player. He, however, scorns to play the piano with his fingers—that is far too easy. He has another and much more original way of making music; he shoots the "Cavalleria Rusticana" from the piano with a revolver. Note by note, he makes a target of an ordinary piano. And when it is said that he can play several pieces from beginning to end with an ordinary six shooter the novel musician can hardly be termed a beginner, either as a piano player or as a revolver shot.

"I never feel the slightest nervousness," said the ady whose dress is unceremoniously shot away, "for never on a single occasion since I have taken up the novel profession of a 'target' has Col. Bordeverry shot a hair's breadth away from the center of those tiny bull's eyes"—and she displayed the diminutive circles of steel in her large picture hat and pretty evening gown.

The gallant colonel is also modest. In reply to various questions anent his extraordinary skill, he merely said, "Oh, it's nothing. I could not miss now—I have had so much practice. I will shoot your cigar out of your mouth if you like." The writer declined this generous offer.

Industrial dividends in April will be the largest for that month in years, according to the statistics compiled by the New York Journal of Commerce. The declarations thus far announced represent a total of $23,910,563, which compares with $22,594,691 in 1904 and $19,872,919 in 1903.

The Denver News says a counterfeiting scheme, gigantic in its proportions and rich in results, which has as its field the whole of the United States, has just been unearthed by the Federal authorities. They have assured him that 12,000 redmen, loyal to King Edward, will be present to give him an enthusiastic greeting. His Excellency has accepted the invitation.

A trifling blaze in the shirtwaist factory of Max Roth, which occupies the five upper floors of a six-story building in Walker street, New York City, started a panic among the 300 girls employed there. There is but one exit besides the fire escapes, a narrow, steep stairway. When the cry of fire was raised the girls crowded down this stairway, falling over and trampling upon each other, and before all were out a dozen of them fainted from fright and slight injuries. The panic was increased by the conduct of some of the men employed in the factory, who trampled upon the women in their own haste to escape. One girl's hip was fractured.

The refugees charge that Mohammedans from Baku are responsible for exciting the population against the Christians.

Side Talks by the Office Boy

I heard a lady say, "Pity the poor young man who parts his hair in the middle, he has to do it to prevent his mind from becoming unbalanced." That was a nasty one, wasn't it, but honest when a fellow has on his Silverwood hat it really doesn't make much difference which way his hair is parted. Lots of people thought the old man's mind was unbalanced when he fitted up such a swell store at Sixth and Broadway a year ago, but now it's right in as good a location as most any store in town, and the people down there certainly demonstrate that they appreciate having a silverwood store there, 'cause the business is growing every day; they've got as pleasant a bunch of salesmen there as you could find in a month's journey. Gosh, I wish I was big enough to manage a store. I suppose by the time I am, we'll have stores every few blocks between Pasadena and Ocean Park. It will be all grown together.

Cavalry in Warfare.

That Kouropatkin did not come to the Caudine Forks, between Mukden and Tie Pass, was as much due to the inefficiency of the Japanese cavalry as it was to his own skill in retreat and the stubborn resolution of the Russian soldier. The Japanese is not a horseman. His legs are too short. Japan is not the home of the horse. If Oyama's cavalry were such a terrible arm of offense as the Mamelukes of the East, or the cuirassiers of Napoleon's Imperial Guard, there would have been none of Kouropatkin's army left to dispute the passage of the Hun River.

Napoleon was the most consummate soldier since Hannibal, simply because when he was through with a battle it was finished. When he beat the enemy he hurled against his broken and demoralized columns the cavalry under Murat, or Bessieres, or Nansouty, to complete the bloody work of Davoust, Lannes, Ney, and Massena. That was a trick of the Corsican that took the fight out of the enemy. He failed to hurl 20,000 cuirassiers against the beaten Russians at Borodino, and it may be that it was that failure that cost him his empire. His explanation was that it was his only reserve, and that, far from France as he was, it must be saved for greater emergency. It became the victim of storm, of cold, and of famine.—[Washington Post.

BALFOUR'S FISCAL POLICY CONDEMNED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the House of Commons tonight a vote of censure of Premier Balfour's fiscal policy was unanimously carried, the ministerialists abstaining from voting.

The session was a repetition of the sessions of March 22, when a resolution introduced by Mr. Ainsworth (Free Trade Liberal) condemning the government's proposition to impose a general duty on manufactured goods, was carried by a vote of 254 to 2. The ministerial front benches tonight were entirely deserted and only about a dozen Unionists, principally free-traders, were present when Mr. Walton (Liberal) moved a resolution as follows:

"In view of the declaration made by the Prime Minister, this House thinks it necessary to record its condemnation of his policy of fiscal retaliation."

The opposition had hoped that, in view of the fact that this was a vote of censure, the government would take up the challenge and would not adhere to its declared intention of ignoring fiscal resolutions of private members, but Mr. Balfour declined to be drawn out, and the opposition were driven to address denunciatory speeches to empty benches and reap the indirect benefit of the effect of the government's refusal to fight when challenged.

Mr. Walton's motion was carried without a division.

In reply to an inquiry by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannermann, the Speaker said the motion should be recorded.

Death Lurks in Sick Kidneys

The kidneys are the weak link in the chain of life, and are daily carrying thousands of victims to untimely graves. Ninety men and women in every hundred have kidney trouble and don't know it, because it's only when the trouble reaches an advanced stage that it's recognized as kidney disease.

We imagine we have dyspepsia, heart disease, nervous prostration and a hundred and one ills, but nine times out of ten the real trouble is that the kidneys are so weak and diseased that they are utterly unable to carry the waste matters out of the body, and the uric acid accumulates in the system, and slowly but surely paves the way for Bright's disease, diabetes, blood poisoning and a horrible death in convulsions. Ask your doctor if this is not good, solid, common sense.

EXAMINE YOUR URINE

It's the infallible test of kidney trouble. If your morning urine, on standing still twenty-four hours, contains a sediment, is cloudy, or shows floating particles, your kidneys are seriously diseased and must be treated at once.

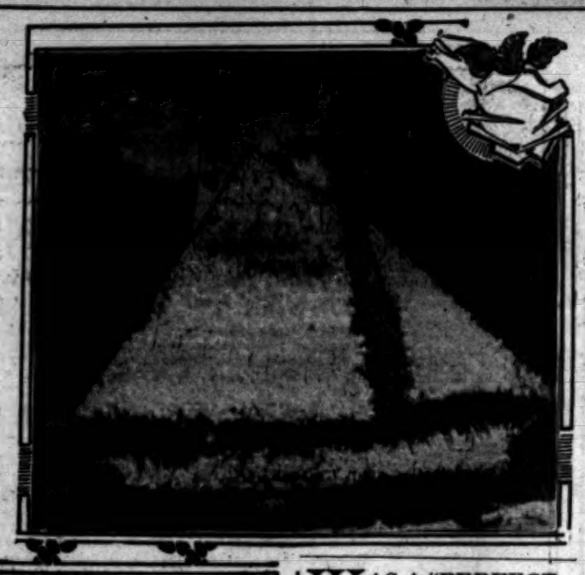
Great Crowds of People See the Flower Fete.

"Twenty-three hundred tickets before 9 o'clock."

"It's a success—a real success."

A tourist heaves a gusty sigh and says: "My, but I wish I could be sure to remember all this, and describe it when I get home," and Rev. Robert J. Burdette, overhearing, smiled a pitying smile, and said: "It couldn't do her any good if she could remember,



By the sea at the posy show The carnation lighthouse and Ocean Park's floral yacht for they will never believe her 'back home.' I tried it in '83, after I had attended one of these flower festivals, and I have never been able to overcome the dreadful reputation I established for unreliability in relating stories about California."

In the meantime the crowds surged up and down before the carnation tower, the bands played sweet melodies (there are two bands,) "Oh's" and "Ah's" flew about like bees and butterflies, and up in the balconies several hundred people leaned over the railings and declared the scene below to be as beautiful as art and nature combined could make it.

The gay and debonair fisherman over on the Ocean Park pier watched the pretty girls at the candy booth all the evening and kept right on fishing, but the other men all got caught—and their purses were empty when they went home.

The mustard booth is not to serve hot things in, although it is directly opposite the hot tamale booth, so unique with its decorations of corn stalks. The ice cream tastes cooler and sweeter under the soft shelter of the sweet-scented, graceful branches of the mustard, and Mrs. George E. Reid and her corps of assistants are having a busy time of it, for who ever went to a festival without patronizing the ice cream booth?

Quite "the sweetest booth" is that directly before the entrance, where Miss Kirk, Miss Belle Crowell and Miss Guiwitts are running opposition to the confectioners. Real homemade candy this is, and the booth with its rose shelter is deservedly popular.

The lemonade well is a feature over against the mission, and Rebecca never had so busy a time refreshing thirsty folk, as had Miss Mabel Harris, Miss Ethel Goodrich and Mrs. Hidley last night.

There is a stunning automobile from the Western Motor Company. It is decorated in double Cherokee roses and is decidedly suggestive of—well—a wedding journey. There is a quaint mosaic of carnations over near the wall, that came up from Pinyan & Co., and it certainly makes the corner bright.

The Cawston ostrich farm is there with a fine display of feathers, which, strictly speaking, are rivals of flowers—but the women love them both, and the booth is decidedly pretty.

The Redondo Hotel people have a pretty display of carnations, and the Apollo Club and its "Creation" grows more interesting every day.

Wagonloads—well, that doesn't express it—there are tons of callas on that stage. Mrs. C. Milton Adams, who arranged its decoration, was asked how many thousand callas were used, and she blushingly said, "Well, I wouldn't dare to say—I haven't stopped to count them." And probably no one else had undertaken the job!

The Ocean Park "Community League" came up with flying colors yesterday afternoon, hoisted a sail of white carnations on a floral craft floating in a deep sea of bougainvillea, and have so far kept their boat from going ashore on the "really, truly sand beach," or the wooden pier. It is a well-executed design, and what if it did take 6000 carnations to make the sail? Ocean Park could easily supply them, and A. F. Webster, who managed the launching of the new yacht, says there are more where those came from!

The balconies are charming and the Hotel Raymond and its big gardens are coming in for a lot of praise, for it is no baby play to cover 700 square feet of bare surface with flowers, and those smilax festoons would reach a long way toward Pasadena if they were stretched out.

And the babies at the creche—why they were brighter than the daisies and attracted a great deal more attention. There was a big rocking-horse in active demand and one little miss who had been checked for safekeeping by her fond mama, galloped away on Dobbin half the evening. There were some little "teenty, weenty" babes, too, and the men seemed to admire them as much or more, than they did the wild flowers.

There were flower girls that just coined money! "Only 15 cents a dozen," they would plead for their wares. And as for ice cream and lemonade and candy—why, the supplies ran low early—very early in the evening.

A four days' flower festival means more work for the busy women tomorrow, but the fresh flowers will all be in place when the doors are open at 1 o'clock, and every day there will be new attractions, striking new floral features.

This evening babies of all colors, as well as posies!

BARBEE HOOK'S VICTIM DIES.

SURGEONS FAIL TO SAVE MISS MARGARET BIRTWISTLE.

Young Woman Who Was Hurled Hundred Feet by Automobile of Rich Man's Son, Could Not Survive Shock—Criminal Complaint May Follow the Inquest.

Margaret Birtwistle, the victim of Barbee Hook's automobile Sunday afternoon in the accident at Downey avenue and Avenue 20, died at 11 o'clock last night at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

That the young woman survived so long was due simply to her wonderful vitality. The surgeons who performed the operation of trephining had small hopes that she would recover, but they determined to leave nothing undone. From a surgical point of view the operation was successful, but the concussion and shock could not be overcome.

When notified late last night of Miss Birtwistle's death Coroner Trout stated that an inquest will be held Thursday, at which time he will make a searching investigation to fix the blame for the young woman's death.

Hook and Rife, the two young men who were in the automobile which struck and hurled Miss Birtwistle a distance of 100 feet, refused to give the names of their young women companions, but this information will be brought out at the inquest, for their attendance as witnesses will be enforced.

The District Attorney's attention will be called to the matter, and criminal complaint against young Hook may follow.

The competition of inferior goods in which quality has been sacrificed to cheapness is the most serious menace to the future of a high-grade product, unless the consumer is taught to distinguish between them.

When goods can be asked for by name, with the knowledge that the name guarantees the quality, the selling problem is not merely facilitated, it is practically solved.

Advertising will create a predisposition in your favor or it will break down a prejudice.

The consumer's demand will make you independent of onerous trade conditions, will decrease your cost of selling and, by increasing your volume of business, will logically decrease your cost of production.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL at six dollars an agate line sounds high, but a circulation of a million sounds higher, and the quality of that circulation is higher still.

WAS A "PERFECT GENTLEMAN."

AND NEEDED THINGS "PERFECT GENTLEMEN" MUST HAVE.

So He Took Them, and Now the Police are Earnestly Petitioned to Take Him—Short Tale of a Smooth Tongue and a Trunk That Never Came.

That gentlemanly-appearing, suave and smooth-tongued "room-worker," who has been plying his vocation for several weeks in Los Angeles, bobbed up again yesterday afternoon and fleeced another man.

J. O. Lushington of No. 926 South Hill street was the victim.

Yesterday afternoon a stranger appeared at the Lushington home and asked for a room, saying he preferred to be with a quiet family. He was accommodated after he had talked in a plausible way about his connections and expectations.

"My trunks will be sent up in a short time," he said after using the telephone a few minutes. Members of the household were satisfied because they thought a "perfect gentleman" was to occupy a room in their house.

Other matters demanded attention a few moments later, and Lushington turned his back on the new roomer. The hours flew by and no trunks arrived. Then Lushington went to look for his guest—only to find he had flown, taking with him two valuable rings, a watch and chain and a small amount of change. The "worker" had ransacked nearly every room in the house.

The police were given a good description of the fellow, but he had secured a fine start before the case was reported.

PRETTY HARD LUCK.

North Grand Avenue People Discover Sad Case of Destitution in Their Midst.

The hearts of people on North Grand Avenue have been touched by a case of destitution discovered in that neighborhood a day or two ago.

In a small, dark house, No. 239 North Grand, a family of father, mother and three children—a boy of 11, a girl of 3 and a babe—were found in distressing circumstances. The father is O. Manuelien, a Polish tailor. He is ill of pneumonia, and has been on his back the last twelve weeks. The family came here from New York several months ago with $500, Manuelien meaning to set himself up in his trade. Sickness, the birth of the babe and other heavy expenses, drained them to their last dollar, and when found a day or two ago by neighbors there was nothing in the house to eat and the children had not been fed for two days.

The Associated Charities has taken an interest in the case and is supplying the family with food. Kind-hearted people have brought a doctor, an in little ways their sad plight has been bettered.

The doctor says Manuelien must have purer air, if he is to regain his health and reassume the care of those dependent upon him. So a lot in the foothills near Pasadena has been donated, and some pieces of furniture. There are now needed a tent, small stove, clothing for the boy, and a little money for moving and to pay back rent. Persons desiring to lend help may communicate with Mrs. I. Williams Dennison, No. 521 Court street.

LASH'S KIDNEY & LIVER BITTERS
A PLEASANT LAXATIVE
NOT INTOXICATING

LOVED HIM "TO DETH" BUT SHE NEVER CAME.

VA. DARLING was tired of being a poor lone bachelor and was anxious to marry a young and pretty wife. Along came Fred Harriman, who was able to work a scheme whereby he obtained $20 on the promise that he would introduce to the lovesick swain the woman his heart so much desired.

Several months ago Harriman and Darling were employed at the Ontario Packing Company at No. 508 Molino street, and it was while the men were drying fruit that the scheme was concocted.

Harriman was careful to shield himself from the law by giving his note for the money payable at the end of six months.

In order to insure the success of his trickery, Harriman wrote dozens of letters and perhaps duped dozens of other victims by his peculiar proposition.

The story would never have leaked out had not Darling suspected the trickery and attempted to force the collection of the note which was found yesterday at the Becker Law and Collection Agency in the Lankershim Building.

With the note were several of the letters received by Darling, who waited in vain for the beautiful wife who never came. The first letter purported to come from a man named E. P. Hunt of Chicago and went on to state that he had found a wife for Darling.

"Fred Harriman has written me about your case," wrote Hunt, "and I have the handsomest girl in the world for you. She is worth $100,000, and has 400 acres of fine land in New York. She is 20 years old and weighs 120 pounds. She has kind blue eyes, rich brown hair and pretty red cheeks and lips. She is an American girl and her name is Mabie Montgomery."

A picture of the winsome female was inclosed in the letter which went on to state that the young lady would write immediately to her inamorato. The letter closed with this condition, "Miss Montgomery asks only for you to love her. She will love you. She wants a good man. So if you will promise to be kind to her she will be happy. This girl is a Christian and is very religious."

Darling agreed to all these conditions and waited in a fever of anticipation for the letter from his lady love.

When the letter came the highest expectations of the lover were realized. It read:

"NEW YORK CITY

"Dearest husband:—

"I am very anxious to see you. We will live very happy.

"I am glad you live in Los Angeles for I want to see the city.

"Well Dear I have got money to burn, all we will Ever Kneed. We will make a trip to Europe next summer.

"I am going to treat you as fine as I can and love you to Deth.

"Well my dear good husband I am so Happy that I am almost Crasy. I am Having a one Hundred Dollar Dress made.

"You will learn to love me won't you sweetheart?

"Well Dear I am very busy getting ready for the trip. So good By

"for Ever
"your Wife

MABLE MONTGOMERY."

Darling was delighted. He answered this letter and waited for his lady love.

Weeks passed away and the girl never came and the ardent lover began to grow suspicious.

He looked again at the letters he had read so often and found to his dismay that while the inside of each letter was dated New York City the envelope in each case contained a Los Angeles postmark without the stamp of the New York Office.

Darling was angry all over and swore that he would have revenge upon the man who had fooled him so cruelly. He set out on a still hunt for Harriman, but the fellow had evidently scented trouble and had left for parts unknown.

At the Ontario Packing Company yesterday afternoon, foreman Clarence Caldwell said: "Harriman is no friend of mine. He worked here I believe for the sole purpose of carrying out his dirty scheme. It did not take the fellows here very long to find him out. His work was pretty coarse and I am surprised that Darling was fooled."

"About five years ago the Caledonian Coal Company of Gallup, N. M., which had been supplying the Santa Fé with a part of its coal supply, entered into a combination with other mine owners at that point to advance the price of coal to the Santa Fé company from $1.35 to $1.50 per ton, and actually forced us to pay the latter price for a time.

"We suggested to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company that it open mines at Gallup and promised our patronage in consideration of a continuance of the old price, viz., $1.35.

"Of course this injured the Caledonian company and it has been seeking to get even ever since. In pursuit of this object it found a loophole in the Santa Fé armor, in the fact that an error had been made by some of the latter's subordinates in the improper or rather the careless publication of certain tariffs, and, having brought the lapse to the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission, that body ordered an investigation and found the company guilty of discrimination.

"It, however, attributes an entirely wrong motive for what was an entirely unintentional error, and this was seized on by certain enemies of the President in criticism of his Secretary of the Navy, who had been an officer of the Santa Fé company.

"The case is unimportant, and would never have been heard of had it not been for the political prominence of Mr. Morton, and the desire of the Interstate Commerce Commissoin to demonstrate the necessity of granting it more power by attempting to show that great abuses exist in transportation business."

ARROWHEAD SYMBOL.

SALT LAKE'S HAPPY HIT.

T. C. Peck, assistant general passenger agent of the Salt Lake Line, is preparing an artistic pamphlet for early distribution throughout the country, describing in picture and story of San Bernardino Mountain arrowhead that has been selected as the symbol of the new line, and which will appear on all its folders and literature.

The ancient landmark on the mountain side is described as being 1375 feet in length and 449 feet wide at its greatest breadth. It covers seven and one-half acres, and the interesting descriptive matter in the pamphlet says it is formed of disintegrated white quartz and light gray granite, supporting a growth of short white sage. The lines of the arrowhead are brought into greater prominence by the growth of dark green chaparral that surrounds it. The origin of the arrowhead is explained by the supposition that it was caused by a mountain cloudburst.

The pamphlet contains seven legends of the landmark, beginning with the vision of Brigham Young, who directed a band of Mormons to go over the trail the Salt Lake line now follows until they should find the sign. At its foot he is said to have told them they would find a rich and fertile valley. It is related that the travelers nearly perished in their quest, and that an "angel appeared to them, and led from the Mojave Desert through El Cajon Pass to the spot, where they remained until 1857.

Among the other legends chronicled is that of the Coahuia Indians, who were directed by the "god of peace" to a "flaming arrow" on the mounatins.

Peck's creation is an interesting addition to the descriptions of the trademarks that are in vogue with the principal railroads of the country.

TREE DAY FRIDAY.

Patriotic and Other Civic Bodies Will Join in the Celebration at Elysian Park.

A rousing meeting of the Arbor Day Association was held yesterday morning at the Chamber of Commerce, and attended by representatives from many patriotic organizations, as well as interested private individuals.

The original plan as it was arranged for the 17th inst. will be carried out in detail next Friday afternoon at Elysian Park. The procession composed of G. A.R. veterans, escorted by the National Guard; the Naval Militia; Woodmen of the World, and the women's circles connected with this order; as well as other bodies, will start from the Fremont Gate at 1:30 o'clock, under the direction of Maj. Truman Cola.

The tallyhos to convey people to the top of the hill will begin their trips at 12:30 o'clock, and the ladies having the Arbor Day badges in charge declare that the badge wearers will have the best chance to ride to the scene of action.

The exercises on Prospect Point will begin at 2:30 o'clock. J. A. Haskett, president of the Arbor Day Association, will make the introductory remarks. Dr. Lamb of the Park Commission will speak, and Will A. Harris will deliver an address. Abbot Kinney and Dr. Lamb will have charge of the tree planting, assisted by Park Superintendent Morley.

Music will be furnished by the Blanchard-Schoneman band, and patriotic selections will be sung by a chorus of High School pupils, conducted by Mrs. Gertrude Parsons.

All the organizations mentioned in The Times several days ago have arranged to plant trees. In addition to these, Charles F. Lummis has signified his intention of planting a sequoia for the Sequoia League, and Mrs. James A. Garfield will send an oak tree to be planted in memory of her martyred husband.

RIVAL 'PHONES GIVE UP.

Stockholders of Independent Companies Tire of Assessment and Sheriff Steps In.

That rival telephone lines in different parts of the country are not meeting with the success their promoters anticipated is indicated by reports of their snuffing out in various places. Among those reported as having given up the ghost recently are exchanges in Tulare county, and at Atlanta, Ga.

"Unable to meet its obligations," says the Fresno Evening Democrat of March 18, "the Tulare Company's property was sold for $1550 by the Sheriff Friday noon at Tulare, judgment having been rendered last week for $835.72 in favor of D. B. Moore, a director of the Bank of Tulare, to whom the claim was assigned by the bank.

"The company has been operating for about four years independent telephone exchanges at Tulare, Visalia, Woodville, Lindsay, and Exeter; also about 120 miles of telephone lines connecting towns and farming communities throughout Tulare county. It is understood that failure is due to the fact that many of the local stockholders refused to pay any more assessments, because of the uncertainty of success, and having recently paid a 30 per cent. assessment levied to pay urgent claims then due. No dividend has ever been paid and the venture has been a losing one from the start, being handicapped by the Sunset Company, which operates a telephone system throughout the county, as well as the State."

The Atlanta (Ga.) Journal of March 8 says:

"The Augusta Telephone Exchange, organized about five years ago to compete with the Southern Bell Company and operating the Strowger Automatic system, was sold before the courthouse door yesterday and was bid in by L. C. Hayne for the sum of $15,000. The sum realized after paying costs, will pay less than fifty cents on the dollar on the bonds, and the large list of unsecured creditors and stockholders will get nothing. The plant cost more than $100,000. It is rumored that the property was bid in for the Southern Bell Telephone Company."

PUSHING DEVELOPMENT.

Union Company Active in Santa Barbara County—Northern Oil Stocks Going Lively.

Development is being pushed on the Santa Barbara-county properties of the Union Oil Company at Lompoc and Santa Maria. The pipe line is in operation and twelve strings of tools are running. This district is at present the scene of the Union's greatest activity, little or no development being in progress on its lands elsewhere. None has been done at Kern River for a long time and no effort is being made to extend operations at Coalinga. In the Ventura-county districts no drilling is being done.

NORTHERN OIL DEALS.

There has been considerable activity the past few weeks in northern oil stocks on the San Francisco exchange. As usual Coalingas are generally the most eagerly sought for. It is probable that the assurance of a pipe line to tidewater has much to do with this. The fact that the Coalinga fuel can be piped as well as the refining product will give it an enormous advantage over Kern in the San Francisco market if the amount produced becomes sufficient to approximate the demand. The cost of piping is but an insignificant fraction of the 44 cents per barrel railroad freight, and the northern metropolis may get a reduction in fuel rates before long as great as Los Angeles, despite its much greater distance from the source of supply.

Florencita Park

Our present price list is only preliminary.

"The Most Exclusive and Desirable Suburban Residence District in the Entire Southwest."

We reserve the right to withdraw price list without notice.

Visit This Beautiful Park Today and Choose Your Lot Before The Sale Begins.

OPENING DAY MONDAY, APRIL THIRD

A Wealth of Admirable Features

Florencita, the beautiful new residential Park, is charmingly and conveniently located, just 12 minutes from the shopping center of Los Angeles on the rapid transit Long Beach Line.

It compares favorably with the Nevin Tract or "Westmoreland" in Los Angeles. Florencita has three majestic mission entrances, and a massive but artistically designed waiting station. An original rustic fence made of two kinds of fruit trees bounds the Park on the North side.

THREE THOUSAND bearing fruit trees are growing in the Park. It has an independent water supply—1,600,000 gallons per day of purest underground water. Well is 600 feet deep—400 feet through clay—absolutely no surface water.

A perfect system of fire protection—fireman—hose reel, etc. Two fire plugs in each block.

Warm sandy loam soil in highest state of cultivation—broad cement curbed boulevards with five foot cement walks.

Today Is Your Chance

It will be worth your while to investigate Florencita Park before the opening day. You will thus have the advantage of selecting your favorite location before the big opening sale, immediately after which prices will be strongly advanced.

Building to Begin at Once

Plans are now being prepared for several beautiful residences to be erected at once. Maps and all information relative to Florencita can be had upon application at our office.

"Not a Tract"

Remember Florencita is not to be confused with the ordinary suburb or "tract." It is a residence park of the highest type, embracing beautiful and attractive features to the critical home seeker. The idea of exclusion and privacy will prevail strongly throughout the Park, and herein lies the great opportunity for investment. Even the property adjacent to the Park has been bought up by the owner. Florencita will be a "park of protected homes" in every sense of this phrase.

Building Restrictions $1000 to $2500. Lots $425 Up, 1-4 Cash, Bal. in 6, 12 and 18 Months.

JAMMED BY ELEVATOR.

Machinery in New Bank Moved Slowly but It Moved Mighty Strong, Breaking Janitor's Leg.

J. C. Johnstone, janitor for the new bank building of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, after an experience of just two days, had his first scrap with the sidewalk elevator and came out second best. He was in the basement, and wishing to open the doors in the sidewalk, jumped on the elevator and started up, intending to raise the doors with his hands above his head. He found the bolt fastened and in his excited and futile efforts to move it, lost control of the elevator, which, though it moves slow, means business. Before Johnstone knew just what was happening to him he was rammed up against the iron doors like a wad of greasy waste. He yelled frantically for help, and as quick as his cries were heard several painters ran to his rescue, but when the doors were opened it was found that the unfortunate man had suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and was badly bruised all over his body, though it is thought that he is not internally injured.

MAKES THINGS GROW.

Fine Weather for Agriculturists of Southern California Told in Crop Bulletin.

A week of "fine growing weather" is reported in the climate and crop service bulletin of the United States Weather Bureau for Southern California.

Reports continue to indicate unusually favorable conditions for nearly all crops, and the outlook is considered excellent for grain and fruit unless the latter should be injured by frost. Nearly a week's cessation from rain was very welcome, as it afforded opportunity for work before impracticable. Citrus and deciduous fruits are reported to be blooming heavily in localities and young grape vines are further advanced than usual. The present week will nearly clean up navels in some sections. Very favorable reports are received concerning the yield and quality of lemons.

About Los Angeles the ground has not dried appreciably since the rain. With more sunshine the weather will be most favorable for a rapid growth of all crops. At Azusa it is reported that "all conditions are favorable to agricultural interests."

About Redlands vegetation of all kinds is making a rapid growth and prospects for a fruitful season are declared excellent.

In the vicinity of Orange apricots and some plums are in full bloom and a rain now would damage them.

PORTLAND MINING SUIT.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) March 28.—Victor Hills, a mining engineer of Colorado Springs, was on the stand today in the Portland Mining suit. He gave evidence as to his surveying all the disputed claims, being employed to do so by James F. and Thomas F. Burns. The witness said he got his pay from these men and that in all his frequent visits to the claims he never heard Boyle speak of owning an interest in them. This was a victory for the defense, as that portion of the evidence was ruled out at the previous trial. For testimony in this suit, Hills testified that he received $100 per day as a mining expert.

The Savin Ice Pad

This little device called the Savin Ice Pad is guaranteed to save 15 to 33 1-3 per cent. of your ice bill. The pad is an ingenious little affair; all you do is to place it on the bottom of the ice chamber with the ice resting upon it, and it will do the rest. By its scientific construction it prevents the melting of the ice, consequently saving the cost to you. It is entirely odorless and does not retain the odor of viands placed within the refrigerator. These can be used with any refrigerator, large or small. Come in and let us show you how this little ice saver works.

FOR SALE— SUNNYSIDE PARK. EARLY ANNOUNCEMENT.

I wish to inform my friends who were not able to secure lots in Sunnyside Park, owing to the enormous demand, that I have, in course of preparation and will shortly offer for sale, in one-half and one-quarter-acre lots, 80 acres adjoining Sunnyside Park on the north.

The tract fronts on Figueroa, Hoover sts. and Vermont ave. The land is a rich garden loam, and has good drainage, which was well demonstrated during the recent rains.

The tract will be supplied with pure artesian water, under pressure, through 4 and 6-inch mains, in sufficient quantities for all uses, and will be improved with wide cement walks and curbs.

The avenues will be graded and oiled and lined with palms and trees.

The lots are covered with a luxuriant growth of alfalfa and grape vines.

The San Pedro electric line passes by the property, also the Redondo electric line (Gardena branch), furnishing excellent and quick transportation.

The lots will be one-half and one-quarter acres in size, and the prices will range from $300 up, including all improvements.

RESERVATIONS MAY BE MADE NOW.

I would advise an early selection, as the lots will be sold before the improvements are completed.

FOR SALE— FREE CAR FARE. SIX MONTHS' CAR FARE FREE.

In order to encourage the building of homes along the Long Beach Electric Line, the best line in the world, I am authorized to offer free car fare for six months to the purchasers of lots in the BOSHARD TRACT.

This tract is only 12 minutes' ride from Sixth and Main sts.; 1½ miles south of the city limits.

Compton avenue, one of the principal streets in the city, forms the western, and Shorb avenue the northern boundary of the tract.

The soil is the very richest to be found around Los Angeles and adapted to the culture of asparagus, celery and other vegetables, fruits and berries. Ideal for poultry.

CEMENT WALKS.

The lots are about one-fourth acre in size and are improved with cement walks.

PURE WATER.

Pure artesian water is piped under pressure to the lots, abundant for all needs, at much lower cost than city water. Pure water means perfect health. Supply your family with pure water and avoid doctor bills.

The money you save in car fare, rent and taxes will pay for your lot.

THESE LARGE VILLA LOTS ARE ONLY

THE MACHINERY OF RUSSIAN BUREAUCRACY AND HOW IT WORKS.

The Russian bureaucratic organization is an exceedingly complicated affair. I do not believe there is a man living who could either enumerate all its various institutions, permanent and temporary, or state definitely where, how and when a certain case will be disposed of finally. There are practically numberless cases on record, dragging on from year to year and from one institution to another, for a quarter or even half a century without any hope of settlement except through the death of participants. I myself am involved in such a case started by my late father when I was only four years old, and which still hangs fire. I know of others that for scores of years, have been the subjects of quarrels between various institutions, disagreeing as to which has the jurisdiction, and so not advancing a particle during all that time. There is no system, no proper order of precedence—favoritism or bribery of some kind have more influence than all the rules and regulations of law. Besides, the law itself can be applied directly but very seldom, if ever—it is constantly changed, according to the special requirements of certain cases, by the will of single persons—usually ministers, sometimes governor-generals and even mere Governors of provinces. Thus, all the great reforms of Emperor Alexander II—the emancipation of the slaves, the judiciary, the semstvos, the military—have been so altered and mutilated by following circulars of various ministers, as to be entirely unrecognizable today, only mere shadows of their former selves. There exists a special lawmaking institution, considered the highest institution of the empire, the Council of the State—Gosudarstvenni Sovet—whose decrees require only the confirmation of the Czar to become fundamental laws—and that Council is constantly at work—but practice and the requirements of bureaucracy make its work subject to changes by the ministers, and that fact is at the bottom of every evil in Russia. The Council of State consists of four departments, in all about fifty members, appointed personally by the Czar from the highest officials—usually retired ministers, their assistants, governor-generals, and so forth. The members are appointed for life, the president yearly, as is also the apportioning of members between different departments, by a personal ukase of the Emperor. Grand Duke Michael, the uncle of the Czar, now in exile, has been for many years the president. Then there is the governing senate, composed of about one hundred members, also appointed for life, and consisting of seven departments; two of these acting as the Supreme Court of the empire for criminal and civil cases; the others having the general supervision of the civil government of the empire. They send special commissions to inspect the government of the interior, they decide as to the guilt of officials, they look into controversies between the various branches of the general government, they supervise the elections of semstvos and city municipalities, and settle their disputes with the administration. The Council of State and the Senate are very slow in their deliberations and decisions; cases wait for years. Everything is subject to endless red tape and the methods employed are purely bureaucratic and secret. Both institutions have for a long time, lacked their former significance and influence, and today are nothing but shelving places for retired statesmen. The Senate was established by Peter the Great, the council by Alexander I, while still a youth, when it was considered a nucleus for a future constitutional legislative body; but Nicholas I altered its original intention and adopted for all important state affairs the system of appointing special councils to suit each case. In the course of time these special councils, usually composed of the favorites of the moment, developed into the present grand ducal cabal, which together with the leading women of the imperial family, ruled Russia during the latter part of the reign of Alexander II., during the whole of Alexander III's, and especially during the present reign. A few statesmen—from three to six, according to the case—are invited to these councils, usually from among the ministers—but the preponderance of votes and influence belongs to the grand dukes. By appointing in each case the members of such special councils, the Czar can always tell beforehand what their decisions will be; there can be no free expression of opinion, no real opposition, and liberal Russia has no faith either in the Council of State and Senate, or in the special councils.

The church is presumably ruled by the Holy Synod, composed of from five to seven members and appointed from among the highest black clergy—Metropolitans and Archbishops—for short periods, not exceeding, as a rule, one or two years. The real power in the synod is its Procurator General, a civil official appointed by the Czar—for the last quarter of a century or more K. P. Pobiedonostseff, who is considered the evil genius of autocracy and the Russian people equally. Russia has ministers, but no cabinet in the western sense of the word. The ministers comprise two bodies—a council of ministers, and a committee of ministers, the latter presided over at present by S. Witte—but both these bodies have only a special, very limited, scope of action. The general policy of the State is not discussed in either of them, so Witte cannot be considered as a premier in the French or English sense. There are ten ministers of the Imperial Court, of Foreign Affairs, Finance, Interior, War, Navy, Justice, Public Education, of Agriculture and State Domain and of Public Highways. There are, besides, two departments—of State Control and of Udels—which are as independent as ministries, although their chiefs are not called ministers. Including the Procurator General, who occupies the same position, there are thirteen independent heads of various branches of State government, who are called together in different groups at various times; thus all literary and press affairs are subject to a committee of four of them; the Ministers of Justice, Interior and Public Education and the Procurator General, who a body can adopt any measures see fit against the press, regardless the existing laws. As a single lster can alter or suspend any law his sphere by a simple circular to subordinates, so such a body of can alter or suspend any law in certain phase of national life, instance the press, tariffs, even fundamental organization of a province. There are committees on affairs of the Caucasus as a whole, Middle Asia, of Poland, of Finland. Notwithstanding the existence of a vast general opportunities to evade laws, autocracy has invented still more disabilities for its administration. There are several, at least four, of martial law, which are constantly applied to various sections of the country. Only very few rural sections, on "peace footing"—the capitals, white university cities, all the seats of Poland, the Caucasus, of late Finland are kept within the different districts of martial law, which gives the local authorities, such as Chiefs of police in cities or Governors of provinces, practically autocratic rights. They can call out troops, shot and hang at will, if they consider it necessary for the preservation of public order. During the last quarter of a century every year has had its quota of atrocious murders of unarmed people—only last month the Governor of a province was scared and misjudged the situation. MINES AND MINING.

EXPERTS DIDN'T KNOW LIDA.

RICH GOLD FIND IN A LOS ANGELES COUNTY MINE.

Over Half Million Dollars Already Taken Out of Property Condemned by Ore Sharps at the Beginning. Railroad Projected from Needles to the Arizona Mines.

The bonanza strike in the Lida gold mine five miles west of Rosamond in northern Los Angeles County, owned by E. M. Hamilton of this city, was made a few days ago on the 125 foot level. For several months this part of the mine had been abandoned and prospecting was only recently resumed when an eight-foot body of pay ore running about $30 a ton was opened up. The walls are eight feet apart and there is a two foot stratum of ore on the foot assaying $120.

The chute where the strike was made is on the east side of what is known as the working tunnel and 230 feet from shaft No. 1. Heretofore the richest ore has been taken from the west side of this latter shaft. Preparations have been made to move the ten stamp mill from its present location a mile from the mine to the mouth of the tunnel.

On Hamilton's adjoining claim, the Lida No. 1, where an incline shaft is being sunk, a sixteen-inch vein at eighty-five feet assaying $415 has been opened. It is the intention to sink the shaft to water level and then cross-cut until the Lida's three veins are reached. When completed this will be the working shaft for the two properties.

Since his first strike five years ago Hamilton has taken over half a million dollars from the mine, although it had been strongly condemned by several experts.

A NEW RAILROAD.

The Needles Eye says that within a few months a new railroad will be built into the mining districts of northern Mohave county, Arizona, with its southern terminal at Needles. The line will run from Mellen north through the valley of the Colorado river into the territory now reached by the Mohave & Milltown narrow gauge road.

By the construction of this line simultaneously with the building of the Ibex, Searchlight & Northern Railroad, Needles should become a center for the growing districts both of Southeastern Nevada and Northwestern Arizona and the reopening, after many improvements, of the smelter at that point should make it a most mining point. It is likely that the taking over of the smelter by Pennsylvania capitalists just carried into effect was prompted by the contemplated building of these lines.

REOPENING PROPERTIES.

The Miller & Holmes properties on Silver Creek in the San Francisco district of Mohave County have been taken over by a new combination of capitalists and are to be reopened and worked after lying idle for several years. Two new hoists are to be installed at once and an order has been placed for mine rails and other supplies. The mines, from past yields, are known to be excellent producers.

GREAT BULLION OUTPUT.

The famous Gold Roads mine is now said to have an output of $100,000 a month in gold bullion. It is opened to the 600 foot level, with a very large force at work and a fifteen-foot vein of rich ore and enough blocked out for years to come.

The Blue Ridge Mining Company, whose property is situated midway between Vivian and Gold Roads, has just completed a ten-stamp mill. Its mine has been opened to a depth of 200 feet with 400 feet of drifts showing a rich vein twelve feet wide.

TIN IN MEXICO.

A report comes from Guadalajara, Mexico, that deposits of tin of sufficient extent to be profitably operated, have been located in the State of Aguas Callentes, about forty miles from the city of that name. The lands where the tin has been known to exist for a number of years have been located by W. A. Pratt, an assayer of Aguas Calientes, Carlos Petkich, Henry Foster and Harris Moram. The fact that no tin deposits of any extent have been worked in this country, although believed to exist in Southern California, adds much interest to this report. If successfully mined in Mexico it is probable that it can be imported cheaper from the southern republic than from Europe and Asia.

OPERATIONS IN SONORA.

A number of Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Francisco people are reported to be interested in the Sonora-Bonanza Mining Company operating near Cananea where it is said to have a good property. A shaft is reported to be down 200 feet with good values all through, especially in gold. Large quantities of wufenite are also reported to have been found.

The mining men of Sonora are to send a petition to the mining department at Mexico asking for the establishment of a mining agency at Cananea as a branch of the office at Arispe which is distant seventy-five miles from Cananea. The latter is right in the center of the region where most of the present operations are going on. The railroad communication is by way of Nogales and Fairbanks. The office was established at Arispe when it was by far the largest and most important town in the district and before Cananea attained its great prominence in mining.

Niagara Falls and the Hudson.

All tickets by the NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES allow stop-over at Niagara Falls, and several of the trains daily by these lines stop for five minutes directly opposite the great cataract. The ride through the Mohawk Valley and down along the Hudson River affords a succession of scenes unequaled in beauty and historical interest. Sunbrights in Chicago.

A. M. Schenck, Superintendent of the Chicago Nursery and Half Orphan Asylum, writes to the Sunbright's California Food Company, saying: "Will you send us another case of Sunbright's? Our babies have improved wonderfully since commencing with your food. We now wish to use it continuously."

Goldfield Nevada

Vaults of Gold

Six months ago, GOLDFIELD, NEVADA, was a desert. Today it has a population of some 8,000 to 10,000 people.

Over four million dollars of gold has been shipped of high-grade ore, and it is estimated that over ten million dollars of low-grade ore is now on the dumps, awaiting mills that are being built to handle this low-grade ore.

A few weeks ago, on Lease No. 5 of the celebrated SANDSTORM the lessees began sinking a shaft. They are down forty feet, and have taken out fully $300,000 in GOLD above expenses.

Goldfield, Nevada

is the greatest gold mining camp ever discovered, perhaps in the world. Many a poor man becomes rich, as if by magic. Seemingly, it is pay ore from the grass roots.

Mining ventures are always hazardous, but the hazard seems to be less in Goldfield than in any other camp that has ever yet been discovered.

We have no cheap stocks for sale, but we are handling some high-grade, desirable Goldfield Nevada, mining stocks that today can be bought from 40 to 50 per cent. of their face value, and which are liable within sixty or ninety days to be worth many times more than their face value. At, least, this is the history of other similarly located properties.

Do you want to get in?

Do you want to invest a few dollars in Goldfield Mining Stocks?

Do you want to buy a claim and organize a company for yourself?

We are making a specialty of high-grade legitimate mining properties in this truly remarkable mining camp of GOLDFIELD, NEVADA.

House Work

Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration of the womb and ovaries cause fearful bearing down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism, has cured more than one million American Women, and it will cure you. When monthly periods are painful or irregular, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It Gave Me New Life and Vigor

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last spring, while we were moving, I did considerable more work than my strength permitted, and, having mental trouble at the same time, my health broke down completely and I found myself unable to rest or eat. My nervous system became shattered and I was pale and emaciated and had to take to my bed.

My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, although I had no faith in patent medicines, I was so miserable that I would take anything for relief. I found that it made a complete change for the better, inducing appetite and restful sleep and imparting new life and vigor to my entire system.

I gained nearly fourteen pounds, my complexion looked fresh and clear, and my best friends were surprised and pleased at the change and could hardly credit the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had accomplished it.

NINE NATIONS

Now Use Liquozone. Won't You Try It—Free?

Millions of people, of nine different nations are constant users of Liquozone. Some are using it to get well, some to keep well. Some to cure germ diseases, some as a tonic. No medicine was ever so widely employed. These users are everywhere; your neighbors and friends are among them. And half the people you meet—wherever you are—know someone whom Liquozone has cured.

If you need help, please ask some of these users what Liquozone does. Don't blindly take medicine for what medicine cannot do. Drugs never kill germs. For your own sake ask about Liquozone; then let us buy you a full size bottle to try.

We Paid $100,000

for the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of difficult cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a perve and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

Germ Diseases

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill the germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

I have been treated by Dr. Schiffman for years. I have tried all his different methods, and can say unhesitatingly no dentist or physician has ever operated with such success or skill. In extracting my teeth he did it without any pain to me. It is a great pleasure to me to recommend him and his method of treatment.
MILO M. POTTER,
Prop. Van Nuys Hotel, L. A., and Hotel Potter, Santa Barbara.

Ten years ago a reputable dentist of Virginia told me that a certain molar tooth could not be satisfactorily saved, and that it would probably not be of service for one year. It has served me for ten years, as Dr. Schiffman saved and crowned it, and comparatively speaking, without pain. I sing his praise.
OWEN M. ANDREWS,
Pastor M. E. Church, South, Cor. 8th and Mateo sts.

On account of some unfortunate experience I had in the extraction of my teeth, I became a great coward in this respect. Today Dr. Schiffman extracted one of my very refractory teeth without causing me one particle of pain.
D. K. TRASK,
Judge Superior Court, Los Angeles.

It gives me great pleasure to state that Dr. Schiffman extracted an impacted wisdom tooth for me, which had been giving me great annoyance for years. It was extracted absolutely without a particle of pain to me. It was easily worth 100 times the amount paid.
ROBERT MARSH,
Of Robert Marsh & Co., 302-303 H. W. Hellman Bldg.

It is with great pleasure that I state that I have had several teeth filled by Dr. Schiffman and that he filled and extracted the nerve and filled the root of one of my teeth and put on a porcelain crown, which cannot be distinguished from a natural tooth, all of which was done without pain.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Hays Case Today.

The criminal case against "Tom" Hays will come to trial at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the Federal Court.

Business Science.

Prof. Sheldon will give a free lecture at No. 345 South Spring street, Steinway Hall, tonight on the "Science of Modern Business."

Canvass is Postponed.

The Board of Education met yesterday to make the official canvass of the votes on the recent school bond election, but as some of the returns lacked completeness the canvass was deferred until next Saturday afternoon.

Grand Avenue Sale.

W. E. McVay has sold to D. C. Lane, through the agency of Wright & Callender, 50x157 feet, to an alley, on the west side of Grand Avenue, about midway between ninth and tenth streets, with a frame cottage of small value, compared with the ground; consideration named, $14,500.

Lenten Services.

The mid-day services, held during Lent at 12:05 each noon at the Stock Exchange, in the Chamber of Commerce building, are proving very interesting. This evening the several Episcopal churches of the city will hold a union meeting at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, to be addressed by that distinguished prelate, Bishop Johnson.

Burned by Explosion.

Sam Welliver, a stationary engineer employed at the Belle-Vernon Farms Company, No. 315 East Eighth street, was seriously burned by an explosion of crude oil at 8 o'clock last night. Welliver was at work on the furnace at the dairy of the company, when the explosion occurred. The furnace was wrecked. Welliver was burned about the face, neck and hands. He was sent to the Receiving Hospital.

Died in England.

William Shinton of No. 430 South St. Louis street, Boyle Heights, is apprised of the death at Leamington, Eng., of his youngest sister. She was the wife of William Clark, known to Methodists for his active support of missions and for his versification of Bible texts. He has been in the kingdom's postal service, where he holds a high position, these many years, and has refused the ease of pensioned retirement.

Brewery Loses.

Francis Kern has sold the "fixins" and good will of his saloon on East Fifth street to the Los Angeles Brewing Company for $5000. President Kuenrich thought that he had bought a site for a saloon as well, but the Police Commission yesterday revoked the transfer to the location which Kern sold along with his "fixins" and—no not his license—the brewery doesn't deal in licenses, only in equipment and "good will." The building at the address for which Kern's license is issued has been wrecked to make way for a business block, and the brewery has only a license and trimmings, not even a location.

Sickening Accident.

A sickening accident occurred at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the corner of Thirty-ninth street and McClintock avenue, when a University car of the Los Angeles Railway Company, north bound, struck and killed a fine driving horse belonging to the firm of George Williams & Co. The car struck the horse in the shoulder with such force that the shafts were broken short off and the animal was thrown forty feet ahead of the car and against a telephone pole. After being struck, the beast ran frantically along the avenue to Thirty-eighth street, then, whirling around, it dashed back to the demolished wagon where it stood for a moment and then dropped dead.

They Got Four Dollars.

W. C. Holland, a driver for ex-Mayor Snyder's rubbish company, encountered two stick-up men on Alpine near Buena Vista street at 8 o'clock last night. Holland, who lives at No. 326 East Fourth street, was homeward bound when he ran directly into the arms of the footpads who were standing in a dark place on the sidewalk. The men had revolvers which they used as persuaders. Holland held his hands high in air when gruffly ordered to do so, and allowed the robbers to relieve his pockets of $4 and a cheap watch. The hold-up men appeared to be Mexicans as well as Holland could determine. The affair was reported to the police.

That Child Actress.

Victoria Smith, a young Spanish-American girl, nearly 16 years of age, appeared at the City Attorney's office yesterday morning to consult Assistant City Attorney Goudge upon her legal ability to accept theatrical engagements. She feared that Humane Officer Webb would attempt to prevent her from appearing on any stage, and stated that she was enabled, through her performances, to support her mother. In the past Miss Smith has appeared at the Cineograph Theater; Mr. Goudge told her that she should exercise great care in the selection of engagements, and stated to The Times yesterday afternoon that should she do this no attempt would be made by any officer to prevent her from earning her living in a legitimate theatrical way, as she is really of mature mind and body.

After Libard Seller.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals yesterday issued a card to the public through its president, Dr. W. A. Lamb, aimed at the peddler who has been on the streets for some time selling Florida lizards and calling them chameleons. It declares that the peddler has no license and that the city will not give him one, but there must be a mistake as to this, or he surely would not be permitted to pursue his hawking on the streets for weeks at a time. It is declared that the lizards slowly die from the day they are captured, and that the person who buys one as an ornament for his coat simply becomes a monument of torture to a suffering creature and soon carries only a corpse on his lapel.

Charges Not Sustained.

Oscar Nunnaley failed yesterday afternoon to sustain his charges of "pernicious activity," which he three weeks ago filed against Chief Deputy City Assessor A. B. Conrad, and the Civil Service Commission dismissed the case. Nunnaley said that he could sustain his charges if he could get his witnesses to attend. They had all been subpoenaed to appear, but only one was present. President Thomas said that there is no way to compel the attendance of witnesses at a trial of the civil-service board. Nunnaley gave his testimony, but it was mostly hearsay evidence. The commission will ask the Council to pass an ordinance fixing a penalty for failing to respond to a subpoena to appear before the board.

POSTPONED FOR ONE WEEK.

ALBANY (N. Y.) March 28.—Superintendent Hendricks, of the State Insurance Department, today postponed for one week the hearing on the protest of the so-called Crimmins Committee, representing many policy holders of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, against the plan for "mutualizing" that society adopted at the recent meeting of the directors. The postponement was decided in spite of a strong protest made by Thomas S. Pratt of Ogdensburg, representing policy holders of that city. The visiting delegation was a large one, including committees from all parts of the State. The proposed plan is the one said to be favored by James H. Hyde, holder of a majority of the stock of the company.

ALIENATION IS ALLEGED.

Fifty Thousand Dollar Suit Against T. B. Hicks.

Graham Says Hicks Stole His Wife's Affections.

Defendant Banker Calls It a Case of Blackmail.

A singular and startling suit at law was begun yesterday by a retired physician, Dr. E. B. Graham, who demands $50,000 of an elderly Los Angeles capitalist, accusing him of alienating the affections of Mrs. Graham, herself a woman well past middle age.

The suit has a melancholy interest because of the age and social position of all parties concerned.

The defendant, Thurman B. Hicks, is well known in heavy financial circles of this city; is a prominent Free Mason, having attained the thirty-third degree and now holding the position of deputy inspector for the State of Wyoming. He is past 60 and holds an honored position in this city.

Mrs. Graham, who will be the chief sufferer from these charges, is a woman of the highest culture and social position. She is one of the influential members of the Friday Morning Club and a well-known member of the Congregational Church, aged about 60 years.

Mr. Hicks does not hesitate to denounce the suit as blackmail attempted by Dr. Graham out of revenge against his wife, who would not deed to him certain property which she had been able to save out of the wreck of their fortunes and which is all she has. Mr. Hicks declares that he has not been other than a friend to Mrs. Graham.

Both Mrs. Graham and Mr. Hicks discuss the charges with frankness, only regretting that Mrs. Graham's name has to be dragged into notoriety. It is, of course, inevitable that the suit, once begun, should be known to the public.

THE COMPLAINT.

Dr. Graham's complaint charges that on September 15, 1904, Hicks "deprived him of the affection, comfort, fellowship, and society of his wife, Mittie H. Graham, maliciously enticing her away from plaintiff and has provided another residence for her; that Hicks used illegal persuasions, conversations, endearments, abductions and doings."

Wherefore he wants $50,000.

The Grahams and Mr. Hicks, who is a widower, have lived for six months in the same house at No. 1608 West Seventh street. Graham has now separated from his wife.

Dr. Graham claims that Mr. Hicks has weaned his wife away from him; that he influenced her to go against him in business affairs and in other matters; claims that Hicks has provided Mrs. Graham with carriages and other luxuries which he, himself, could not afford, gradually supplanting him in her regard until he felt himself crowded out and left home.

He has retained Jesse Waterman and Walpole Wood as attorneys.

Mrs. Graham was at home at No. 1608 West Seventh street yesterday; had heard of the suit which has been hanging over her head as a threat for some time. She would make no statement for publication, but said she had much to say at the proper time.

REVENGE, SAYS HICKS.

Mr. Hicks told the story of his relations with the Graham family. He was reluctant to have the story published, but was unwilling that the accusations should go to the public unanswered.

He states that the damage suit is a bitter and cruel slander, all the charges of which are without foundation in fact. He says that the suit has been threatened by Graham ever since he and Mrs. Graham separated, after a difficulty over vineyard property.

Mr. Hicks says he first met the Grahams in Wyoming, where Dr. Graham had dealings with a bank, of which Hicks was president. Graham, he says, got into financial hardship, and the bank helped him to the tune of $10,000, and lost the money.

Later Hicks moved to California, and so did the Grahams. Hicks says that Dr. Graham sought him out here; told him that he was again in financial straits, and wanted help. Hicks says that he came to his rescue again, as requested, and let him have several thousand dollars from first to last. Finally he shut his purse, and would not lend him any more money.

The Grahams had been living, until six months ago, in a flat at No. 2217 West Tenth street. It happened that they wanted to move at the same time that Hicks decided to change his place of abode. Mr. Hicks says that Graham wanted him to go into the same house with them to live—to take a house together.

At first, Hicks says, he was not inclined to do this, but finally yielded to Dr. Graham's desires; they rented the premises at No. 1608 West Seventh street, where Mrs. Graham, her mother, and Mr. Hicks still live, Graham having left.

The neighbors near the Tenth-street flat say that Dr. Graham and his wife did not get on very well; when they went to live in the Seventh-street house with Hicks, more inharmony developed.

THAT CUCAMONGA RANCH.

Dr. Graham, so Mr. Hicks says, wanted his wife to deed to him her ranch at Cucamonga, a vineyard which is said to be a fine piece of property. As it is all she has, Mrs. Graham did not do this. It was fruitful source of trouble. It was continually being talked over.

Graham was insistent and incessant. Mrs. Graham was firm. Finally it grew from arguments and pleas, Hicks says, to threats and coercion. Dr. Graham finally threatened to leave home, intimated this damage suit, and brought other coercion to bear; but Mrs. Graham would not deed over the property. At last he carried out his threat of abandoning her; and here is the second threat fulfilled.

When her husband left her, Mrs. Graham continued to live at No. 1608 West Seventh street, as did Hicks; but Mrs. Graham immediately sent for her mother to come out from the East, the household now consisting of Hicks, Mrs. Graham, her mother and servants. There is no concealment of this fact, as the house telephone is in both the names of "Mrs. E. B. Graham" and "Thurman B. Hicks."

Rather than have this unpleasant family row thrashed out in the courts, an effort has been made to settle the case; but Hicks said yesterday that he would "fight this blackmailing suit to the last ditch."

PLUM FOR O'BRIEN.

Clerkship in New Justice Court Said to Have Been Determined Upon by Walter Parker.

One of the minor contests for political pap has come to an end, it is said, through the selection of J. J. O'Brien, a clerk in the Fire Department, to the clerkship in the new City Justice Court over which Harry H. Rose is to preside.

O'Brien is a friend of John G. Mott, and his selection for the place is termed a reward to Mott for his services in supporting the candidacy of Senator Flint.

There was a spirited contest for the place ere the Supervisors named Rose as the new judge, the contestants in addition to O'Brien being Robert Bell of the County Auditor's office and Thomas Simpson, clerk in Justice Young's court. The position carries a salary of $150.

Walter Parker determined upon the appointment of O'Brien, it is asserted, after a consultation with the Flint supporters. Friends of Bell in the Eighth Ward have raised a protest against the turning down of their candidate, but Parker's determination is looked upon as final.

ARE AROUSED OVER GARBAGE.

Civic Bodies Join Movement for Night Collection.

Great Success of Campaign Begun by Women.

New Impetus at Yesterday's Federation Meeting.

Hundreds and hundreds of names have been added to the petition for the night collection of garbage, that has been industriously circulated for the past month or more by the Out-door Art Section of the Civic Federation under the direction of the Garbage Committee.

All the large women's clubs have attached their names; the Friday Morning, the Ebell, the Wednesday Morning, the Ruskin Art, and the Landmarks Club, and from numbers of small organizations which had not been reached by the energetic committee, have come unsolicited indorsements.

The following letter was yesterday received from the Chamber of Commerce:

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, President, Out-door Art Section of the Civic Federation:

"At the meting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce a resolution was passed indorsing your petition to the City Council in reference to the night collection of garbage, and I was further instructed to add the request of the Chamber that the petition be granted, and that the provision asked for by your organization be made.

"If you will kindly notify us when you expect to present your petition we will be glad to send our request at the same time.

[Signed] "H. B. GURLEY,
"Acting Secretary."

MORE TO FOLLOW.

The Municipal League expects to take similar action, and the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association has promised like aid to the cause.

Many influential people have been approached by Mrs. J. G. McLean and her committee of workers, for an expression as to the advisability and feasibility of the proposed night collection. In nearly every instance the heartiest approval has been the result.

The gatherers of the city's garbage and refuse have been consulted in several instances. "Will the night collection involve additional cost to the city?" was the question put to them. The facts brought out show that garbage collectors are paid about $45 a month. Their working day is supposed to be eight hours, but in reality it stretches over thirteen or fourteen hours, from 5:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Night work would, in the opinion of these men, be a little slower than the day collection, but if the alley feature could be discarded (for it is difficult to drive through some of these alleys even in the day) and all refuse be placed at the edge of the sidewalk instead of sixty feet back, as is allowable by ordinance, so much time would be saved that it would make up for slowness of night work.

Herbert Burdett, secretary of the Los Angeles Realty Board attended the meeting of the Out-door Art Section, yesterday morning, to learn what measures were being adopted by the section in regard to the garbage question, and to assure the members of the hearty support of the body he represents.

"We are interested in this matter," said Mr. Burdett, from an entirely selfish and business standpoint. If this city is properly cleansed, and is really what we advertise it to be, then we will be able to sell more lots in it. The visitors will not be disgusted as they frequently are at present, after a stay of a few days. They will remain, and a clean and safe city will pay in actual dollars and cents in the pockets of the residents."

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman explained that one of the first moves made by the garbage committee was to send polite little cards to the householders to inform them of their obligations, and to instruct them in the manner of properly assorting the refuse. It was decided yesterday to send out these cards again and again, and when the new contract is let it is hoped that the residents who are frequently so much to blame, especially in setting out uncovered cans of reeking garbage, will be held strictly to the letter of the law, by those who have the task of disposing of it.

Mrs. J. G. McLean, in discussing this vital question of the uncovered can, as well as the uncovered wagon, replied: "We are now seeking this one definite thing of night collection, and we are sure that the City Council will itself see the advisability of including the covered wagon and the covered can in any new arrangement that is made."

DREAM TO COME TRUE.

The ladies are confident that their petition will meet with approval from the powers that be, as it is indorsed by so many of the residents. The feelings of one ardent worker are expressed as follows:

"When our garbage is gathered at night,
Oh my! Oh my!
Our streets will present such a different sight,
Don't sigh, don't sigh;
Though to you it may seem
But a beautiful dream,
It will surely come true
Bye and bye—bye and bye.

"Money is needed for salaries, automobiles and such,
They come high—they come high;
And the looks of our streets don't count very much;
Thus we sigh, and we sigh;
But the terrible smell that our streets possess
Our councilmen soon will make beautifully less
I guess—yes—I guess;
Our garbage will shortly be gathered at night,
Then we'll give the glad shout, 'Our council's all right'
Bye and bye—bye and bye."

DEATH-NEWS ON HOME TRAIN.

MR. AND MRS. PEASE HAD JUST OBSERVED WEDDING DAY.

Parents of Sherman Pease Arrive Home from Mexico, Daughter Meets Them With Word of the Injured. Coroner's Jury Says Auto Accident Was Unavoidable.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles Pease returned at 9 o'clock last night from their three weeks' trip in Old Mexico.

At their home, No. 719 South Hill street, their daughter, Miss Grace Pease, was awaiting them with fresh news of the condition of their son, Sherman, who ever since the automobile tragedy of Sunday evening has been under care of physicians at the Hollywood Hotel. They learned from their daughter that the injured man had mended rapidly throughout the day, and seems to have entered the road to ultimate recovery; that the spells of stupor which Sunday evening and all day Monday alternated with his periods of consciousness were no longer a symptom.

"Have you told him about Nellie? Does he know yet?" were the mother's anxious questions. And the sister shook her head and answered: "Not yet. He is not strong enough yet to bear it."

The first news of the terrible accident reached Mr. and Mrs. Niles Pease at 5:30 o'clock Monday evening at Lucena, a small station on the Southern Pacific in New Mexico. It announced, briefly, that in an automobile accident their son had been injured, not seriously, and his wife very seriously."

In speaking of this at his home last evening Mr. Pease said: "As is my custom at stations when traveling, I had gotten out of the train and was walking up and down the cars. A porter called me into the car and there the telegram was handed me. It had been forwarded from El Paso. By its contents we felt that we might hope for better news at home, but should be prepared for the worst. I immediately wired back that we should arrive in Los Angeles Tuesday evening. After that there was nothing to do but wait.

"Early this (Tuesday) morning at Deming, N. M., Monday's Times apprised us that my son's wife had been instantly killed, and gave us the full details of the terrible occurrence. Later in the day we learned from Tuesday's Times of the progress of the injured, our son and Mrs. Wellcome, and that Sherman had not been told the worst. The news of the accident came to us just after Mrs. Pease and I had celebrated, on the train, the forty-ninth anniversary of our wedding."

Mr. and Mrs. Pease early this morning will go to their son. Miss Pease thought, last night, that it is likely no attempt will be made to bring him home from Hollywood before Thursday.

"I told Sherman," was the sad comment of his mother, last night, "when he bought the automobile that he was signing his death warrant. I think the last words I spoke to him before we went away were words of caution and warning about the use of it. I fear them so."

Mrs. D. E. Wellcome was reported last night by her husband to be mending rapidly, though she still endures great pain from her fractured ribs.

Coroner Trout yesterday morning held an inquest at Bresee Bros.' morgue over the body of Mrs. Pease. Evidence was fully taken, and the jury returned a verdict of "death by unavoidable accident."

The funeral of Mrs. Pease will be held tomorrow, it is thought. That will be definitely determined today.

MRS. D. E. WELLCOME

PASTOR BANGS AT EX-PASTOR.

Rev. D. F. McCarty Declares Rev. Green a Liar.

Also a Fraud, a Scamp and Eke a Swindler.

Hot Suit Tells How Man of God Was Diddled.

When the shepherds go astray who shall lead the sheep?

In yesterday's Times was told—from the viewpoint of Mr. Green—an interesting and instructive story of ecclesiastical diddling whereby the Rev. D. F. McCarty, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church of this city, is alleged to have smashed some parts of the Decalogue in the course of certain dealings with the Rev. William Green, formerly a Methodist missionary in Mexico, a clergyman still, but now engaged in preaching the less spiritual but more lucre-ative gospel of suburban real estate from a week-day pulpit in the Wilcox Block.

REV. D. F. McCARTY

The publication of that story has brought to light another and even spicier one, having to do with a suit lately filed in the Superior Court of Orange county, in which the plaintiffs are the shepherd of Grace Church and one of his sheep (Robert P. Law, a local contractor) and the defendants are the ex-missionary and his wife and one Isabella Corey, said to hail from the city of Richmond, Va., but believed to be a myth.

Variously and with large legal unction the thirty-one typewritten pages of the complaint in this suit set forth the alleged acts of said Green and wife and said Isabella Corey, whereby the shepherd of the Grace Church flock and his youthful friend claim to have been most shamefully and scandalously out-diddled. Taken fore and by, and always with the moral reservation and mental understanding that the allegations may or may not be true, this complaint is one of the breeziest winds of brotherly accusation that ever blew out of the fold. Pastor McCarty does neither haggle nor bait in his arraignment of ex-Missionary Green, but flings at his brother's head such undenominational epithets as "liar," "knave" and "cheat"—albeit wrapped in the transparencies of legal phrase—with all the abandon of injured innocence and faith betrayed.

THE SHEPHERD'S CROOKS.

Be it understood now, and clearly remembered hereafter, even to the end of the last paragraph, that the statements now about to follow, each and every one of them and all, are the solemn asseverations of a man of God and a grading contractor, and manifestly their substantiality in fact cannot be assumed by the paper giving them utterance, but must be viewed as a one-party assault under oath. That is to say, the plaintiffs allege they were diddled by the defendants as follows and to wit:

It came to pass that the Rev. D. F. McCarty and Robert P. Law owned jointly thirty acres of land at Miraflores, Orange county, known as the old Polhemus place. And they, being filled with zest for gain, went and listed it with ex-Missionary Green, the real estae agent, whom McCarty and Law, as pastor and communicant of Grace Church, knew as one who had been a toiler in the Master's field. They beought him whether he had knowledge of any eastern property which they could come into possession of by exchange; and lo, he had.

And behold, he told them of a beautiful estate in Virginia, lying fat and fallow between the banks of the Appomattox and Fighting Creek, where were many great trees of oak, and ash, walnut, and birdseye gum, even unto the extent of 200 acres there, rich and fertile and of the value of $15,000.

And lo and behold, it was a lie. For there were no trees of ash, or of oak, or of walnut, or of birdseye gum; but only barren fields. And moreover, it was not worth more than $3000, which was the amount of a mortgage upon it. But these things it was not given unto them to know.

Wherefore they agreed among themselves. And the shepherd and his sheep gave unto that one whom they called brother (even him who had been called missionary) a deed, and by that writing the old Polhemus place passed into the hands of the myth-widow, Isabella Corey, and in exchange for it there passed into the keeping of the shepherd and his sheep a deed to the fat and fallow land that was not; and the name of the myth widow was signed thereto, and the name of the witness was William Green.

And the value of the property at Miraflores was full $12,000, over and above all debts. And they parted from it because of theb rotherly advice of the ex-missionary, for he counseled them and they had faith, believing in their hearts that he was good.

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Owing to a misunderstanding between the school and health departments a number of poor children are today enjoying an enforced vacation on account of being refused vaccination at the Health Office.

Mayor McAleer yesterday vetoed the public-utility ordinance.

The Police Commission yesterday sold a saloon license to Hotel Lankershim for $3032.33.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Alice Stone took an unexpected turn yesterday, Judge Allen ordering that representations be made to the District Attorney, with a view to the prosecution of the husband on a possible bigamy charge.

Miles Long has disappeared. This was definitely settled yesterday when W. Riley came forward and paid $2500 forfeited bail for his foster son.

Millionaire Kirk, proprietor of a famous whisky, was fined $100 in the Police Court yesterday on account of a row with a female nurse in their hotel.

BOARDS CLASH OVER NEW RULE.

"INDIGENT" CARDS ARE IN HIGH DISFAVOR.

Vaccination Officer Turns Away Children Not Provided With Proper Credentials—School Doors Closed to Them Until Compromise is Effected. Say Privilege is Abused.

Owing to a misunderstanding between the school and health departments a number of poor children are today enjoying an enforced school vacation.

The services of the Mayor and of the non-partisan School Board will probably be enlisted to reëstablish diplomatic relations between the two departments.

Yesterday the new rule of the Health Commission, providing that only children of indigent parents shall be vaccinated at the Health Office, became effective. It requires that before a child is vaccinated by the assistant health officer a card must be presented, signed either by the child's school principal or teacher, or by the Associated Charities, stating that the parents are too poor to pay for vaccination.

Printed forms for teachers and principals to sign were last week sent by Health Officer Powers to the rooms of the Board of Education for distribution in all the city schools. Superintendent Foshay declined to permit this distribution.

School children went to the Health Office yesterday afternoon as formerly for vaccination.

Acting under instruction from his superior, Assistant Health Officer Garcelon declined to vaccinate them. The children will not be permitted to return to school until they have vaccination cards.

Dr. Garcelon advised all the children who came to go to the offices of the Associated Charities. A few did so and returned with the proper certification. These were vaccinated; but a majority did not return.

The rule providing for free vaccination only in cases where the parents of the children are unable to pay was adopted by the Health Board to reduce the expense of the health department, and to lessen the city's liability.

When the subject was under discussion before the Health Board two commissioners spoke of instances which had come under their observation wherein children of local capitalists were driven to the Health Office in the family carriages to be vaccinated at the city's expense.

There have been few vaccination days in the past in which carriages or hobby runabouts have not carried children to the Health Office for vaccination. The Health Officer's office, on vaccination days, was always thronged with ladies in tailor-made gowns, who brought children for free treatment.

It was to break up this practice that the "indigent card" rule was adopted.

But the school department has not taken kindly to it. Principals and teachers have objected to being called upon to pass on the financial standing of their pupils. They are willing to teach the young idea how to shoot according to the latest approved educational formulas, but they do not relish the idea of carrying as a side line a fund of information usually supplied by a commercial agency.

The technical objection made to the distribution of the indigent cards in the schools is that the Board of Education has received no official communication from the Health Commission asking that such distribution be made. But teachers say many parents who are in really indigent circumstances are too proud to confess their real condition and will withdraw their children from school rather than apply for "indigent" cards.

A special meeting of the Health Commissioners will probably be held either today or tomorrow to discuss the latest turn in their vaccination crusade.

"NOT SATISFACTORY."

UTILITY ORDINANCE VETOED.

Nine councilmen are sighing for an apostle who shall convert the Mayor to the doctrine of the "Simple Life."

Yesterday they discovered that not content with the two strenuous messages which he sent them Monday morning, the Mayor late Monday night filed with the City Clerk his message—vetoing the public utility ordinance.

This, added to the tribulations under which he already suffers, is making social life a bit too strenuous for the average legislator.

When the doors of the City Clerk's office swung open for business yesterday morning Minute Clerk Wilde threw back the cover of his private desk and drew forth the public utility ordinance. Accompanying it was the Mayor's message of disapproval. It bore the date of March 27 and Wilde explained that the Mayor filed it with him in person a few minutes before midnight Monday.

As forecasted by The Times Monday morning, the objections which the Mayor finds to the ordinance are that in his opinion, the standard for heat and light is too low and the time when the rate regulation clause shall become effective is advanced too far in the future.

In the Mayor's veto message he says:

> It is perhaps unnecessary for me to state that I am heartily in favor of the making and enforcement of municipal regulations relating to gas, electric light and telephone companies which will protect the people against excessive charges and inefficient service.
> It is because I believe the Council should, by the exercise of powers granted to it by the charter, adopt an ordinance upon this subject containing strict regulations which will take effect without delay, that I find the proposed ordinance objectionable.
> In the first place, this ordinance postpones until February next the fixing of rates to be charged by gas, electric light and telephone companies, and provides that such rates shall not go into effect until July 1, 1906. I can see no good reason for this long delay, especially since it is entirely practicable for the Council to fix rates which would go into effect within the next ninety days.
> The power given by the charter to regulate the sale and use of gas and electric light and telephones, and to fix the price and charges therefor, has already been too long neglected, and any further unnecessary delay will surely be deemed unjustifiable by the people.
> In the second place, the standard of quality prescribed in this ordinance for gas is, in my opinion, too low, both in respect to illuminating and heat-giving power. As is well known to you, the popular demand which led to the passage of this ordinance grew out of the general dissatisfaction among gas consumers with the quality of gas furnished to them, yet I am reliably informed that no gas is being distributed in this city which does not exceed in illuminating quality and in gross heat value the standard prescribed in such ordinance.
> I therefore recommend that, in place of sixteen-candle-power, as prescribed in the ordinance, as least eighteen-candle-power be fixed as the standard; and, in place of a gross heat value of 59 British thermal units per cubic foot as prescribed in the ordinance, I recommend that at least 600 such units per foot be fixed as a standard.

FIRST LICENSE SALE.

HOTEL LANKERSHIM BUYS.

The first official sale of a saloon license was yesterday recorded in the Police Commission meeting. E. R. Cooper secured his permit for the Hotel Lankershim bar for $3000 less than the price asked by the license thrust.

Three sealed bids were filed. E. R. Cooper offered $3032.33 for the Lankershim Hotel; Hart Brothers, $2000 for the Hotel Rosslyn, and one E. Grimm submitted a certified check for 30 cents for the new postoffice site on North Spring street.

There were no bids from the breweries, which seem to have lost all interest in saloon licenses. Frank Rademacher did not make good his application with a certified check for a cash donation to the city. He was not even in the commission room.

Commissioner Johnson moved that the bid of the Hotel Lankershim be accepted; Gates seconded the motion, and the City Clerk was instructed to issue a saloon license to E. R. Cooper.

J. Wiley Philips, editor of the California Voice, filed with the commission a sensational communication charging four first-class restaurants with about sixteen kinds of violation of the liquor laws and ordinances.

The communication was not read in open session, but Philips was called into an executive meeting of the board and assured that the commissioners are investigating a number of charges similar to those made in his communication.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TROUBLE SIGN COMES OUT.

DIVORCE SUIT MAY LEAD TO A BIGAMY CHARGE.

Mrs. Alice Stone Wants Only Decree, but Judge Allen Looks Toward Criminal Proceedings Against the Clerk of a Modern Woodman Camp, William H. Stone.

"You owe it to yourself and the community that you go before the District Attorney and show to him these facts," said Judge Allen yesterday, as he announced his determination to withhold an interlocutory decree from Mrs. Alice Stone pending an investigation of her husband's acts.

It developed in the hearing of Alice Stone's application for divorce from William H. Stone that the latter has been living with another woman with whom he went through the ceremony of marriage. Stone is clerk of Camp No. 7110, Modern Woodmen of America, and was charged yesterday with having abandoned his wife and two children in April, 1900. They were married in Seattle in December, 1889, by Rev. Mr. Gilbert, and have lived here five years.

Mrs. Stone said her husband neglected her and was very unkind long prior to his leaving her, and his temper was not improved when she intercepted letters passing between him and a woman in England. He is an Englishman.

Mrs. Stone's brother-in-law told the court he had known for a long time that Stone was living with another woman, who passed as his wife.

"I've seen them on the streets together many a time," said the witness, "but I wanted to find out for a fact, and so I went to the house. I asked if Mrs. Stone was in and the woman, after some hesitation, said that she was not. I then asked her if it wasn't true that she was known as Mrs. Stone, and ah esaid it was. I then asked her if she didn't know that Mr. Stone was a married man and had a wife and children living? To that she didn't make answer at once, but began to cry. She said she had heard something, but that he had told her that he had not been married to the woman—meaning his wife. She also said that he had become cross with her and wasn't giving her money enough to support herself as he used to. 'Whatever shall I do?' she exclaimed, for I'm married to him.'"

This testimony opened a field for speculation, and Judge Allen recalled to the stand the brother of Mrs. Stone. He stated that he had been present at the marriage in Seattle, and that indicated that the wife had been correct in her statement as to an actual ceremonial marriage having taken place. The statement of the witness who had so unceremoniously "butted in" upon Mrs. Stone No. 2 indicated, on the other hand, that Stone had gone through the marriage ceremony with another woman while his wife was yet undivorced. This may result in a bigamy charge.

GORMAN TURNS.

CLEARED, HE SUES ACCUSER.

P. J. Gorman, racing man, is having plenty of excitement, but so far he has come out on top. Ruled off the track at Ascot Park he retaliated by bringing a suit to close up the place as a public nuisance. Not to weaken in weildoing his example was followed by a female habitué of the track, and then Gorman had a setback.

J. R. Costen, who professes to deal in diamonds and follows the ponies, began a civil suit against Gorman to recover, claiming Gorman had sold two horses included in a chattel mortgage held by Costen. Quickly following the civil suit, Costen had Gorman arrested on the same facts, and yesterday the case came to hearing before Justice Pierce. It resulted in a decisive victory for Gorman.

It was a funny experience. Costen swore that a mare named Fairlight had been sold by Gorman to J. J. Elert, and it was proven that the mare was actually in Elert's possession, and had been run under his name. Attorney A. D. Warner grew eloquent in protesting that the transfer was not a sale, inasmuch as the conditions had not been complied with. To cap the climax Elert took the stand and told of the whole transaction, how Costen and Gorman had called upon him for the purpose of negotiating the sale of the mare, and of the direct personal interest Costen had taken in the transaction.

Justice Pierce found handsomely for Gorman. "There is not the first act on the part of Mr. Gorman," he said, "that shows there was any intention at all to cheat or defraud Mr. Costen. Mr. Costen was thoroughly advised of the sale. It was made for the purpose of getting money to pay him."

The court went on to say that the action ought never to have been brought and that a great wrong had been done in imputing a crime in a transaction of the kind.

Within three hours Gorman filed a suit in the Superior Court against Costen for $25,000 damages. He set out that on March 22 H. R. Costen maliciously and without probable cause charged him with larceny, and upon that charge he was arrested and had to put up $1000 cash bail for his appearance before he could regain his liberty; that on March 28 he was fully exonerated, and the actual words by Justice Pierce are set out at length in the complaint.

Gorman avers that the complaint against him was made by Costen for the purpose of destroying his credit and standing, and of disgracing and dishonoring him while holding him up to public contempt and ridicule. By reason of that prosecution he avers that his wife and family have been subjected to the scorn and contempt of friends.

PAYS FOR MISSING SON.

MILES LONG FORFEITS BOND.

Yesterday was the day set for the examination of ex-Police Officer Miles Long, in Justice Young's court, on the charge of having tampered with a little girl named Norma Otto. The defendant failed to appear, it having been known some time ago that he had slipped out of the city. The court declared the defendant's bond forfeited, and that was an end of the case.

With the order of court forfeiting the bail the bondsmen of Long became at once responsible. William Riley, the foster father of Long, who had taken the defendant when a boy and had tried to raise him well, and his nephew had signed the bond for $2500. Old man Riley was honest if his degenerate son was not, and he was in court and heard the words that condemned him to pay a heavy penalty. He at once went forward and gave his check for $2500 on the First National Bank, thus liquidating the indebtedness of himself and nephew and for all time clearing his hands of his adopted son.

A "HOT NUMBER."

STEVEN GOES TO PATTON

Gus A. Steven was yesterday examined by a commission in lunacy and Judge Wilbur then ordered that he be committed to the State Hospital at Patton. The patient was arrested about a week ago at San Fernando, when it took seven men to hold him. The constable of San Fernando yesterday told with much feeling his experiences in making the arrest, and said that Steven was a hot number.

The man has been well known around Fernando for a long time, but a week ago he developed a craze very suddenly. He went to the home of one of the local residents and announced that he was going to live right there. The head of the household thought otherwise, and asked what Steven meant. The distraught laborer calmly said that he and the daughter of the household had got married and were going to live there right along with "papa" and "mama."

There was no story of a runaway marriage to agitate the minds of the parents, and shortly afterward Steven became so boisterous that the constable was summoned. Then began the tug of war between the crazy man and the officer. The latter hadn't any show at all and would have speedily been put hors de combat had others not come to his assistance. But it took seven able bodied men to conquer the man who imagined that he was being torn from the side of his bride. Yesterday he failed to remember anything about it.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

BROWN DIVORCE. Olive E. Brown was granted a divorce from Henry G. Brown by Judge Trask yesterday, on the ground of cruelty. The parties were married at Riverside in September, 1903, and soon after the husband showed his profligate and dissipated character by drinking and abusing his wife.

IN THE WOODLAND. The Forest Home Outing Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, of which $500 has been subscribed. The directors are C. G. Baldwin, A. T. Gammon, F. J. Culver, E. F. Hahn, Pasadena, and T. W. Strobridge, Los Angeles. Headquarters of the company will be at Pasadena.

MORE WATER. The Irwin Heights Water Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $200,000, of which $250 has been subscribed. The directors are W. A. Irwin, Addie B. Irwin, C. E. Turner, Santa Monica; A. C. Harper and Gus D. Harper, Los Angeles.

ENGRAVING AND EMBOSSING. The Parker and Stone Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, of which $500 has been subscribed. The directors are R. Parker, C. H. Stone, F. S. Smith, F. C. Mahony, Los Angeles, and H. J. Fish, Pasadena.

THEIL PLEADED. James Theil yesterday pleaded guilty before Justice Young to having sold intoxicating liquor within the prescribed limit surrounding the Soldiers' Home. The court inflicted a fine of $25 and sentenced the defendant to serve thirty days in the County Jail. The punishment meted out was the minimum for the offense.

LAND AND WATER. S. C. Patterson & Co. have incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, of which $10,000 has been subscribed. The directors are Florence L. Paterson, H. F. Metcalf, W. T. Bolton, C. M. Hansen, Pasadena, and C. T. Sutton, Los Angeles.

BABY'S EMBROIDERIES. Beeman & Hendee have incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, fully subscribed. The directors are Margaret A. Beeman, Nettie A. Hendee, Hiram W. Hendee, J. G. Mossin and Lynn Helm, all of this city.

DIDN'T MAKE IT. Mrs. Mary Cogan was before the court yesterday on the insanity charge preferred by her husband. The wife is about twenty years older and talks with the rich brogue of County Sligo. The husband complained that his wife wants to keep moving about from city to city, and he wants to sit in peace under his own fig tree. Her latest notion, he said, is to move to Pittsburgh, and the wife didn't deny this, but did claim that it scarcely showed that she is insane. A number of witnesses had lined up to speak for the wife and show that there was animus behind the husband's action, but Judge Wilbur discharged the woman without listening to any of them. The husband and wife hold jointly property at Barbaton, O.

SWALLOWED HER TOOTH. Mrs. Alice C. McGhee is trying to recover $10,000 as damages, and $483 as moneys expended, from Dr. A. F. Schiffman, and the trial is now going on in Judge Trask's court. The plaintiff had seven teeth extracted, but juggled with the last somehow and swallowed it. The results were unsatisfactory and she avers that she had to be treated for disease originating in this way. Finally Mrs. McGhee spat up the lost tooth and yesterday it was filed as an exhibit in the case.

LOST COMMISSION—I. N. Richards failed to gain judgment against W. H. Pierce of Long Beach in Justice Young's Court yesterday. Pierce placed property in the hands of Richards for sale, with the verbal understanding that it was to net the owner a certain amount. To put the sale through Richards had to let go at the net figure, and then tried to collect $200 commission. Pierce was willing to pay $100. Richards sued. The latter had to pay the costs.

Gets Into Trouble With His Nurse, With Whom He Has Been Making a Tour of the Continent—Charged With Battery, He Pays a Light Fine.

A scintilla of the woes of a millionaire paralytic were exposed to the lime light of a Police Court investigation yesterday, and some of the easy profits of Jim Crow went to soothe the wounds of the outraged law.

Millionaire H. B. Kirk of New York, proprietor of the somewhat famous Jim Crow whisky, is temporarily sojourning in Los Angeles in the hands of a trained nurse, Miss Bessie Camp.

Kirk having suffered a stroke of paralysis some time back, was ordered to travel, and a week before he left New York, in January, his physician presented a nurse to accompany him, in the person of Miss Camp. Kirk is 74 years of age and Miss Camp about 35.

They arrived two weeks ago and have had rooms at the Melrose Hotel. Monday night a disturbance was heard on the upper floor of the hotel, where the apartments of Kirk and the nurse are located, connected by a door between them.

The proprietor hurried to the scene and found Kirk and Miss Camp engaged in a pitched battle. A bed had been partly hauled over the connecting door, apparently in an effort on the part of Miss Camp to barricade it against her aged patient. The bed and the adjacent portions of the two rooms were covered with great splotches of writing fluid, and things were in disorder generally.

Miss Camp was hustled off to a room in another part of the house and locked in for the night, while her patient managed to get through the night without her aid. Yesterday she swore out a complaint charging Kirk with battery and the whole affair was aired before Justice Chambers.

While Kirk is well advanced in years and has been paralyzed, he still has considerable vigor, and gave some illustration of it in the courtroom, stamping his cane on the floor and pounding the desk with his fist.

In order to escape as much publicity as possible and have over with it, he pleaded guilty to a charge of battery, but the court "wanted to know." Hence more of the story came to light than either of the parties cared to have brought out.

Miss Camp testified that they had been accustomed to having the connecting door open, in order that she might be in easy call of her patient, but that he had insisted upon going into her room against her will and protest, and it was for this reason that she barricaded the door. On Monday night, she said, he pulled the door open, though she had tied it as best she could, and in her anger she hurled an ink well at him; she further said that he laid hands on her, and from this the charge of battery was figured out. Once as she gave her evidence Kirk jumped to his feet, and smashing the desk with his first, shouted:

"That's a lie; I'll swear to it on a stack of Bibles as high as a house."

About the first thing Kirk said when he took the stand was this:

"If there is to be any charge of assault it shoud be by me and not by this woman."

He demurred against testifying directly against Miss Camp, saying that he did not want to do her unnecessary injury, but that her testimony made it necessary for him to do so. The story, told as briefly as possible from Kirk's standpoint, is that he discovered that the nurse on a former occasion had "company" in her room, to which he objected, and he suspected that this was her motive in closing the door on Monday night, and he was determined that it should not be.

Justice Chambers disposed of the case by fining Kirk $100, which he paid and left the court. A detective was sent with the pair to the hotel to assist in separating their belongings, which were packed in the same trunks.

There are a number of persons in the party traveling with Kirk, though none are related to him, and they tried to appease Miss Camp in order to save notoriety, but she insisted, and her eyes flashed fire during the entire proceedings in court. It is said they made an offer to defray her expenses back to New York.

FOR GOOD GUESSERS

CONTEST OPEN TO EVERYBODY
NO PURCHASE REQUIRED

Guess the number of words we shall use in our daily advertisements as published in either The Times or Examiner during the month of April. You can have the first twenty days of the month to size up our advertisements and count the words—but we may suddenly use a half-page advertisement—no one can foresee—even we ourselves do not know whether our advertisements will be long or short.

Make your guess on a card with your name and address, place this in an envelope and seal. Write on the outside "For Guessing Contest," and bring into either store on or before the 20th of the month.

The envelopes will all be thrown on a big table and one envelope at a time will be taken out at random from the heap and opened.

The name of the person in the first envelope containing a correct guess will receive a present of a $50 FULL DRESS SUIT. If no one makes the correct guess, the $50 suit will go to the nearest guesser.

The second nearest guesser will receive a $20.00 OVERCOAT to be selected by the fortunate guesser.

The third will receive a $15.00 BUSINESS SUIT.

The next three will receive $7.50 SMOKING JACKETS.

The next five $2.50 HATS.

The next ten $1.00 SHIRTS.

Representatives of the press will count the words in the advertisements, and their decision will be final.

Every word counted except the signature and what follows.

Compound words counted as one word. Prices counted as one word.

ONLY ONE GUESS TO EACH PERSON.

GAME HART WINS FIGHT.

Gets Decision Over Johnson After Twentieth Round.

Is Awkward and Shows He's No Match for Jeff.

Lincolnshire Handicap Run Begins—White Arrives.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the end of twenty as desperate rounds as have ever been fought in San Francisco, Marvin Hart was given the decision over Jack Johnson of Chicago. From appearances, Hart was the better man from a physical point of view. The left side of his face was swollen as large again as the right side, his left eye was closed, and his whole face resembled nothing so much as a large raw steak. Johnson, on the contrary, did not show a mark, he did not even appear to be tired, and yet he had fought as nobody had ever seen him fight before in California.

Hart's gameness was what won the fight. He appeared to be awkward, and to know little of the art of boxing, but he carried the fight to his opponent all the time, and did his share of the leading. It was his forcing and fighting at all times throughout the fight upon which Greggains based his verdict. In point of cleverness and point of blows landed, Johnson led all the way. At times, he placed as many as half a dozen short-arm uppercuts upon his opponent without return. In the mixing, he also landed oftenest; but Referee Greggains made up his mind that the Kentuckian's work was most executive.

From the ninth round on, Hart was bleeding from the nose continuously, and it seemed at many times during the rough infighting that he could not see his opponent at all. But he lasted out, and fought and tugged like a demon all the time. Often during the twenty rounds he was borne to the ropes and received full-arm uppercuts. Throughout the last five rounds he had the crowd shouting wildly for him. The Kentuckian's gameness won nearly every man in the house. Color certainly figured to some extent in this support of a practical stranger.

Johnson was a badly disappointed man. He considered he had landed two blows to every one that his opponent gave him, and he believed that he had led fully as often as the Kentuckian. Referee Greggains, however, figured that Hart's work was the best, and his decision went.

STORY OF THE ROUNDS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WOODWARD'S PAVILION (San Francisco) March 28.—Marvin Hart was awarded the decision over Jack Johnson in a twenty-round contest tonight. The fight went the limit, but Hart was far from demonstrating that he is qualified to meet Jim Jeffries. Hart was as badly punished a man as has been seen in the ring for a long time, but he was game to the core, and kept boring into the big colored man all through the fight.

Johnson's much-vaunted cleverness did not count for much. While he was able to hit Hart frequently, his blows did not seem to damage the white man from Kentucky. The sympathies of the large crowd present were openly with Hart, who was the short-ender in the betting, and every lead he made at Johnson, whether he landed or not, was greeted with yells of joy. Hart did manage to deal the only effective blow in the eleventh round, when he landed a right swing on Johnson's jaw that staggered the black man and nearly knocked him over.

Referee Greggains stated that he gave the decision to Hart because, all through the fight, Hart did all the forcing and leading. According to Greggains, if Hart had not pursued his tactics, there would have been no fight, as Johnson merely contented himself with countering.

Hart's face was battered to a pulp, but Johnson's blows did not seem to have much sting to them. Johnson did a great deal of uppercutting, but Hart covered up, and the blows did not seem to hurt him.

The general opinion of those who witnessed the fight was that neither man would stand any chance with Jeffries. The champion would probably beat them both in the same night.

Jabez White, who arrived yesterday from England to fight Jimmy Britt, was introduced prior to the main event and said that he was glad to arrive here at last, and that before he left he would try to give a good account of himself.

"Battling" Nelson also appeared, and said that he would fight Britt at "any old time." Britt did not appear, and it was stated that he was in the country.

First round—The fighting was light, and neither suffered any damage.

Second round—This closed with the honors in favor of Johnson. Hart was bleeding from the nostrils.

Third round—This was practically an even one. Hart's attempts to land appeared very clumsy, so clever was the big colored man.

Fourth round—Johnson drove Hart to the ropes, but Hart blocked his blows, and hooked the negro twice with lefts to the head and then brought his right to Johnson's ear. Hart swung his right for the jaw, but it went wild, and in a mix Hart sent Johnson's head back with a right uppercut to the jaw. Hart's advantage was slight in this round, as it was also in the fifth.

Sixth round—Considerable clinching was indulged in, and the round was a tame one.

Seventh round—Clinching tactics were continued, and the crowd constantly yelled "fight."

Eleventh round—Hart rallied. Leaning against the ropes, he drove his right to the head, and then shot two lefts to the stomach. Johnson countered with left hook to the jaw, and fast infighting followed, in which Hart landed a terrific right-hand swing to the jaw that sent Johnson's head back a foot. Hart drove his right stiffly to the body as the bell rang.

The twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth rounds were pretty even. Considerable clinching and infighting was indulged in. Each landed a few blows. Both men were apparently strong at this stage. Hart took considerable punishment in the fifteenth, but evened up matters in the sixteenth.

In the seventeenth the fighting was of a desperate character, both men administering and receiving severe punishment. Hart showed the effects of the milling, blood again starting from his lacerated nostrils. The round was about even.

In the eighteenth and nineteenth rounds the honors were even, Hart doing the leading. In the last round both fought at close quarters and tried to land a vital blow.

As the round neared its conclusion someone exploded a flashlight and the principals inferred that it denoted the end of the contest. Such was not the case, however, and the referee, who had declared Hart the winner, motioned for the men to continue. This they did and the bell rang with the men fighting fiercely in Johnson's corner. Referee Greggains at once declared Hart the winner.

In the six-round preliminary, "Young Mitchell" of Sacramento gained a well-earned decision over Jim Haywards. Both are colored. In the second preliminary, Fred Landers was given the decision over Toby Irwin.

JEFF WON'T FIGHT NEGRO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Billy Delaney gave out a statement over his signature today that since Jeffries met and defeated Fitzsimmons for the championship of the world he defended the title against all comers without telling any one to get a reputation. Marvin Hart and Johnson expressed a desire to meet the champion, and should Hart win tonight he can consider himself "on." Should Johnson win, there is nothing doing. Jeff will never be pulled into the ring with a negro.

Jeffries will arrive in California in June. If by that time no white man is ready to make a match, Jeffries will forever retire from the ring. Delaney said: "I understand Jeff thoroughly, and know that in order to fight well he must fight often. I won't have Jeff make the mistake all former champions made; that is, fighting once too often. When Jeffries retires and the rest of the bunch get to scrambling for the championship, it will look like Resurrection Day."

MADDEN SPEAKS FOR RUHLIN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Billy Madden thinks that if there is one heavyweight just now eligible to meet Jeffries, that man is Ruhlin. Madden today issued a challenge on behalf of the Akron giant to fight the champion. Madden says: "Ruhlin will fight Jeffries, the winner take all, so you can understand we are not bluffing. If Jeff does not accept, Gus will fight the winner of the Johnson-Hart battle. Delaney is too wise to let Jeff take a chance with Johnson. It's not color, for Jeff has been mixed up with several blacks during his career."

JOHN L.'S AMBITION.

A TRY FOR GRIM'S JAW.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John L. Sullivan has seen the challenge of Grim, the Philadelphia pugilist, who has withstood the heaviest punchers, and John wants to have a try at Grim's jaw. He says: "If I cannot knock him out inside of six rounds the winner can take the entire receipts of the house. I will not split the purse or receipts. I will meet him in Philadelphia or Detroit."

JABEZ WHITE ARRIVES.

SIGNS WITH JIMMY BRITT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jabez White arrived last night, and today he signed articles with Jimmy Britt to box twenty rounds, Queensberry rules, at some date in April not yet specified. They agreed to post deposits for an appearance April 1st.

Britt left today for Harbin Springs to get an outing. White goes to Larkspur, where he will have the coaching of "Battling" Nelson. White made a good impression upon the local fight experts, though he looked older than his pictures. He made no objections to the American style of fighting. Mitchell agreed that the men should protect themselves in the breakaway. The fight will probably take place the last of April.

"KID" DORSEY EXONERATED.

PUGILISTS DISCHARGED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—Dorsey Cranston, better known as "Kid" Dorsey, a colored pugilist, was today exonerated by the Coroner's Jury of all responsibility for the death of John Hall, who died following a boxing bout with Dorsey, last Thursday night. Others under arrest in connection with the case were also discharged.

MINOR BALL.

LEAGUE FORMING.

Even though professional baseball is now about to descend upon us in all its fury the minors are preparing to reorganize the league that furnished winter baseball during the past two months. If the arrangements can be made a meeting will be held this week to consider a summer league of at least four clubs to play in this city every Sunday, when there is no Coast League game at Chutes Park.

Schottische done for eighth out.

RIGHT THERE IN PRACTICE.

McCreedie's Whitesox Make a Hit at Chutes.

Fattest Man Playing Ball is a Good Catcher.

Infield Will Do, and Outfielders are Fast.

"Judge" Walter McCreedie's initial effort at selecting championship ball clubs made its local début in practice at Chutes Park yesterday afternoon before a small but select audience of the faithful fan element that is ever ready to rise betimes in the morning and concoct spring "dope" on the players.

The verdict after an hour's scampering about the diamond was unanimous. Without a dissenting voice it was decided that Portland would "do" on substantially the present lines. For his first attempt, the fans will certainly have to "hand it" to McCreedie. He completed his selection before any other Pacific Coast manager had announced his line-up, and the team, to an unprejudiced observer, looks as good as any in the league today. A fast lot of big, husky fellows who look every inch ball players, the Portland Whitesox will prove a rare disappointment if not in the race all season.

There has been a big hole at first base and the young manager found most of his troubles in trying to plug it up, but at last feels satisfied he has a good man in Fred Clark, late of Salt Lake. Clark is a man of medium size, throws right handed and bats from the south side of the plate. This namesake of the great Pittsburgh player-manager is said to be fast getting down on infield hits, and made quite a reputation in Utah, especially as a hitter.

The receiving end of McCreedie's batteries contains an old Los Angeles favorite in Charlie Swindells, who played with the first Los Angeles team five years ago, and is also graced by the presence of the biggest man playing baseball today—John McLean, 6 ft. 5 in. tall, and built like an all-around athlete. This giant bats right-handed and lines 'em out at a scorching pace in practice. He uses the snap throw in delivering the ball to the bases, and seems not only speedy, but also accurate. As a receiver, the Whitesox declare no ball that does not clear the grand stand can get by him for a wild pitch—a boon indeed to Pacific Coast scorers, since anything which is missed by this tremendous piece of human machinery must need be a "passed ball." McLean is expected to do great things this summer.

The Portland pitching corps is composed of two good southpaws in Bert Jones and Jimmy St. Vrain, as well as five able right-handers—Bill French, Bill Essick, George Gilpatrick, Eli Cates and last, but by no means least, Virgil Garvin, the former Brooklyn star. This tall Texan has everything any twirler ever had and a few slants and shoots peculiar to himself. He is the "heavy artillery" of the Portland pitching army, and is considered good enough for any major-league club in the business so long as he keeps in condition. Garvin uses all kinds of curves, has great speed and a slow ball to use as a foil for it, making perfect change of pace. He is likely to lead the league if he continues behaving himself as he has done this winter.

French made a first-class reputation for himself in the Southern League last year. McCreedie is trying the usual experiments, feeling safe with his seasoned experts. Most of his right-handed pitchers are small men compared to the giants who adorn Morley's pay roll. The infielders are all good-sized fellows, however, and the outfielders are a trio of big, rangy lads, bar Eddie Householder, who is the same stocky club swinger who used to break windows in the Chutes Theater with right-field fence drives three years ago.

Schlafly, the second baseman, is one of the best in the league, all points of the game considered. In addition to being a finished and reliable fielder, he is a .300 batter and a devil on the bases. This German lad practically kept the Oakland team in the running last year; he is what the profession term an "inside ball player," whose head is of further service than blocking occasional inshoots.

Feed Buck Francks, the former Oakland idol on stall-stuffed beefsteaks until he put on twenty pounds without sacrificing his snappy style of fielding or his ability in covering ground and a very fair idea of Jakey Atz, the Portland shortstop, may be gained. This lad moves like Francks and seems every bit as able in taking care of ground balls hit into his territory. Atz and Schlafly work together like the wheels of a greased clock in handling double plays, and will prove a hard pair for other infielders to beat around the keystone sack this summer. Atz makes a tremendous noise; he is almost as bad as Looloo Jud Smith, but is of the sort that injects ginger into a club and helps everybody to win games. The Whitesox shortstop is credited with being a good hitter for an infielder and liable to bat .250 or better in Coast company. He led the Southern League in fielding his position last year.

Louis Runkle, the third baseman, is apparently quite able to take care of the "difficult corner" even in an all-star infield. The versatile German could not by any stretch of the imagination be called graceful; he does some odd stunts in going after the ball, but somehow, homeway, always seems to come up with it and usually makes a good shot for Clark's mitt ahead of the runners. Runkle covers his ground fast and takes care of a world of territory adjacent to third base. He is a good batsman and likely to hover around .300 with average luck in not clouting the ball squarely at somebody.

The Portland outfield is as good as any on the Coast, and perhaps better than four of the six. With Van Buren, a brainy, hard batter, in left; the slugger, Householder, in center, and the versatile manager, McCreedie, caring for right garden, anything which drops safe must be labeled a real base hit. The outfield figures on paper to bat better than .300, and all are fast men, hitting left-handed. Local fans are familiar with the work of each from previous seasons in the league.

The Portland uniforms of natty dark-blue set off with white stockings, cap and belts, are very pleasing, and should furnish a good contrast against the white "at home" suits of the locals Thursday. McCreedie seems to have found time to pay considerable attention to the minor details of his team, which is splendidly equipped for the season.

CHASE REACHES JACKSON.

SAYS MORLEY SCARED HIM.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

JACKSON (Miss.) March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harold Chase arrived here from Los Angeles shortly afternoon today. He is a fine-looking specimen of young manhood, with a countenance somewhat like Christie Mathewson's and reports he is in excellent shape. He was greeted very cordially by Manager Griffith and the players. He said that the fault was not his for "throwing down" Griffith, but entirely Morley's. Chase said he wanted to come before but they had him scared.

He was not asked to play in this afternoon's game, as he was tired out from his long and tiresome five days' ride.

BARGAIN NAGS FINISH FIRST.

LONG-PRICED WINNERS SHOCK THE PLAYERS.

Only One Favorite Gets In Front in the Six Events—Card Contained a Bad Lot of Dogs Without Form and Void—Large Crowd of Women Out for Last Free Day.

The bargain counters were piled high with good things at Ascot yesterday and the sporting public had little chance to lay up any treasures for the winners were mostly things that could not be figured except in get-away week, when almost anything is possible.

Only one favorite won in El Verraco in the third race, the other races going to outsiders. Birdie Stone, who has been running last in almost every race she has started in, won the first yesterday at 10 to 1, Tangible took the second at 20 to 1, El Otros the fourth at 5 to 1, Sportsman the fifth at 6 to 1 and McFlecknoe, the last at 5 to 1. There were amusing rides by some of the dubs now at the track and the horsemen in the paddock smiled broadly over the majority of the races.

The day might be considered a notable one for the number of dead ones that were strongly touted and couldn't do a thing but throw down those that liked them. Blandura was the hot thing in the first race, but after the betting commenced Dugan was taken off the horse and Helgesen put up and that settled the chances of the beast for winning. In the second there was a strong play on Prestolus but he finished sixth. In the third Beautiful and Best was touted but ran third. In the fifth Schreiber's horse Buchanan was plunged on but was sent to the post in an unfit condition from a sore mouth, and would not break and was left at the post and in the last Schottische carried much money and finished fifth.

It was ladies' day yesterday, and a mob of the fair sports was at the track to take advantage of the last free admission of the meeting. Heretofore they have been allowed to swarm into the "pigeon roost" or balcony that overlooks the betting ring, but yesterday they were barred from that place, and had to content themselves with watching the performances from the grand stand.

The only ripple of excitement was just after the start of the second race, when Jockey Sullivan, on the long shot, Dr. Clark, fell off, but as the beast was almost last the boy was not hurt.

BUSINESS.

Constant fluctuations in the New York stock market yesterday gave an appearance of uncertainty. The end of the day showed the average of prices considerably below last night. Union Pacific, St. Paul, New York Central and Reading were the speculative favorites. Weakness was manifest in the Chicago wheat market. July closed at 83½ and May at 1.12.

MORE CITY BONDS.

From the City Engineer comes the announcement that the city lacks some $287,000 of the amount of money needed to complete the outfall sewer and the internal system of laterals which are to empty into it. In the opinion of the City Engineer, a special election should be called at once to provide for the issuance of bonds to the amount of at least $250,000 in order that there may be no delay in the construction of the outfall sewer and its connecting laterals. The original estimate of the cost of the new outfall sewer was $670,000. This estimate is now increased to $887,000, while the original estimate for the internal system has been increased by $60,000, or to $460,000. In addition, $37,000 will be needed for the completion of the entire system; but this amount City Engineer Stafford says, "can be raised by the property tax which will be charged for connections with the main laterals."

There is nothing to do, of course, but to vote these bonds, which the City Engineer says are necessary to complete the sewer system of the city. An adequate sewer system is an urgent necessity for the city of Los Angeles. No public improvement is more needed than this, and the money must be raised. Fortunately, the credit of the city is excellent, and there will be no difficulty in obtaining the money needed on the bonds, which the people will of course vote for the purpose indicated.

From time to time other demands of this nature will be made upon the city's credit and resources; demands for improvements which in the very nature of things cannot be put off. For this reason there should be great reluctance on all sides to bond the city for any purpose that does not represent an absolute necessity. Prudence and common sense alike require that the bonded indebtedness of the city shall be kept well within the limits specified in the charter. These limits allow $5,000,000 for general purposes, outside of sewers and water. For the latter purposes, under a State law the city may incur a bonded indebtedness equal to 15 per cent. of the assessed valuation.

The present bonded debt of the city, exclusive of sewers and water system, is about $2,000,000. The water system is paying for itself, and so is no direct burden upon the taxpayers. The bonds asked for by the City Engineer, for completing the sewer system, together with the $780,000 recently voted for school purposes, will raise the actual indebtedness of the city by over $1,000,000, though this added indebtedness will have no effect upon the $5,000,000 limit.

The actual indebtedness of the city—which means the amount of the principal which taxpayers must pay sooner or later, amounts to about $5,500,000. This of course includes sewer and water bonds. The $780,000 bonds recently voted for school purposes will stand nominally against the "school district of Los Angeles," but it will be to all intents and purposes a part of the city's bonded debt, since the said "school district" is virtually coextensive with the city limits, and it must be paid by city taxpayers. This and the new sewer bonds will add to the actual amount owed by the city over a million dollars, making the total debt of the city over $6,500,000. When we reflect that the city pays a total interest on its bonds equal to 70 or 80 per cent. during the life of the loan—that in other words we pay back 70 to 80 cents on every dollar borrowed, besides paying back the dollar—it becomes apparent that it is well to go slow in the matter of adding to the obligations already standing against us, excepting where improvements are an absolute necessity, as in the matter of sewers and extensions.

The city is at present in much better financial condition than many other cities of its class. Its credit is excellent and its prospects brilliant. The welfare of all citizens demands that these favorable conditions shall be maintained.

THE BRITISH NAVY.

In the detailed statement explanatory of the navy estimates submitted to the British Parliament by the First Lord of the Admiralty, there occur several passages of very special interest to the world at large. Comment has already been made in these columns on the broad measures of reform that are the basis of these latest estimates, namely, the redistribution of the fleets and the effective manning of ships belonging to the reserve in time of peace. We are concerned for the present only with points of detail not referred to in the cabled dispatches.

For everyone interested either in shipping or in the oil trade, apart altogether from the still greater question of national defense, the following official statement is of first importance: "The experiments in connection with the use of oil fuel still continue, but it is now quite certain that oil has taken its place as part of the fuel of the navy, and every arrangement is being made for its supply, storage, and distribution." This not only implies that there is another big customer for oil in the British navy, but points the way to a revolution in the fuel supplies of mercantile shipping throughout the world. There have been long and costly experiments on both sides of the Atlantic, by our own naval authorities as well as those of Great Britain. But this is the first unqualified indorsement of oil as fuel for shipping by one of the great navies of the world. On the strength of such an authoritative recommendation the change from coal furnaces to oil furnaces among shipping generally will undoubtedly be hastened.

The next item of significance is the large number of submarines approaching completion and to be placed under construction for the British navy. The figures prove that, despite more than one disconcerting accident involving serious loss of life, this type of war vessel has come to stay. England, as usual, was slow to move in the new direction. She allowed France to get far ahead of her in the experimental stages of building submarines. But once she has made up her mind as to the efficacy of such craft, at a single bound she will have the most numerous submerged mosquito fleet in the world.

A third subject meriting attention refers to the personnel of the navy. There have been of late several sensational magazine articles alleging decadance in the quality of the men who are offering for the service of their country in England. In view of such assertions let the following sentence be read: "Altogether, whether for the active service ratings of the navy, boys, youths and men, for the Royal Marines, and for the Royal Naval Reserves, nothing could be more satisfactory than the numbers and quality of those wishing to join His Majesty's naval forces. Indeed, the number of eligible candidates is far in excess of the requirements." This is a pointed answer to defamatory criticism to which both friends and foes of England will give due consideration.

The power of organized woman was never more happily shown than in the tremendous force brought to bear for the abolition of the reeking, disgracing garbage nuisance on the front walks and lawns of Los Angeles. The City Council cannot ignore such a strong expression of citizens in favor of night collection and cleanly habits. The women of the Civic Federation have done valiant work and have again dispelled the delusion that women's clubs are incapable of aught but whimsical discussions of fanciful problems beyond the ken of ordinary mortals. The practical work—not talk—of these club women is a bright and shining example of what the fair sex can accomplish without the suffrage, and a striking proof that clubdom is potent for something besides iced tea and heated air.

There is no reason for Mr. Wellcome to fear criticism because he leaped from the automobile at the time of the Hollywood accident last Sunday. He was more than justified in doing so. There is no heroism in, nor justification for, sacrificing one's own life when such a deed can be of no service to others. Furthermore, in this case, Mr. Wellcome was able to render great service to the injured at the time of the accident, and has since then been able to care for his wife. He could have been of no possible assistance to the others by remaining in the car. He simply did what duty and commonsense demanded.

It is painful to record the fact that the tornado season has set in so early in the effete States of the Middle West. The people there have one sure remedy. They can come to Sunshine Land.

WINE FALSELY LABELED.

As an illustration of the extent to which fraudulent practices are sometimes carried in the wine trade, Dr. Wiley, chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture, recently exhibited on the desk in his office four samples of wine each purporting to be of a quality different from the others, and selling at different prices, which were in fact of exactly the same quality. Speaking of the matter, Dr. Wiley (otherwise and affectionately known as "Old Borax,") said:

"This is the first case of its kind that ever came to my attention, and it is really remarkable. Here we have four bottles of French light wine of the Sauterne type. The labels on the bottles would seem to indicate that the wine grades from ordinary to the best Sauterne. As a matter of fact, though shipped as four different qualities, the wine is exactly alike in color and taste, and absolutely identical in chemical analysis. We have proof that the contents of the four bottles came from the same vineyard and that the wine was actually drawn from the same cask.

"Oh, no, the same price is not asked for each of the bottles. That's where the rub comes. The invoice price ranges from 19 francs per case for the ordinary to 25 francs for the best. Had this consignment of wine been directed to our attention before released by the customs officials at New York it would have been either returned to the shippers or destroyed on the ground that it was falsely labeled."

When, in the remote future, pure food (and drink) laws shall have been enacted and put into operation, it will be found necessary to incorporate into them provisions which will put a stop to such barefaced frauds as the one here exposed. First of all, it is necessary that the public shall be protected against the poisoning of their foods and drinks. Next it is almost equally incumbent upon the government to protect the public against fraud in the light weight, inferior quality, and false labeling of products offered for sale. In the fullness of time, perhaps, these abuses will in a measure be corrected.

We are wont to sneer at the lowly Chink as being of inferior race, inferior station, inferior intelligence, and inferior everything, as compared to his Caucasian brothers. But if abuses in the way of food and drink adulteration such as are common in the United States were to be discovered in the Flowery Kingdom, a few hundred heads would be separated from an equal number of bodies, and lo! there would be both pure food and pure drinks throughout the realm. The Chinese are only ignorant heathen, however, and "don't know nothink about nothink," any more than did that other poor heathen who lived at Joe All Alone's.

CALIFORNIA'S FEDERAL PLUMS.

The Federal appropriations for California rivers and harbors secured at the session of Congress which adjourned March 4, aggregated $1,269,816. Of this amount $710,000 is to be expended in Los Angeles county—$250,000 on the improvement of Wilmington harbor, and $460,000 to continue construction of the breakwater at San Pedro. The largest item to be expended elsewhere is the sum of $350,000 for deepening and widening the channel of Oakland harbor. Next comes $100,000 for improving the channel at Mare Island.

In the case of Wilmington harbor $100,000 is immediately available, with authority to contract for $150,000 in addition. The entire appropriation for San Pedro is now available, being a part of the large continuous harbor fund. In addition to these sums which are to be expended at our port of entry, $88,300 will be spent at the Soldiers' Home for additions, repairs, reservoir and other improvements.

When we add the cost of improvements in fitting up the present postoffice building, and the amount which will be required to continue work on the new government building, the aggregate of Federal expenditures in this county will exceed $1,000,000 for the year 1905.

Of course California will receive her share, and it is not an insignificant one, of the general expenses of the government in other departments, such as the postal service, the geological survey, the coast fortifications, forest protection, and the salaries of an army of Federal officers and employés. After all it is not a bad thing that California got into the Union 55 years ago.

We are delighted to learn, through Herr Goldberger, a German author, that "the American Danger" does not exist for Europe. While on this subject, however, we would respectfully call Herr Goldberger's attention to a certain "yellow peril" which bears a remote resemblance to a newspaper, and is issued (in limited quantities) in some parts of the country. What about this moral disease, Herr Goldberger? Is it caused by mere degeneracy, or what?

President Schurman of Cornell needn't worry about his son Robert, who is working in a blacksmith shop to earn his living, having been ousted from the university on account of some trouble about his studies. Life, Love and Death.

Life, you and I have stood now face to face
For many years;
Look deep into my eyes—there will you trace
Your myriad tears;
Touch you my cheek, and see; its rounded place
A drawn look wears!
Ah, life; lift off from me a little space
Your blighting cares.

Love, we have lived through many a peerless day
Of happiness.
When life did with her melancholy gray
My heart depress—
When she her tempests loosed, I sought your ray
Through storm and stress,
And found you, faithful love, a power alway
My soul to bless!

And soon, oh, unknown death! we'll have to meet
In closest wise.
Oft in the solemn nights I hear your feet,
I catch your eyes.
Grant, when my soul is brought her summons sweet
To distant skies,
That your pale form my ebbing life may greet
In fair disguise.
Of love and dreams—who with me then may fleet
When silence lies!

When Adam Was Boss.

'Twas Eden, and the sun sank low.
"There!" Adam said, "I told you so!"
I said the sun was not stuck fast—
That times were quite too good to last."

The sun went down. "Come, get a gait!
We'll freeze, and that's an awful fate.
Come, Eve," said Adam, "come, let's run—
We must make haste and catch the sun."

Then answered Eve her stouter mate:
"I really think we'd better wait.
And trust the power that put us here
Fixed things much better than appear."

But Adam gave his head a toss,
And scowled: "Remember who is boss!"
So off they went, as Adams guessed,
(While poor Eve followed on,) due west.

Now, as folks will who compass lack,
They turned around upon their track,
And, when their strength had almost ceased,
They saw the sun burst from—the east.

"What did I tell you?" Adam cried.
"'Tis well on me that you relied.
How sad, if I'd not wits to run;
Now, see, at last we've caught the sun!"

Happiness.

I followed far o'er heath and desert land
The fairy gleaming of a distant light;
A shining lure, that beckoned as a hand,
And with fair promise pierced the hostile night.

O'er rugged stones, and marsh, and slimy clay,
And clinging tanglings of the thorny brier;
But still the dancing light shone far away,
And at my feet lay stagnant waste and mire.

Weary, I paused, and, turning in the track,
Glanced where the long, bleak, barren hills declined,
And lo! athwart the trailing, ragged wrack,
The wizard beacon glimmered far behind.

AMONG MEN OF ACTION.

If Henry James, the novelist, returns to his home in the Isle of Wight and writes biting things about American manners, the people of Los Angeles may find themselves targets for some of his shafts.

Mr. James is too much of a gentleman to make any complaint, but the fact is that he has been telephoned almost to the limit of his forbearance. He is paying the penalty of his genius in the form of tolls on his patience.

It is so many years since the author of "Daisy Miller" left his native New York to take up his residence abroad that he may have forgotten somewhat the homage paid to matinée idols on Broadway and elsewhere, but he is learning something about it now—right in Los Angeles.

Fancy the creator of "The Bostonians"—past sixty, and a bachelor—answering a knock at his door and finding a bellboy there with a large basket of flowers and a note in a feminine hand from a person of whom he never heard!

The Britisher by adoption surely must think this is the awkward age of culture, when he takes down the telephone receiver in his room and is queried as to just what Maisie knew. It would take other than a passionate pilgrim to restrain his feelings in replying to such a question.

Mr. James has received several requests to deliver lectures during his stay here, and members of clubs and literary societies have asked him for readings from his works. The autograph chaser also has been busy, and one admirer is said to have called up the writer and asked him if he had any of his books to sell. No, this was not a woman.

One of the most amusing tales of the novelist's telephone experiences has leaked out.

The telephone bell in his room rang at 7:30 o'clock a morning or two ago. Its continual jangle finally roused the writer from a sound sleep. Slipping on his dressing gown, he stepped to the receiver.

A soft, low voice came over the line. After the customary "hello," which struck the listener as decidedly informal, the voice wanted to know if this was Mr. James.

It was.

She passed some remarks about the lovely morning; wanted to know how long Mr. James would be in the city; how he liked the climate; when he expected to write another book; how he left "Mrs. James," and a few other commonplaces.

Then came an awkward pause on the part of Mr. James. A person who might have been in the room likely would have seen the writer fidget a bit as he stood there in the morning air.

Something further came over the line—somewhat urgent, this time.

Again there was a pause, the listener at the hotel end finally ejaculating:

"An interview!"

The urgent entreaty was repeated.

With one great effort, Mr. James is said to have pulled himself together and, in a loud, stagey tone, to have replied:

"Why, madam, it is impossible—I am in a semi-nude state of dress."

"The recent water congress in Los Angeles has made itself felt by increasing interest in the irrigation work of the country," said C. B. Boothe, chairman of the Southern California section of the National Irrigation Association.

"It is strange, but the work of the local section prior to that meeting had been done in greater part by Los Angeles members. Since the water congress, however, the outside places have manifested much more interest. Workers for the betterment of forest and water conditions in this section have become more closely aligned and there is promise that their efforts will be more telling than before.

"Since that congress there has been a large addition to the Executive Committee of the Southern California section. The presidents of the Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade and other important bodies of various cities have become members of this committee, raising its membership from eighteen to thirty-three and giving representation to nearly every community.

"This augmented Executive Committee will meet in Los Angeles within a short time and it is likely that added impetus will be given to the work projected by the old committee, which has held monthly meetings regularly, quietly but effectually carrying out its plans.

"Among the projects that will receive early attention is that of aiding in the construction of more trails in the mountains, for the better protection of the covering of the watersheds.

"Another consummation that is expected within a reasonable time is a complete survey of this entire section by the government, for the purpose of determining the water possibilities, giving to every intending purchaser accurate knowledge as to whether land can be irrigated or if it forever must remain dry. This information should b available to all and will be if the present plans are carried out.

"A matter that will be of interest to attendants at the water congress is that the Interior Department has requested a copy of its proceedings, to be included in its water supply papers. These proceedings soon are to be published."

"The hotel business in Los Angeles this season has been 50 per cent. in excess of that of last year," said Proprietor Loomis of the Angelus, yesterday. "While the 'rush' is just about breaking, there still is an unusual number of transients in the city, and it will be several weeks before they all get away.

"This has been an unusually long season, too. Before it is ended there will have been at least ninety days in which the hotels of the city have been filled, not to speak of the months when they are only partly full. Last season the 'rush' lasted for little more than thirty days.

"The coming of the 'rush' can be looked for almost without variance on January 20. Some sudden impulse seems to send the bulk of the advance guard of tourists from their eastern homes so that they reach here on that date.

"The tourist trade of Los Angeles can be looked upon as an accurate barometer of business conditions throughout the country. When times are good the number of tourists increases and vice versa. Last season's lightness is attributed to the condition of the stock market.

"Influences that are potent in holding the people here, after they have been attracted by the climate and the excellent advertising by teh railroads, are the number and excellence of the hotels of this part of the State. There was a time when tourists stopped here but a short time and then went on to the North. Now the situation is reversed, and the northern part of the State gets the brief end of the visit.

"Once the arrival of an excursion party of tourists from the East was an event—now it is an incident. The first one of these parties that went to San Diego a number of years ago was met at Yuma by a committee from that city. That was when the Coronado Hotel and the Raymond at Pasadena, were practically the only accommodations we had to offer tourists.

"Present indications are that next season will be even better than this, and that we shall have an increasing number of visitors each year."

TRIBUTE TO HAY.

An Old Newspaper Man's Remarks About the Character of the Secretary of State.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—"Men may be famous, and yet not well known individually," says William B. Shaw, the oldest newspaper correspondent in the national capital.

"For example, our eminent and worthy Secretary of State, Hon. John Hay, who is now said to be critically ill, is the least known and the least understood of all public men now on the stage of life's action. I came here as a working newspaper man in 1853; think of it, fifty-two years ago. I have seen and been acquainted with all of our public men, including our Presidents; and I have known the majority of them intimately.

"The newspaper men of the present day are acquainted with public men, and they know some of them intimately; but not one of them knows Secretary Hay; the man, as he really is and has his being. I know him, though; and I know him because I have been acquainted with him from the days of his obscurity, to the years of his eminence.

"In the old Willard's Hotel, where soldiers and statesmen of Civil War times thronged the corridors and lobby, the young man, John Hay, came to be a guest in 1861, as assistant stenographer to President Lincoln's private secretary, Nicolay. I lived there and saw young Hay every night. He was a little fellow, unobtrusive, cheerful, always smiling and trying to make himself agreeable. He wore a dress suit and looked well in it; but he was as thin as a match. I went out of my way to tell him all that I knew of public men, and gave him some advice as to how to deal with this, that and the other Senator or Representative who visited the White House. I found him to be a very apt young man, and a lovely character. He was never given to dissipation; even in those days when there was no temperance sentiment in our country. I knew him when he was in the army, and when he went into diplomatic positions. His advances never changed his demeanor. He was always modest, and is so today.

"When he came here to be McKinley's Secretary of State, I called on him and was greeted with great cordiality. I could see no change in John Hay, save the change caused by the passing years. He was a little more grave, but not one bit 'stuck up,' as so many people have regarded him, and spoken of him.

"In the high position to which he was called it was necessary for him to be dignified; and to the newspaper men and others who did not know the John Hay of Lincoln's administration he has seemed to be a cold, haughty, aristocratic official. It is because I know him, as others could not know him, that I want to say these things for him, so that the people, as many as can be reached, may know the fact that their great Secretary of State is, and always has been, a man of the plain people. Wealth, honors, fame and distinctions have come to him; and he has worn them worthily and well; but, in his heart of hearts, the great diplomat now on the ocean seeking restoration to health, is no more aristocratic now than he was in his young manhood; and his life has always shown to me and to the few who have known him well, that the example of his first great tutor and friend, Abraham Lincoln, has been with him and is still with him. I hope and pray that he may return to the duties of his high office; for the whole world needs him now. No man could do more than he would do; than he wants right now to do, to make forceful and successful efforts to stop the needless war in Manchuria."

The King Ditched His Car.

King Leopold, while in the South of France the other day, gave proof of an immense amount of presence of mind and of not a little pluck and unselfishness. While riding in his motor at a high rate of speed along the splendid Corniche Road he suddenly saw in the middle of the road a woman pushing a perambulator and leading by the hand a little child. The car was traveling at nearly forty miles an hour. There was no time to stop and no room in which to turn aside, for the road was narrow and there was a precipice on one side and a ditch on the other. "Reverse and run into the ditch," ordered the King, and his chauffeur obeyed. The big car, shaken from stem to stern by the power of the reversing lever, slackened speed sensibly, swerved, whirled to one side and tumbled into the ditch on its side.

A minute or so later an elderly gentleman, with white hair and long white beard, picked himself painfully up out of the ditch, wiped the dirt from his face and clothing, and then, removing his hat, courteously endeavored to allay the alarm of the terror-stricken woman and children.

Of course, King Leopold in shooting his car had done the only thing to be done under the circumstances; but few even of the most experienced and level-headed of motorists would have had the presence of mind and the courage to do it just at that particular instant.—[New York Tribune.

A Premium on Dishonor.

Many generals have lost battles who nevertheless fill a high niche in history. Napoleon was the world's great military genius, and yet this did not save him from defeat at Waterloo and death as a British prisoner. So, Robert E. Lee deservedly occupies a distinguished place as a soldier, yet he surrendered to Grant.

But the retirement of Kuropatkin without a word of commendation from the government which he served so loyally is typical of the modern state of mind, which worships success and looks upon failure as little less than crime. The same kind of test is applied in the business world, and responsible for much that works for evil. We are too prone to worship success, however obtained, whether it be with corruption or reached through oppression; while failure appears to us as odious, however faithful may have been the effort and unavoidable the disaster. This puts a premium on dishonor.—[Wall Street Journal.

An Example for Editors.

The British author, in his struggle, knows what it is to have manuscripts returned with the form "Declined, with thanks." The struggling French author is accustomed to the stereotyped phrase, "Immense mille regrets." But how much more they manage this affair in the East! What does a Chinese editor say about the MS. he is returning? "I have redd it with infinite delight, the holy ashes of our ancestors do swear that we have never seen its perb a masterpiece. His Majesty, the Emperor, our exalted master, has commanded were to print it, would command all men to take it as a model, and never to publish anything of a less striking quality. As we could not obey this order more than once in ten thousand years, we are compelled to send back your manuscript, and beg a thousand thousand pardons." British editors and publishers please copy!—[London Chronicle.

New Stock Company.

With characteristic energy Clay Drown has been quietly busy in the formation of a new stock company for the Grand Operahouse, and yesterday gave The Times his list of new players. As before, the aggregation will be known as the "Ulrich Company," and the local manager has collected his talent from different quarters of the United States, while one comes from Australia.

The opening bill, to be put on next week, will be a dramatization of Conan Doyle's "Sign of the Four," one of the most absorbing stories of Sherlock Holmes. The company will remain permanently through the entire season.

Richard Buhler, the leading man, never before played west of the Mississippi; he is said to be of striking appearance and athletic build. Miss Clifton, leading actress, is also new to Los Angeles, coming here from Brooklyn. John Harrington, "heavy," is known through his former connection with James Neill's company and the Majestic Theater of San Francisco. Brenda Fowler, a woman whose work corresponds to that of Harrington, has never played in Los Angeles before; neither has Henry Auerbach, comedian, who comes from W. A. Brady's forces. Hope Mayne, soubrette, is but two months from Australia, and this is her first American engagement.

John Bryson, character actor, has been associated with Frederick Warde. Good productions of "popular" plays of action and excitement—such is Manager Drown's motto.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Kreisler, Genius.

Fritz Kreisler, one of the half-dozen great violinists of the world, entertained a fair-sized, musically-cultured audience, at Simpson Auditorium last evening. Kreisler is a young American, 29 years old, they say. He is large and handsome. He stands upon the platform, at least six feet of lithe, supple, muscled manhood, broad as a prize fighter in the shoulders, with a commanding head crowned with a heavy mass of black hair. Here is an idea of Kreisler, if you have not seen him: Take as the groundwork of your imagination-picture the burly Chinaman of last year's celebrity; divest Chinaman of his awkwardness and ill-grace, increase his clothes into style, put regular lines into his face and figure, and you will have Fritz Kreisler.

The basis of any violinist's claim to celebrity rests primarily upon quality of his tone. Technique is as essential as the joining together of a building's composite parts—but the stones are not the house, neither is technique music. If the violin-tone is rich, deep, warm, sympathetic—human, then the player is one whose melodies command respect; if not, he is not a violinist; he is a fiddler.

Kreisler's tone is wonderful, both for its dramatic strength and gorgeous richness, but for its strikingly original character. In all but pianissimo passages it has a peculiar ringing quality, a reverberating brilliance like that caused by sounding a clear bell—when it is in rapid motion through the air. In the softest phrases an original fullness of note, piercingly sweet, subtle in its vague and even wierd suggestion, added to the fine Kreislerian charm.

His playing is dramatic—first of all it is dazzling in its command of many colored cadences, its striking changes, its brilliance of conception and dazzling accomplishment. Next, it is romantic, legato measures cloying with a dripping wealth of delicious sweetness, amorous passages glowing with the poesy of moonlight radiance. In the pathetic, Kreisler has yet masters, but little, and his sorrow is always the woe of one who has heard; not that of one who has felt.

It is in this one respect that the Kreisler of the future will doubtless far excel the Kreisler of today. Years have not yet added to his mental store the fruits of experience and suffering. His bow is yet full of the joy of life; there is little room for misery. I must not be understood that Kreisler is cold, far from that. Every warm note that falls from his fingers pulsates with tenderness and feeling.

In technique, as the last of the qualities which make this young genius great, the player has mastered the difficulties of mere mechanism. To play as he plays, an instrumentalist must have conquered mere material difficulties so thoroughly as to have completely forgotten them.

In person, Kreisler is apparently the farthest removed from emotionalism. Playing, his whole body sways with the violin nestled under his chin, but with the fall of the final note he becomes a sober personality of conventional staidness. Extraordinary applause could not draw one smile from him last evening, and hand-clapping until hands were sore failed to elicit a single encore until almost at the end of the programme. Here, after an exquisite translation of Dvorak's dreamy "Humoresque," Arnold Krauss, leader of local violinists, led the plaudits unrelentingly on to a final conquest of the unwilling master in the dressing-room.

One of Kreisler's greatest numbers was the Vieuxtemps concerto, No. 2, which he played as the second number of his list. The fire and fury of his dramatic talent was fully portrayed throughout this, and he kept its entire interpretation to a level of exalted greatness that elicited almost unrelenting applause at its conclusion. The lyric side of his art was beautifully exemplified in a Couperin chanson, fairly sung from his strings in swaying rhythms that swept the air like the heart-felt tones of a marvelous voice. Sweetness, tenderness, simplicity—all the attributes of genuine lyric beauty were there.

Quite in a place by itself belongs the Dvorak composition mentioned before, worked in a delicate mosaic of fine, elusive sound—flute-notes that left the listener eagerly leaning forward for their echo, the suggestion and promise of something lying beyond in an unreachable elysium of song was the wonder-point.

The concluding selection, Wieniawski's fantastic of Russian airs, was played in a plaintive spirit, mirth dully tinged with the melancholy of a primeval people.

In conclusion, be it said that this remarkable young man will play again at Simpson Auditorium on Friday evening. He is not "assisted" by anyone, and save the clever accompaniments of Carl A. Preyer, no other sound is heard save that of his violin. A splendid programme will be given Friday night.

Ellery-Wagner.

The Ellery Band's final Wagner programme will be given tonight at Chutes Theater, and will include numbers from "Parsifal," "Tannhauser" and "Lohengrin." "La Tosca" will also be played, and lovers of beautiful tone will doubtless enjoy the duet work of Signori Lepomte and Palma.

One of Kreisler's greatest numbers was the Vieuxtemps concerto, No. 2, which he played as the second number of his list. The fire and fury of his dramatic talent was fully portrayed throughout this, and he kept its entire interpretation to a level of exalted greatness that elicited almost unrestinting applause at its conclusion. The lyric side of his art was beautifully exemplified in a Couperin chanson, fairly sung from his strings in swaying rhythms that swept the air like the heart-felt tones of a marvelous voice. Sweetness, tenderness, simplicity—all the attributes of genuine lyric beauty were there.

Quite in a place by itself belongs the Dvorak composition mentioned before. Worked in a delicate mosaic of fine, elusive sound—flute-notes that left the listener eagerly leaning forward for their echo, the suggestion and promise of something lying beyond in an unreachable elysium of song was the wonder-point.

The concluding selection, Wieniawski's fantasia of Russian airs, was played in a plaintive spirit, mirth dully tinged with the melancholy of a primeval people.

In conclusion, be it said that this remarkable young man will play again at Simpson Auditorium on Friday evening. He is not "assisted" by anyone, and save the clever accompaniments of Carl A. Preyer, no other sound is heard save that of his violin. A splendid programme will be given Friday night.

Ellery-Wagner.

The Ellery Band's final Wagner programme will be given tonight at Chutes Theater, and will include numbers from "Parsifal," "Tannhauser" and "Lohengrin." "La Tosca" will also be played, and lovers of beautiful tone will doubtless enjoy the duet work of Signori Lomonte and Palma.

Poinsettia Musicale.

The sale of seats for the Poinsettia musicale has been large, and the committee is much encouraged. This affair, as has been announced in The Times, is to be given in aid of the home for homeless boys. A house has already been secured, and everything is being done to make them comfortable.

A number of prominent local players and singers will be heard at this musicale. Tickets are on sale at Fitzgerald's music store.

FORGER ARRESTED.

Harry Bigelow, for Whom the Police Have Been Looking Since November, Picked up Last Night.

Harry Bigelow a man for whom the police have been searching since last November, was arrested last night by Patrolman Ditsen and Detectives Jones and Wood.

Bigelow is wanted for forgery. Four months ago a well-dressed man apparently forty-five years old appeared in the Alameda saloon No. 501 East First street, and after buying a number of drinks, he produced a check for $45 signed C. G. Finlayson, and asked the proprietor Charles Nelson to cash it. As Bigelow was "buying," the proprietor handed over the money without question. The following day the check was pronounced a forgery by the bank.

Bigelow went under the names of Smith and Finlayson for a while and he managed to cleverly elude the police for months. The officers think other charges of forgery can be successfully laid to his account.

Exclusive Spring Costumes

The spring's model costumes are made of chiffon Taffeta, voile, the new crepe de chine and drap d'ete. Their styles are demi-tailored and combined with lace, passementerie and velvet. Many of the waists on favored costume models are of the pleated sort, drawn into high bodices, with gulmpes and stocks of such laces as Point Venise, Irish crochet and embroidered batiste. The sleeves, in the majority of cases, are very bouffant from shoulder to elbow, and finished with a long cuff made either of the cloth or of lace to match collar and yoke.

The skirts are made very full from the waist line, planned to hang in flowing, graceful folds. Some skirts are made with the pleats going forward and finishing in bias folds; other models show the pleats going backward from a box pleat in the front and hanging perfectly full and slightly trained in the back.

Brown taffeta Suspender Suit; sleeves elbow length; pleated girdle, full skirt, shirred between wide box pleats $37.50

One particularly handsome suit shown here this spring is of light sage green chiffon taffeta; bodice of embroidered net; short puffed sleeve, for wear with long gloves. The skirt is very full and pleated, falling loose from the hips $55.00

A costume of light Parsifal blue crepe de chine, having fancy shirred waist, with wide pleated girdle of chiffon taffeta, full puff sleeves, and yoke and deep cuffs of point Venise lace; skirt very full, with shirred top and deep shirred flounce finished with three rows of tucks, is priced at $60.50

Many other charming models in stock, of which space permits no mention today.

LEAVES PULPIT TO FIGHT GIN.

SAN BERDOO PREACHER IS A LEAGUE MAN NOW.

Presbyterian Divine, Terror of Daggett Liquor Sellers, Resigns His Pastorate to Take a Position With the Anti-Saloon Organization—Attorneys Making Fight for Wilson.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 28.—Rev. D. McG. Gandier has resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, to take a position with the Anti-Saloon League.

He is the man who is directly responsible for the prohibition victory at Daggett at the last general election, when the question of local option was quietly slipped on to the ballot for that community, and the liquor interests were only aware of its importance when the vote was canvassed by the board of supervisors weeks later, and it was made known that Daggett had voted itself dry almost unanimously.

The liquor interests filed a complaint in an effort overthrow that election, and their complaint was knocked out on a demurrer, the court giving them ten days to file an amended complaint. Since then the case has been hanging fire, but for what reason not even the liquor men can say, though their amended complaint has not yet been filed.

If the result of the election is allowed to take its course Daggett will be a dry town after July 15, when all the licenses will expire.

STILL FIGHTING FOR WILSON.

Frank Wilson, recently convicted of manslaughter for killing Louis Depuy at Barstow, was before Judge Bledsoe this morning for sentence. His attorney made a motion for a new trial on the ground of the admission of evidence at the hearing tending to show that hte defendant was guilty of committing a misdemeanor or felony two hours before the killing, and that by that testimony the minds of the jury were improperly influenced against him. The evidence complained of went to prove that Wilson had been involved in a fight with several miners who charged him with having flim-flammed him, and that he had choked one and pounded him in the face. The court took the motion under advisement until Thursday morning.

CHINO SCHOOL LAWSUIT.

The trustees of the Chino High School district have commenced suit against the trustees of the Ontario High School district to enjoin them from permitting Miss Mary Watson, a 17-year-old Chino girl, to attend the Ontario High School. Upon the result of the suit practically depends the life of the Chino district, which depends for support upon the State, and cannot get State funds unless the attendance at the high schools shows a certain percentage. Lately many Chino residents have been sending their children into the Ontario district, thereby reducing the membership at the Chino schools below the required percentage.

SAN BERDOO RIVETS.

Chris Geuckel, who was caught by Mrs. J. P. Armstrong of Chino in the act of burglarising her residence near Chino the other day, this afternoon pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in the second degree and was sentenced to San Quentin for a term of eighteen months by Judge Bledsoe.

William Flynn, a Santa Fé brakeman, ran amuck in a chop house here last night, driving all the occupants out by a bombardment with crockery. After a terrific fight with the police he was landed behind the bars, with a badly beaten head and a broken finger. It is claimed that the other men in the chop house thought they would play a trick on Flynn while he sat in a drunken stupor and poured hot coffee in his mouth.

Deputy Sheriff Case and Charles Post will leave Friday morning for San Francisco to return with Miguel Antony the condemned murderer of Lee Gar, who will be brought before Judge Bledsoe April 3, for passing of the death sentence. It is likely that before sentence is passed a lunacy board will examine into his mental condition.

The trial of the $25,000 damage suit which was instituted by Mrs. Helen L. Muvaney against the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company was begun this morning. The suit is for damages resulting from the death of her husband, Michael Mulvaney, who was killed last September in a collision with a Redlands car.

Grain ranchmen are blue over the outlook, their crops having in many instances become little better than a dead loss, owing to the dampness of the soil, which is moulding the grain, and in some cases hundreds of acres have turned yellow and headed out when but a foot high.

COLTON.

PNEUMONIA TAKES TWINS.

COLTON, March 28.—Roth and Carl, the little twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beeding, born about three months ago, are both dead. They died with pneumonia about two weeks apart. Mrs. Beeding left today for Burlington, Iowa, where the little ones will be buried.

The Agua Mansa Water Company has elected officers as follows: F. A. Setley of Riverside, president; W. E. Pedley of Riverside, vice-president; Dan Johnston of Colton, secretary; Frank Louis and W. B. Merriman of Riverside, directors.

Webster Truxel and Miss Elizabeth Theodora Smith, both of Colton, were married yesterday in San Bernardino. They will make their home in this city.

Mrs. Will Shepardson expects to leave Thursday for her home in Marble Rock, Iowa. Mrs. E. F. Van Luven will accompany her and remain several months in the East; also, Charles Losee, who spent the winter in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dohmar, James Dohmar, Frank Carpenter and William Wiltsy, who spent two months this winter in Colton, have returned to their homes in Placerville.

Mrs. M. C. McCormick of Los Angeles, Mrs. A. M. Putman, Miss Saunders and Miss Florence Putman of Lincoln, Neb., are guests of Mrs. E. Wilkerson. They have just returned from a visit of several months in Honolulu.

SANTA ANA.

OLD BRIDGE GOES DOWN.

SANTA ANA, March 28.—The Fifth-street bridge over the Santa Ana River, in a weakened condition for several weeks as a result of the heavy flow of water, was put out of commission yesterday. A heavy double load of grain and flour from the Olive Milling Company bound for the west of the river district, and weighing at least ten tons, was passing over the structure when fifty feet of it collapsed, dropping from two to seven feet. The team and wagon escaped without injury. Notices had already been posted by Supervisor Fulsom warning heavy traffic to keep off and a special warning had been sent to the Olive mills, which were known to be using it for big loads. Teams trying to ford the river at Fifth street got caught in the quicksands and all traffic has accordingly been diverted to First and Seventeenth streets. In case of another flood teams would have to go by way of Orange. It will require three weeks to repair the damage.

MANY-ALIAS HORSE THIEF.

It develops that the man who stole a horse and rig from William Dayton at the Star Stables two weeks ago and sold it in Los Angeles is the horse thief of many aliases, who was arrested in Fresno Saturday on a warrant from Pasadena. Here he passed under the name of Edward McKean. In Los Angeles he used the name Stone and in Pasadena he was known as E. L. Kennedy. At other times he has passed as McKim and Dawson. His mother lives in Sacramento. If the charge against him in Pasadena is not pressed he will be brought here to answer to grand larceny. While here he bore a good reputation.

Frank Lewis, a horse dealer, was arrested today charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Ten days ago he bought a team from Roy Trunnell and tendered in payment a sight draft on Fred Stringer of Twelfth and Howard streets, San Francisco. The draft was returned unhonored. Subsequent attempts to settle the bill proved unavailing. Lewis pleaded not guilty this afternoon and his examination was set for April 8. A similar count is held against the man by S. Obarr for a team of valuable horses.

Luther T. Barwise of Orange was adjudged insane in the Superior Court today and taken to Highand this afternoon. A year ago Barwise thought he was a second Pierpont Morgan and was going to build a string of steam laundries at Orange. He was treated at the State Hospital a few months and then discharged.

Yesterday evening at the home of the bride in Tustin, Miss Susie J. Griset and John Fresman of San Bernardino were married by Rev. George C. Butterfield of the First Presbyterian Church. A wedding supper was served.

ANAHEIM.

FOR PATHOLOGICAL STATION.

ANAHEIM, March 28.—A mass-meeting was held here last night to take steps to secure the pathological station provided for by the last legislature. Fred Ahlborn was elected president and Mr. Hooper secretary. A committee of five will procure a site—about an acre—which is to be offered free to the State.

The Puente Oil Company is installing storage tanks here and will soon make Anaheim a general distributing point for this part of the county. It was announced today that Mr. Okey, who has been connected with the company in Los Angeles for many years, will be the resident manager.

Mrs. Watson is building a $1000 cottage on south Los Angeles street.

W. B. Goodwin left today for Pecos, Texas.

SUNDAY MUSIC STIRS TOWN.

RIVERSIDE CLERGY OBJECT TO HOLY DAY CONCERTS.

But City Trustees Grant Permission to Play in the Park—Town Fathers Will Adopt Curfew Ordinance—Prospect Good for Catholic Academy.

RIVERSIDE, March 28.—The question of Sunday band concerts excited a spirited discussion at the meeting of the City Trustees this morning. Nearly all the members of the Ministers' Union were present to oppose the project, while numerous friends of the band boys spoke in their favor.

For a year past the Riverside Military Band has been trying to persuade the city fathers to pay them for playing in the A. S. White Park on Sunday afternoons, but the fathers, being short of funds, were not easy to persuade. Recently the band commenced a canvass among the business men of the city, and appealed to the Chamber of Commerce for help, with the result that the pay desired has been guaranteed.

Now it merely asks for permission to play. This afternoon the board voted to allow the band the use of the park for band concerts as desired.

WILL HAVE CURFEW.

"It is the sense of this board that a curfew ordinance be adopted," was the vote of the City Trustees today, in response to the petition presented by the W. C. T. U. The petition, which the women of the union have been circulating, was numerously signed by taxpayers and parents, and represented such a strong sentiment in its favor that the members of the board, had they objected personally to the innovation, would hardly have cared to oppose it. As soon as the ordinance can be prepared by the City Attorney, it will be adopted.

CATHOLIC ACADEMY.

Steps are being taken by Bishop Conaty and prominent Catholics of this city to establish a Catholic academy on the block owned and occupied by St. Francis de Sales's Church on Twelfth street. The block is a fine one and well suited for the purpose, and it is understood that as soon as the amount necessary can be raised the academy and Sisters' residence will be erected. At a meeting held a few days ago at the Glenwood, with Bishop Conaty, Judge and Mrs. O'Connor of San José, and a few prominent Catholics of the city present, over $6000 was subscribed toward the $12,000 needed. Judge O'Connor, who is wealthy, spends his winters at the Glenwood, and he and Mrs. O'Connor are the leading spirits in the enterprise.

George Frost and Frank A. Miller are other large subscribers toward the fund. Bishop Conaty, it is stated, will not permit the work to be begun until the $12,000 is subscribed, but those who know Mrs. O'Connor, her energy and her devotion to her church, expect to see the academy building erected this summer. Many wealthy Catholics come to Riverside every winter, and would remain if their children could be sure of a denominational school.

TO REBUILD AT IDYLLWIND.

The Idyllwild Mountain Resort Company has let the contract to S. L. Spaulding of Los Angeles for rebuilding the hotel, which was burned a few months ago. The building, which will not include bedrooms, will be of rustic, on a boulder foundation, with natural wood pillars, and but a single story in height. There will be a large ballroom, dining-room, kitchen, verandas, billiard-room, etc., with beam ceilings, and the rough decorations appropriate for a mountain resort. The guests will continue to be lodged in tents as heretofore. The contract price of the new building is $16,860, and the contract calls for its completion before June 1.

DANIELS WILL BE THERE.

Congressman Daniels will be home from Washington with his son, Clyde, and will be in attendance on the Tom Hays trial in Los Angeles. Clyde Daniels, book-keeper of the wrecked Orange Growers' Bank, was the first to discover that the books had been doctored by Hays. He confided his discovery to his brother-in-law, M. J. Twogood, assistant cashier of the bank, and the two went with their discovery to G. Rouse, president. What next happened is a matter of history.

CORONA.

HORSEMEN ORGANIZE.

CORONA, March 28.—The Corona Percheron Horse Association has been organized with the following officers and directors: W. L. Lyman, president; A. B. Tuthill, secretary; M. Terpening, treasurer; Joseph Clapp, E. Sandos and R. W. English.

SCHMIDT TRIES TO BREAK JAIL.

SAWS, NIPPERS, ACID AND ROPES FOUND IN HIS CELL.

Prisoner Had Sawed Half Way Through Cell Lock and Had Tried Saws and Acid on Steel Bars—Officers Believe Tools Were Conveyed to Prisoner by His Wife.

An attempted escape from the Los Angeles County Jail was defeated, yesterday forenoon, by discoveries made by Under-Sheriff Yonkin and Capt. White, the jailor. Had the plan been successful, it would have released one of the worst burglars in the county bastile—C. H. Schmidt, the "wagon-load house breaker" from Long Beach.

Taken from Schmidt's cell, which overlooks Buena Vista street, and which is but four or five feet from one of the big windows of the county building, was a complete equipment for cutting through the chilled-steel cells, locks and window gratings, and a coil of stout rope obviously for use in lowering an escaping prisoner from the window to the sidewalk, a distance of thirty-five feet.

The items of the collection are as follows: One saw for cutting steel, set in heavy frame; eleven extra saw blades, all of the best quality; a pair of wire nippers; two bottles of acid for eating the steel or locks; one coil of rope, probably fifty feet in length.

All this plunder was found secreted in a hand satchel in Schmidt's cell. He pretended to be very much surprised at its discovery, and declared that he knew nothing about it.

The lock on the cell is sawed almost half in two, and there are two places on the bars of the west wall which show that the acid and saw blade had been tried on them. Had an opening been made through the cell, the escape through the window to the ground would have been a comparatively easy job.

Schmidt has been sentenced to eight years' imprisonment at Folsom for the wholesale burglaries at Long Beach. It will be remembered he was a well-known contractor at the seaside town, where he lived with his wife, daughter and two stepsons. After residents of Long Beach had suffered from a series of extensive house robberies, suspicion was directed to the Schmidt home, and when it was searched a vast amount of booty was discovered.

After the arrest of the whole family, Mrs. Schmidt confessed, but she was finally discharged and Schmidt and the two stepsons were held for trial. Finally Schmidt owned up everything, but claimed that he alone was responsible, as he had forced the boys to accompany him. The boys were set free and Judge Smith sentenced Schmidt as stated above.

Schmidt asked for a stay of execution for ten days so that he might arrange his business affairs, and this was granted. At the expiration of that period another ten days' stay was asked and given. Finally, on Monday morning, Schmidt appeared before Judge Smith and put up a plea for a further extension, so that he might leave his affairs in shape for his family before beginning his eight years' sentence. This also was granted.

At the County Jail the officers have believed all this time that Schmidt was a tricky prisoner and that he would attempt to evade serving his sentence. He was placed in what is known as the sick ward, where he was confined with only five or six others. In this ward there are four cells, with accommodations for eight prisoners, and it opens directly off the dining-room for the trusties and the jail kitchen. Here Schmidt could be kept well under surveillance.

Mrs. Schmidt has been visiting her husband at every opportunity, and he has always gone down to the office to see her. It is the belief that she concealed the tools in her clothing and thus conveyed them to her husband.

In the cell adjoining Schmidt was Olsen, the Scandinavian who is connected with a diamond-stealing case. It was Olsen who gave the officers the tip. This was received day before yesterday, and a trusty was placed on the watch, with the hope that Schmidt might be caught in the act.

But when the court gave Schmidt a third extension of ten days, the Under-Sheriff and jailor thought it was time to call a halt to the prisoner's plans, and they instituted the search which brought to light the outfit with which he had hoped to effect his escape.

Just before the discoveries, his wife had visited him, and when the find was made she was detained. As Schmidt was passing down to the office to be searched, he reached his hand back to his wife and thrust a fifty-dollar bill into her hand. This was immediately detected, and the woman declared that she had that very morning given the money to her husband to pay on a lot which they were purchasing. It is the belief of the officers that Mrs. Schmidt had provided the money for his use, had he been able to escape, and they are confident that she is responsible for the tools reaching the prisoner.

It is not the belief of Under-Sheriff Yonkin that other prisoners besides Olsen were aware of Schmidt's plans, although had he been able to make his escape, others doubtless would have attempted it.

The Sheriff at once took the outfit int. court, and on a presentation of the facts, Judge Smith vacated the stay of execution and ordered the immediate commitment of Schmidt to the penitentiary.

Last night Schmidt was taken, heavily shackled, by Deputy Sheriff George Connert to Folsom. He will be closely watched until safely landed behind the doors at the State institution.

Not Secret Methods Not Guess Work

When I promise a cure I mean just what I say. I will know the exact conditions, what to do and how to do it. Many men are treated for conditions they do not have. Guess work is unreliable and uncertain. I have for years contended that the only reliable method of treatment is one that is personally conducted. There is no other way to be sure of good results.

Functional Weakness

Affections of the prostate gland frequently exist in connection with urethral trouble, and in these cases, like those of urethral disease, my treatment relieves the distressing condition and in no wise interferes with the local treatment which removes the exact cause. Chronic enlargement of the prostate in elderly persons is often followed by cystitis, with strong ammoniacal fermentation of the urine and severe irritation at neck of bladder, frequent desire, etc.

Varicocele

I cure in four to six days. Many men have treated unsuccessfully for varicocele. My treatment is painless and the results are complete and forever.

Stricture

I cure the right way once and for all. I remove all urethral obstructions. Inflammation and soreness and restore the membrane to a healthy condition, usually in ten to fifteen days.

Contracted Diseases

Failure to quickly cure these conditions is due to harsh measures, which are the direct cause for chronic conditions. My treatment is the most cleanly and perfect known.

I cure Rectal, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Piles, Fistula and Blood Diseases, Wasting, Nervous and Chronic Conditions causing functional derangement impairing strength and vitality.

A GOOD DEAL OF NONSENSE

About "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics."

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way, and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and, unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied, it is useless to attempt to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills" and "cathartics," which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but, of course, are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets, because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well; prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

We want to impress the fact on everyone that our treatment is based on thoroughly scientific methods, the result of knowledge acquired in our twenty-one years of actual and continuous work. Each individual treatment is prepared by us for this especial case. We have no use for and never prescribe patent medicines. Every case that comes to us is made our especial care and study. As the case progresses every condition is carefully noted, the patient getting just such treatment as conditions call for. We are thoroughly versed in all complications that may arise, and thus enabled to guard against many conditions that may delay or prove detrimental to the patient. We wish it implicitly understood that we always mean just what we say. We never advertise to do what we cannot do.

Kidney and Bladder Trouble

Dr. Harrison & Co. are phenomenally successful in these troubles, every case that comes to them is carefully examined and the true cause found for existing conditions. Our success in curing demonstrates the positive proof of our ability.

IN THE COUNCIL.

At the meeting of the City Council yesterday the ordinance calling a special election for the annexation of a portion of Altadena, was postponed one week at the request of J. R. Giddings, who started the annexation movement. Giddings intends to get up another petition for the annexation of about all that lies out doors in the northerly direction.

Capt. C. S. Simpson, appearing for W. P. Webb, who owns property at the southeast corner of Lake avenue and California street, claimed that owing to the defectiveness of the grading in that neighborhood, his property gets a drenching and a washing whenever there is a heavy rain. The complainant thinks that the city should be liable for damages in the case. It will be investigated.

OF LESSER IMPORT.

Though George C. Merrill disappeared over two weeks ago from his home, No. 729 East Villa street, not the slightest clue has been found.

John R. Slater, who for a number of years has been a deputy under the County Sheriff, is mentioned as likely material for the vacant office of Chief of Police. Slater has been proposed for the office a number of times in the past and it is said that he still has an eye on it.

The auction of choice of boxes at the coming horse show will be held at No. 104 East Colorado street, Kuranaga's, on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Col. W. J. Hogan, vice-president of the St. Louis Horse Show Association who is stopping at Hotel Maryland, will act as auctioneer.

Rev. C. H. Hobart, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city and now candidate for mayor on the Prohibition ticket, has been called to the pastorate of Calvary Baptist Church, Oakland.

The Pasadena Farmers' Club will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of J. C. Roeburg near Sierra Madre Villa. The water question will be discussed.

SPOOK-SHIVERS IN PASADENA.

DR. HEBER NEWTON DISCUSSES A WEIRD SUBJECT.

Men of Two Clubs Said to Have Quickened Their Paces in Dark Places on the Way Home—Organization to Aid Consumptives is in View—Realty Buys.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 24 South Raymond Ave., March 28.—Is there anything in "sperits," ghosts, hobgoblins and such like? Several hundred prominent business and professional men assembled at the Valley Hunt Club last night to discuss this question with Dr. Heber Newton, the illustrious London and New York divine who is spending the winter at Hotel Raymond. The meeting was called by President Walter A. Edwards of the Twilight Club and the members of the New Century Club were invited guests of the Twilighters. That is the men members were. There were no ladies present. The topic to be treated was too weird. Some women believe in spirits but of course men don't, and the sterner sex didn't want to run the risk of having to sleep o'nights with lighted candles in the room to drive away "hants."

For Dr. Newton believes in them. At least he declares that there is enough in the theory of spiritualism, clairvoyancy, etc., to warrant investigation. His lecture contained many of the features of the one delivered in the East recently which created such a furore and which every entertaining medium and fortune teller has clipped and wears in his or her hatband. Dr. Newton dealt with "The Undiscovered Country between Mind and Matter." He declared that while there are many frauds and fakirs in the business there is really something to it, and he urged that leniency be shown toward those who are demonstrating or attempting to demonstrate what it is. During the discussion which followed different opinions were expressed, but it is noteworthy that after the meeting most of the men went down the street in pairs and quickened their paces when they passed dark and secluded-looking hedges where spooks might lurk

TO AID CONSUMPTIVES.

About 250 prominent local women attended a meeting yesterday afternoon of the Current Events Class, which was addressed by Mrs. Chapin of Los Angeles. A question of growing interest was discussed, namely that of looking after poor but deserving victims of consumption, hundreds of whom arrive in Southern California with little or no idea of what to do to benefit themselves and with so little money that they are penniless ere the natural conditions have a chance to work benefit. The meeting may result in the formation of some sort of organization to which visiting invalids may apply upon their arrival and which will have the power to place them where their funds may be devoted to the most possible good.

Mrs. Garrett Newkirk of Altadena read an instructive paper in which she showed that the disease can be cured at very small expense and without much discomfort. Mrs. Newkirk spoke of the pulmonary sufferers who are living about Knob Hill. They have small tent houses, tents or cabins and spend their entire time in the open air and resting. Their living expenses don't amount to more than $5 or $6 a week per head. Mrs. Newkirk maintained that better results are secured in this mode of living than at the sanitarium and at only a fraction of the expense. Most of the deaths from tuberculosis occur because the patient and his relatives do not understand the difference between living within four walls and beneath the blue sky.

MORE BUYS.

Colin Stewart has purchased through the agency of Ernest H. Lockwood 100x220 feet on Orange Grove avenue between California and Palmetto street from Porter and Brainerd for $5000. Ernest H. Lockwood has purchased of C. R. Thomas the corner of Orange Grove avenue and Elevado Drive, 200x230 feet for $5000. S. C. Patterson and Co., report the sale of 112 feet frontage on South Euclid avenue near California street to J. R. Haddock for approximately $2500.

At the meeting of the City Council yesterday the ordinance calling a special election for the annexation of a portion of Altadena, was postponed one week at the request of J. R. COVINA.

MATRIMONIAL SURPRISES.

COVINA, March 28.—This week to date has been one of matrimonial surprises. Yesterday it became known that James S. Perry, a well-known young man, led to the altar on Saturday Miss Elsie Llewellyn, daughter of Mrs. Perry Bashore. The ceremony occurred in Los Angeles. The bride, a popular young lady, is a member of the Dunkard church. D. M. Abbott, another of Covina's young men, surprised his friends last evening by bringing home a bride, formerly Miss Ose O'Neill of Nordhoff. It has since leaked out that the wedding occurred at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. F. Johnson of Nordhoff, on the afternoon of the 22d inst. Both couples are now receiving the congratulations of a host of friends.

Dr. D. B. Cradiford, who has been practicing medicine in this city for three years, removed with his family to Redlands yesterday.

LORDSBURG.

NOTABLE SALE OF REALTY.

LORDSBURG, March 28.—A notable sale of realty was consummated today by W. T. Michael & Son, when F. E. Stebbins, a capitalist of Los Angeles, purchased the S. F. Owen ranch at La Verne. This property consists of a thirty-five-acre three-year-old orange grove, with a good residence and buildings. It is considered one of the choicest young groves in this part of the country. Included in the sale are twenty shares of stock in the Live Oak Water Company.

The consideration named is $37,000, and Mr. Owen takes in trade four fine residence income producing properties in the Westlake district of Los Angeles, valued, respectively, $20,000, $8,000, $7500 and $2000; total, $39,000, and Mr. Owen pays the difference, $12,000, in cash.

Mr. Stebbins's father and mother, who have resided in Los Angeles for a number of years, will move out to the La Verne ranch to live. Mr. Owen has been a resident of Pomona and this valley for over twenty years, during which time he has owned a number of choice orange groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen will shortly make an extended visit to their old home in Maine, after which they will settle in Pasadena.

SAME OLD GRAFT.

Scarcely a week passes but the public here is swindled by some peddler or canvasser, and, notwithstanding repeated exposures and warnings, there is always someone ready to bite. Yesterday a smooth article arrived in town, his manner was more brazen than that of his predecessors, and his victim was one of the estimable young ladies of this place. He stated that he represented a publishing house in Chicago, that the young lady had been recommended to him, to act as agent, her duties, he said, would not interfere with her domestic or social demands, in fact, the books really sold themselves, and all she would have to do would be to draw her salary of $2.50 per day.

The books were on "Oratory" and "Household Jewels."

With visions of a good income in sight the young lady signed the contract, the last clause of which was that in consideration of the privilege of drawing this handsome salary she was to pay the smooth article the sum of $10. This she paid.

Then came the awakening. She consulted E. T. Keiser, one of the leading merchants here, and together they went to the hotel where they found the man, demanding the $10 back, but in return they got a sample of "oratory" not found in Webster.

The village constable was appealed to to arrest the man, but he declined to act without a warrant. A hasty visit was then made to Pomona, and the Justice of the Peace was appealed to, but he declined to issue a warrant and advised that the $10 be charged to "experience account."

In the meantime the smooth article hastily left town, and was last seen headed for San Dimas.

DEATH OF D. L. MYERS.

David L. Myers died last night at the family residence. He was 74, and had been in feeble health for some time. He had lived here for many years, having been a prominent member of the German Baptist Brethren Church. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter.

The funeral will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Brethren Church.

BELL.

SCHOOL ON THE SQUARE.

BELL, March 28.—This recently-formed school district has been enlarged by the addition of part of the San Antonio district. Owing to the floods the latter school has been closed for some time, and about fifteen of the children have attended school here. The territory annexed squares the Bell district, the dividing lines being the west line of the Shirley ranch and the north line of the Cudahy ranch. The promoters of annexation have in view the formation eventually of a high-school district. An election is called for April 7 to appoint three trustees. The temporary trustees are J. G. Bell, J. H. Pettus and J. H. Clewett.

Work has been commenced on the first of two bridges to be erected over the Los Angeles River between Bell and Downey. Three times this season communication between these places has been cut off for several days by the flood waters. The bridges are to be fifty and 100 feet long, respectively.

PLAYA DEL REY.

MINNESOTANS TO MEET.

PLAYA DEL REY, March 28.—Tomorrow is the date fixed by the Gopher Club and the Minnesota Society for their picnic on this beach. The following programme will be rendered: Piano solo, Edna Schwartz; poem, Mrs. Miller; vocal solo, Mrs. G. B. Bacharn; recitation, Florence Austermeli; whistling solo, Bessie Hilfenberg; original poem, Fannie Fullerton; vocal solo, C. W. Bachman. There will also be five-minute talks, followed by dancing in the pavilion.

LINCOLN'S GIRL FRIEND DEAD.

PASSING IN OCEAN PARK OF ONE WHO KNEW HIM.

Mrs. Martha J. McCuistion Dies at Daughter's Home—When the Noted Rail Splitter Was Ill With Fever and Begging for Water She Ministered to Him.

OCEAN PARK, March 28.—Mrs. Martha J. McCuistion, who died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Therese Martin, on Lake street, knew Abraham Lincoln intimately during the first years of his life in Illinois. She was one of the little girls of his acquaintance while he resided at New Salem and felt the "poverty that pinched." At this time the "raw youth" of "quaint and pleasant speech" was splitting the rails that made him famous. She knew him as a surveyor and grocery merchant and in the course of her life time recited many reminiscences illustrating the character of the man.

In 1830, when Lincoln was 21 years old, Mrs. McCuistion (then Mattie Cameron) was 6 years of age. It was at about this period in his life that Lincoln was suffering from a severe attack of chills and fever. During the fever his thirst was terrible and he would plead with the little girl Mattie to get him a drink. One day after she had performed the service several times for him he said to her, "Please get me another drink and when I'm President of the United States I'll see that you are not forgotten."

Mrs. McCuistion frequently remarked in after life that this speech, carelessly made was fraught with meaning.

Mrs. McCuistion was a first cousin of Ann Rutledge, who was engaged to marry Lincoln and whose death in 1835 cast a shadow over the remaining days of his life. It was the fathers of Ann and Mrs. McCuistion who founded New Salem and built the historic mill over the dam of which Lincoln displayed such mechanical ingenuity in elevating a flatboat. Mrs. McCuistion was the daughter of Rev. John M. Cameron, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister and a devout man who officiated at the funeral of Ann Rutledge. Born in Kentucky in 1791 he moved with his family to Illinois in 1815, settling in Sangamon county in 1818 and eleven years later founding the town of New Salem.

For a period of about five years Lincoln lived with the Camerons. In the early thirties they removed to Fulton county and in the forties to Iowa. The rush of 1849 found them among the gold seekers bound for California, where they reared a family of twelve children, of whom eleven were girls. They lived many years at Healdsburg and later in Orange county.

To California pioneers Mrs. McCuistion will be remembered as the wife of Dr. B. B. Bonham, of Healdsburg. Some years after his death she was married to Noah McCuistion, who preceded her to the grave and is buried at Santa Ana. She was the aunt of Judge S. F. Bonham of Salem, Or., ex-chief justice of the Oregon Supreme Court and United States Consul to India under President Cleveand.

She was 81 years of age and prior to her fatal illness was in good heath. A week ago she was stricken with paralysis and passed into a deep sleep from which she never awakened.

The body will be given burial at Santa Ana Thursday.

OCEAN PARK BLASTS.

There is a rumor that an effort is making to move the postoffice a couple of blocks to the south in order to bring it within the city limits. It is now in Santa Monica.

James H. Blagge has tendered his resignation as city treasurer.

SANTA MONICA.

HAD NOTED RELATIVES.

SANTA MONICA, March 28.—The body of Mrs. Harriet Prentice Taylor, whose tragic death at the brink of a Sandwich Island volcano was reported a few days ago, arrived today and started on its journey to Norwich, Ct., where the burial will take place. Mrs. Taylor was a resident of Lake street. She was the widow of Zachary Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker, with whom Mrs. Taylor made her home here, were nephew and niece of Gen. Zachary Taylor, president of the United States. She was reared by her uncle, George D. Prentice. She was also a cousin of the first wife of Jefferson Davis, President of the Southern Confederacy; and also of the wife of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

LOCOED SHOOTER.

A stranger who took lodgings on Second street last night caused consternation during the early hours of morning by shooting the air and ceiling full of bullet holes. After the fusillade officers broke open the door and found a bleeding maniac. The fellow had done no injury by shooting, but had cut an artery in his hand while smashing the windows. Though he had a flask of whisky in his pocket, he was sober. His actions are ascribed to a temporary fit of insanity. He was locked up for the night, after his wounds were dressed. He had $32 in his pocket and gave his name as John Smith. It took nearly all of his money to liquidate the damages, and the fellow was given thirty days for disturbing the peace.

SEASHORE BRIEFS.

Miss Ethel Creelman, daughter of Mrs. F. J. Kalley of this beach, was married yesterday to Dr. L. J. Faulkner of Roanoke, Va.

Robbers last night tapped the till of Mallory's poolroom at Sawtelle and secured $11.

Police Officer George Willey will be tried in Los Angeles on April 7 for having struck a boy constable of the carnival kangaroo court with a pair of handcuffs. Willey resisted arrest when the Sheriff sought to incarcerate him.

The City Trustees are considering the petition of the residents of the northern part of the city for an appropriation of $2000 with which to construct approaches to the beach. The Trustees have decided to pave South Second street from Hill to the south city limits and will also pave the same from Hill north to Broad.

I. L. Holt, M. F. Bess, W. F. Holt, Macon, Ga.; Mrs. M. L. Jones, Cripple Creek; Walter Neve, London; G. S. Dunham, Evanston, Ill.; M. D. Peass, Seattle; P. D. Stanley, Redlands; Mrs. C. K. Bates, New York, are at the Arcadia.

BOATHOUSE FOR Y. W. C. A.

SITE AND BUILDING GIVEN TO THE ASSOCIATION.

Land and Navigation Company of Long Beach to Make the Donation. Board of Fire Commissioners May be Appointed—Elks Choose Officers. New Janitor for City Wharf.

LONG BEACH, March 28.—The gift a few weeks ago to the Young Women's Christian Association of a fine building lot on which to erect a permanent home has been duplicated by the Land and Navigation Company, which recently purchased 900 acres in the west part of the city.

The company has deeded to the association a lot fronting on the boulevard with the rear running to the river and will build a handsome and commodious boathouse and equip it for the use of the association.

LONG BEACH BREEZES.

A popular movement is on foot to have the City Trustees appoint a board of fire commissioners, who will have full charge of reorganizing and equipping the fire department, for which provision was made by the recent issue of $50,000 bonds. The names of ex-Mayor Townsend, W. W. Lowe and Harry Barndollar have been suggested as such board.

George S. Hart has sold his yacht to an eastern man named Holler for $25,000. The new owner has contracted for $6500 repairs, which will be made at San Pedro.

Commander-in-Chief Dustin and Senior Vice-Commander Geis of the Sons of Veterans will be the guests of H. W. Lawton Camp on April 7.

Miss Alice Wilson, secretary of the local Y.W.C.A., and Miss Pauline Hedrick will represent Long Beach at the seventh annual conference of the State organization at Capitola, Friday.

Ex-Marshal J. C. Baker has been appointed janitor of the new wharf to succeed George Byerly, who resigned to engage in business.

At a meeting of the Elks last night Dr. T. C. Donnell was reelected Exalted Ruler. The other officers are: L. A. Bailey, Leading Knight; F. A. Knight, Loyal Knight; H. W. Green, Lecturing Knight; Ed S. Brown, Secretary; A. S. Coates, Treasurer; W. H. Jones, Trustee.

In the whist tournament at the Cosmopolitan Club, Foote and Julian now lead; Klein and Kimball, second; Musselmann and Osborne, third.

On Saturday the Long Beach basket ball team go to Ontario to play the girls of that city.

A meeting of all Buckeyes will be held Thursday night at the City Hall to reorganize the Ohio Society.

MONROVIA

TENNIS WINNER FOR NORDHOFF.

MONROVIA, March 28.—Young men played against the young ladies of the High School in a tennis tournament which closed yesterday, and the championship was awarded to Lucien Hazen. It is not through lack of gallantry that the sexes were thus arrayed, but because of the smallness of the Monrovia team. It was the occasion of a try-out to decide who should represent the school at the interscholastic tennis tournament at Nordhoff April 5, which honor fell to Hazen.

Dr. J. M. Hazen of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles led the evangelistic service at the Presbyterian Church this evening. Mrs. Merrick of the chorus choir of the Third Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles led the singing.

J. M. Thomas, dairy inspector left today to attend a meeting of the State Board of Dairy Commissioners. A law passed at the last session of the Legislature calling for the inspection of every dairy in the State every twelve months, will make the duties of Thomas much more onerous than formerly.

M. R. Williams will stand for reelection at the election of School Trustees to be held the first Friday in April, and will probably have no opposition.

Miss J. A. La Force has issued a creditable special number of her paper, the Monrovia Messenger, which exploits this city and its business interests. It is finely illustrated.

SAN PEDRO.

PIRATE TAKES FINE SLOOP.

SAN PEDRO, March 28.—Salvator Carresi, a well-known Italian fisherman, is mourning the loss of his fishing sloop, America, which was stolen from its moorings some time last night by wharfrats or harbor pirates.

The value of the sloop is about $700 and in addition the boat was supplied with nets and in the cabin was $40 in gold.

It is believed the pirates took the America toward San Diego as a heavy northwest wind was blowing last night.

A strange man was seen aboard Carresi's sloop last night and was asked by the night watchman of the steamer Cabrillo what he was doing there. He replied that he had rented the boat to go to Long Beach and a few minutes later he sailed out of the harbor.

Officers up and down the coast have been notified of the theft.

Fears Domestic War.

Mrs. Ashe: Don't you dread the thought of spring housecleaning?

Mrs. Dash: Yes, indeed. I don't mind things being topsy-turvy myself, but it keeps my husband in such an awful temper. I hate to think of the way we're going to quarrel.—[Detroit Free Press.

Burglar Returned It.

When the burglar broke into the Ferguson dwelling he carried away a considerable quantity of portable property.

Among his spoils was a handsome silver framed pocket mirror, which the owner prized more because it was a gift from a deceased reative than because of its intrinsic value.

One morning, a few weeks after the burglary, he found a loosely tied package on his doorstep. He opened it. It contained the missing pocket mirror, accompanied by a roughly scrawled note to this effect:

"deer Sir, evry time I look into this I see the face of a Theef. I may not Hav enny self respeck But ive still got a little Shaim yures truely the Burglar."

"Confound his hide!" exclaimed Mr. Ferguson. "I wish the other things he stole had had mirrors on 'em."—[Chicago Tribune.

Did Not Need It.

A country doctor tells this story on himself. After writing a prescription for a patient, the physician told him that the druggist would probably charge him 60 cents for filling it. Then the patient asked the physician to lend him the money. Thereupon the physician carefully scratched out a part of the prescription and handed it back, with 10 cents, remarking:

"You can have that filled for a dime. What I scratched out was for your nerves."—[Philadelphia Ledger.

Brokers were loaded again with orders yesterday, comparatively few of which they were able to execute, owing to the scarcity of the better class of securities; but for all that the transactions of the session amounted to nearly $30,000, which was the heaviest trading on the exchange for some time. The session was unusually well attended, and bidding keen from first to last, several brokers who are seldom seen on 'change being among the number with orders with clients to buy. The market, however, was comparatively steady, the leading oil stocks and bonds being excepted. The bond market was extremely active and strong, and nearly all the trading was in that list.

Associated Oil stocks and Continental made each another gain, the former closing at ¼ point advance, but Union went off ¼ point, 40 shares selling, however, at 80 earlier in the session, closing a 79½@79¾.

New Era, in the mining list, gained ¼ closing at 10¾@11.

In bonds Associated Oil gained four bonds changing hands, 3 at 99¾ and 1 at 99, closing at 99½@99¾. Edison Electric Consolidated was in request, one bond being sold at 108, closing at 99½, without further offerings. Edison Electric (old issue) gained 1½ points, closing at 101½@102. Home Telephone gained fractionally, five bonds changing hands at 90, closing at 90@91. Los Angeles Inf. declined 1 point, but Pacific Light and Power gained ¼ point, five bonds being sold at 102½, closing advanced to 102.

THE MONEY MARKET. Money is easy with a steady, active demand.

Time money was in good demand with no change in rates, sixty to ninety days, 6 per cent.; four to six months, 7 per cent.

Commercial paper was again in strong demand, 60 to 90 days indorsed bills, 6 per cent.; from four to six months, single names, 7 per cent.

DAILY REPORT OF ORANGE MARKET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Weather almost like summer, combined with the heavier arrival of iced cars, has started something of a boom in the California orange market. All sound fruit is firmer and more active, and there is less poor fruit arriving. Retailers can ply their trade to good advantage, which has quickened trade all through the Greater New York territory, while buyers from outside the city are more numerous at sales. Today has been like June, and oranges have sold accordingly.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Twenty cars sold at auction today. Market is strong and weather is fine and pleasant.

OPENING OF THE FAIR.

Unique Ceremonies in Connection With Exercises at Lewis and Clark Exposition.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 27.—With two months still remaining before the opening day, plans have already been made by the management of the Lewis and Clark Exposition for the most impressive ceremonies ever arranged for an international exposition. The most prominent men of the United States, from President Roosevelt down, will take part in the ceremonies and make the formal opening of the Western World's Fair on the first day of June an event of world-wide significance.

The part which President Roosevelt will take in the exercises will be unique in exposition history. Sitting at his desk in the White House, the president will, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of June 1, press a button which will set in motion the immense chimes in the towers of the Government Building on the Peninsula in Guild's Lake, and the impressive strains of "America" will float over the lake and reach the ears of thousands of visitors who will stand with bared heads awaiting the signal which will tell the world that the Western World's Fair is open. It will then be noon in Portland, on account of the three hours difference in time between the exposition city and Washington.

Simultaneously with the chiming of "America" the machinery in the Machinery, Electricity and Transportation buildings will start, and when the strains of the national anthem have ceased ,the famous Innes band will play the "Lewis and Clark March," which has been composed for the occasion. A dozen other bands will also play, and heavy artillery salutes will boom above the rattle of small arms, while from the warships anchored in the Willamette River will come the roar of big guns. Whistles all over the city will blow, fire bells and church bells will ring the glad tidings, and thousands upon thousands will shout themselves hoarse in an ecstacy of patriotic enthusiasm.

A departure from the precedent set by earlier world's fairs has been made in deciding to hold the formal opening ceremonies before the opening signal is given by the chimes on the Government Peninsula. The gates will be opened earlier in the morning of June 1, so that the crowds may assemble gradually. The first demonstration will be a big parade about the grounds, in which military, civic and spectacular features will be the attractions. Many bands will be in parade, and thousands afoot and on horseback will appear in the pageant.

Following the parade will be the open-air exercises, which will be held on the shore of Guild's Lake, the speeches being made from the band stand at the foot of the grand stairway. This location for a speaker's stand is superior to any before chosen for the opening exercises of an exposition. The land rises gently from the shore of the lake, and there will be room for many thousands on the terraced slope which forms a natural amphitheater. Spread before the audience will be Guild's Lake, 220 acres in extent, the government buildings on the Peninsula and the Trail and the Bridge of Nations in an immense panorama bordered by a horizon against which the snow peaks of Mount Hood, Mount Adams, Mount Ranier and Mount St. Helena will stand out clear and distinct.

Opening prayer will be offered by a Protestant minister, and a representative of the Roman Catholic Church will give the benediction. The speakers will include a representative of President Roosevelt, probably Secretary of War Taft; Gov. George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, Mayor George H. Williams of Portland, a representative of the United States Senate and of the House of Representatives, President H. W. Goode of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, and other men of prominence who have not yet been decided upon.

Every Western State and many in the East have arranged to send representatives to attend the opening day exercises, and in many cases they will be the Governors of the States. Excursions without number have been planned from points throughout the Pacific Northwest, as well as a number from the East, and the attendance is expected to be the greatest during the fair period, which continues until October 15.

SANSOVINO WINS BIG RACE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, March 28.—[By Altantic Cable.] With the Lincolnshire Handicap run at Lincoln today, the flat racing season can be said to have fairly commenced. This, the first big race of the year, was won by an outsider, Sansovino, who was followed home by Gattycrag, with Park Ranger second. Eighteen horses ran.

The racing season this year will lack the international character of recent seasons, owing to the absence of entries from American stables. Only two American jockeys, Danny Maher and Skeets Martin, are now riding in England.

Distinguished Guests Dined.

A dinner was given on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. B. Hotchkiss of No. 400 South Grand avenue, in honor of His Excellency Kang Yu Wei, the Prime Minister of Emperor Kuang Hsu of China, and his military chief, Gen. R. A. Falkenberg was commissioned some years ago by Hon. Leong Kai Chew, adviser in His Majesty's Cabinet of Ministers and colleague of His Excellency Kang Yu Wei.

In a graceful speech, interpreted by his secretary, Chew Kok Hean, a highly-educated young Chinese student, His Excellency Kang Yu Wei conveyed to those present that after years of travel in many European military countries he had decided to strictly uphold his colleague's—Hon. Leong Kai Chew—official appointment of Gen. Falkenberg, as the commanding general, expressing the utmost confidence in Hon. Leong's wisdom, and His Excellency added: "I have the same confidence in our commanding general, Falkenberg, as a soldier and a strategist, and I feel assured that China with his help will be one of the foremost nations within a much shorter time than Japan succeeded in forging to the front rank. Gen. Falkenberg responded in a few words to the toast. He was present in his full general's uniform, and with him was Lieut.-Gen. F. Parmentier of Los Angeles, the general chief of staff, who also toasted His Excellency.

Besides these guests there were present Mrs. Falkenberg, Dr. Tom She Bin and Chaw Bin Chong of San Francisco, Miss Daisy Daugherty, niece of Mrs. Hotchkiss, and other ladies.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei Cures this Common and Disagreeable Disease

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of the catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane, enters the blood with the oxygen and kills the germs present there, effectually driving this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs:

offensive breath	discharge from the nose
dryness of the nose	stoppage of the nose at night
pain across the eyes	aching of the body
pain in back of the head	droppings in the throat
pain in front of the head	mouth open while sleeping tendency to take cold	tickling back of the palate burning pain in the throat	formation of crusts in the nose
hawking to clear the throat	dryness of the throat in the morning pain in the chest	loss of strength
a cough	spasms of coughing
stitch in side	cough short and backing
losing of flesh	cough worse nights and mornings
variable appetite	loss in vital force
low spirited at times	a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.
raising of frothy mucus expectorating yellow matter difficulty in breathing frequent sneezing
huskiness of voice

Hyomei will cure the disease, destroy activity of all germ life in the respiratory organs, enrich and purify the blood with additional ozone, and after a few days use of this treatment the majority of those symptoms will have disappeared. In a few weeks the cure will be complete.

Druggists everywhere are authorized to refund the money should a Hyomei outfit and one extra bottle fail to afford relief. If the druggist from whom you bought does not care to do this, mail the inhaler to the R. T. Booth Co., Ithaca, N. Y., and they will refund the money at once. Mail orders for Hyomei promptly filled in receipt of price.

PASTOR BANGS.

came into Green's office and told a tale of woe. She said that since exchanging her Virginia place for the Polhemus place she had interviewed a palmist, who told her that if she went to live at Miraflores she would fall ill and be overtaken by all manner of bad fortune; and, further, that the property was not worth $12,000, anyway. Therefore she was disappointed and displeased, and proposed to bring suit against the pastor of Grace Church and his youthful communicant to recover those thirty acres situated between the banks of the Appomatox and Fighting Creek.

The very thought of mixing up Dominie McCarty in a lawsuit was so horrifying to ex-Missionary Green that he posthasted to Ocean Park that same day, drew $900 from the Ocean Park Bank against his wife's account, and turned the cash over to the myth widow, who thereupon deeded the spook-condemned property at Miraflores to—whom? McCarty and Law? Hunh unh! To Mrs. William Green. See how the Rev. Mr. Green saved the Rev. Mr. McCarty from the scandal of a suit at law!

But, behold, it was all a lie.

ANOTHER CHAPTER.

On the following day, to wit, November 28, 1903, the Rev.-but-now-"unattached" William Green filed with the Recorder of Orange county the deeds by which the old Polhemus place became the property of the phantom widow. And on the following 3d of February, 1904, he filed in the same records what purported to be a quitclaim from McCarty and Law acknowledging the ownership of the Polhemus place to be vested in Mrs. Green. This quitclaim purported to be signed by McCarty and Law, but they have no recollection of having signed it, and if they did sign it their signatures were obtained by fraud; "and the said conveyance was obtained by the said defendant, William Green, by deceit and fraud practised by him upon the said plaintiffs, as aforesaid, while he, the said William Green, was falsely and fraudulently acting as their agent."

After awhile the shepherd of Grace Church ahd his sheep ——— awake. Quiet investigation showed them that the Virginia property was a thing of no value. They taxed the ex-missionary with the facts, and he owned up that it was worthless, and promised to "make good" to them. So, still clinging to their simple faith in mankind, they executed to Green a quitclaim by which they released to the myth widow whatever interest they may (or may not) have acquired in Virginia real estate.

CASTLE IN KANSAS.

To make good his promise to make good, the Rev. Mr. Green then gave Law a patent to certain property in Kansas. Investigation proved the property to belong to someone else, hence the patent was worthless.

Simultaneously he presented McCarty with a patent to certain real estate in the vicinity of Grand Forks, B. C. Investigation showed it to be the property of someone else, hence the patent was worthless.

Then, at last, the shepherd and his sheep demanded that Mrs. Green deed back to them the old Polhemus place—and were, of course, refused. The refusal pained them much "by reason of the fact that the said defendant William Green had been a minister of the gospel, and by reason of the friendly acquaintance," etc., etc.

Wherefore, plaintiffs may—albeit not in the orthodox way.

And, again, be it understood that the charges, each, all, and everyone of them, here set forth, are according to the solemn oath of the man of God and his friend, the grading contractor, and as such must be believed or disbelieved, every person for himself in measure as to him may seem meet.

SANTA BARBARA.

BIG PIPE IS LAUNCHED.

SANTA BARBARA, March 28.—The city's outfall sewer pipe has been successfully launched. It is made of three-inch timbers joined with tongue and groove joints, covered with railroad iron bound together by bands of iron, and over the top is a firm coating of cement. The outer end of the pipe rests on a large block of cement that weighs ten tons.

The big pipe was swung under the axles of fourteen pairs of wheels, which were from eight to twelve feet in diameter, which ran over a road-bed of steel rails and heavy timbers. The power which wheeled it out came from two hand windlasses located on the railroad wharf, and the windlasses were turned by four men who were relieved every few minutes by another crew.

BARBARA BRIEFS.

Work on the new Southern Pacific cutoff through the city is progressing rapidly. The grade has been made and the rails laid over the whole line, with the exception of one block, between State and Chapala streets.

John F. Meyer, one of the oldest residents and the proprietor of a business firm of the city, died last night at the Cottage Hospital from pneumonia. He leaves a widow, and three sons, Hugo, Fritz and Arthur Meyer, and one daughter, Miss Freeda Meyer, to mourn his loss.

The Seattle baseball team, which has been training in this city for a month under the management of Russ Hall, has now completed its work in this city and will leave tomorrow for San Francisco. Later they will return to the south, and play for a week in Los Angeles, before returning to Seattle.

The new railroad depot will be located between the railroad and Montecito street, and about midway between Chapala and State streets. This location will give easy access both from State street and from the Potter Hotel. It is the intention of the company to construct it during the month of July.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.]

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Robert Hamilton, one of the best known men in San Diego, dropped dead suddenly about noon today in National City. Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause. Garibaldi's Remains.

Most people had supposed the disposal of Garibaldi's remains had been finally settled twenty years ago. This, however, appears from a letter written by his eldest surviving son to the president of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, is not the case. The writer points out that, contrary to his own wishes, Garibaldi's directions for the cremation of his body were overruled by the opposition of powerful churchmen, not carried out. The writer says that if this setting aside of Garibaldi's directions is to continue, he should be relieved of responsibility and to have the body removed from Caprera to the continent.—[London Globe.
